T O W. S.

... Who for 35 years has served as father and friend to both students and faculty of the University, for the many official tasks he has undertaken, and for the innumerable unofficial duties that have forever endeared him to the University community, we dedicate the 1954 ARKANSAS RAZORBACK.

When W. S. Gregson first came to the University, he was on a temporary YMCA assignment. When he left this fall (35 years later) he was a living legend.

"Pop," however, will never completely leave the University. It is impossible for a legend to leave.

Gregson Hall will continue to bear silent tribute, his actions and example will continue to inspire, the memory of his warm smile and ready hand will not soon be forgotten.

W. S. Gregson is not a man of the past nor will he ever be. Men of his stature are never of the past, but are always of the future. "Pop's" hopes will continue to be the hopes of the students. His dreams, their dreams.

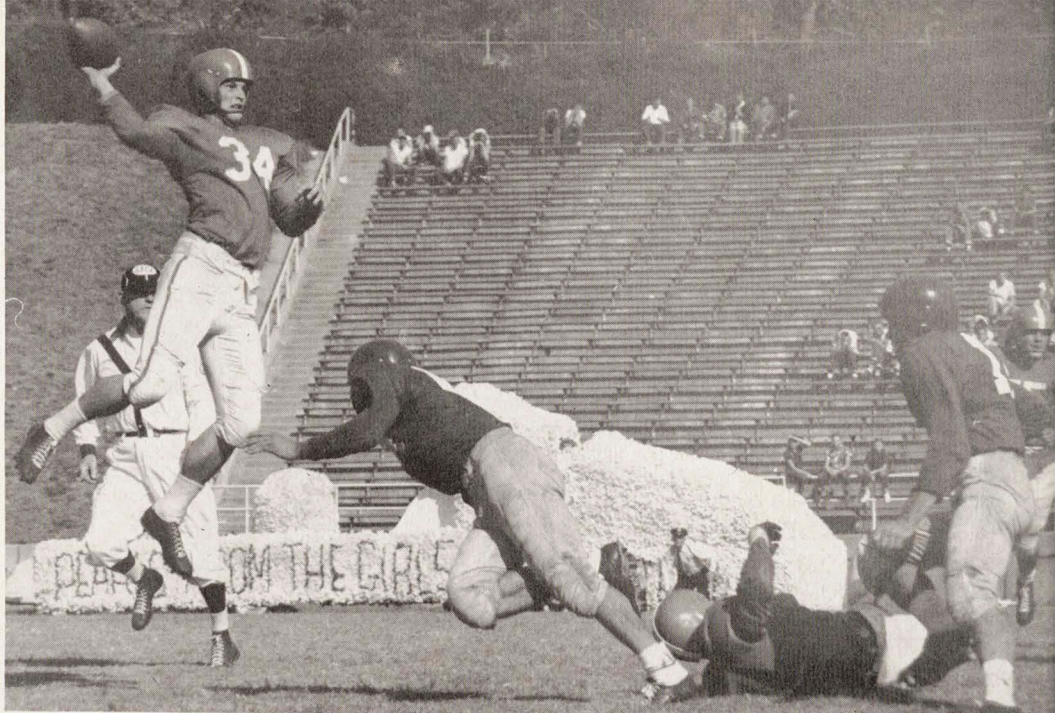

There is no tribute great enough to mark an appreciation for the contributions "Pop" made toward improving University life. May this dedication serve as a record of student appreciation.

"P O P" G R E G G S O N

A Razorback tackler lunges for the Texas passer as a winning Homecoming float rests in the background.

English 103 — A class that all must take to begin their college career.

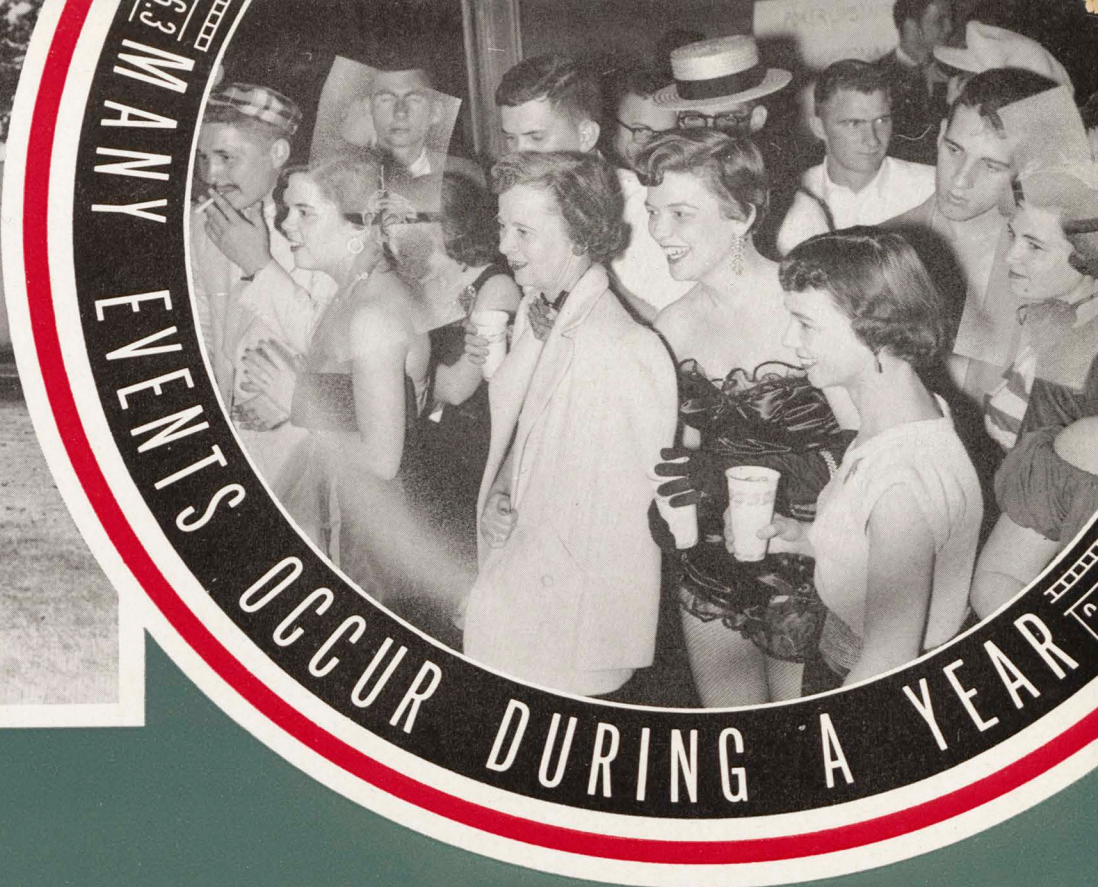

The north reserve room of the library — the home of most of the reference books which are required reading.

Hours and hours of classes and many more hours of study occupy a large portion of the University student's time while he goes about his main business while at school — obtaining an education, but after classes there are many other things to do that, besides being fun, teach those who participate much about living and working with others. The athletics, the activities, the clubs he joins, and his living place all play a big part in the life of a student.

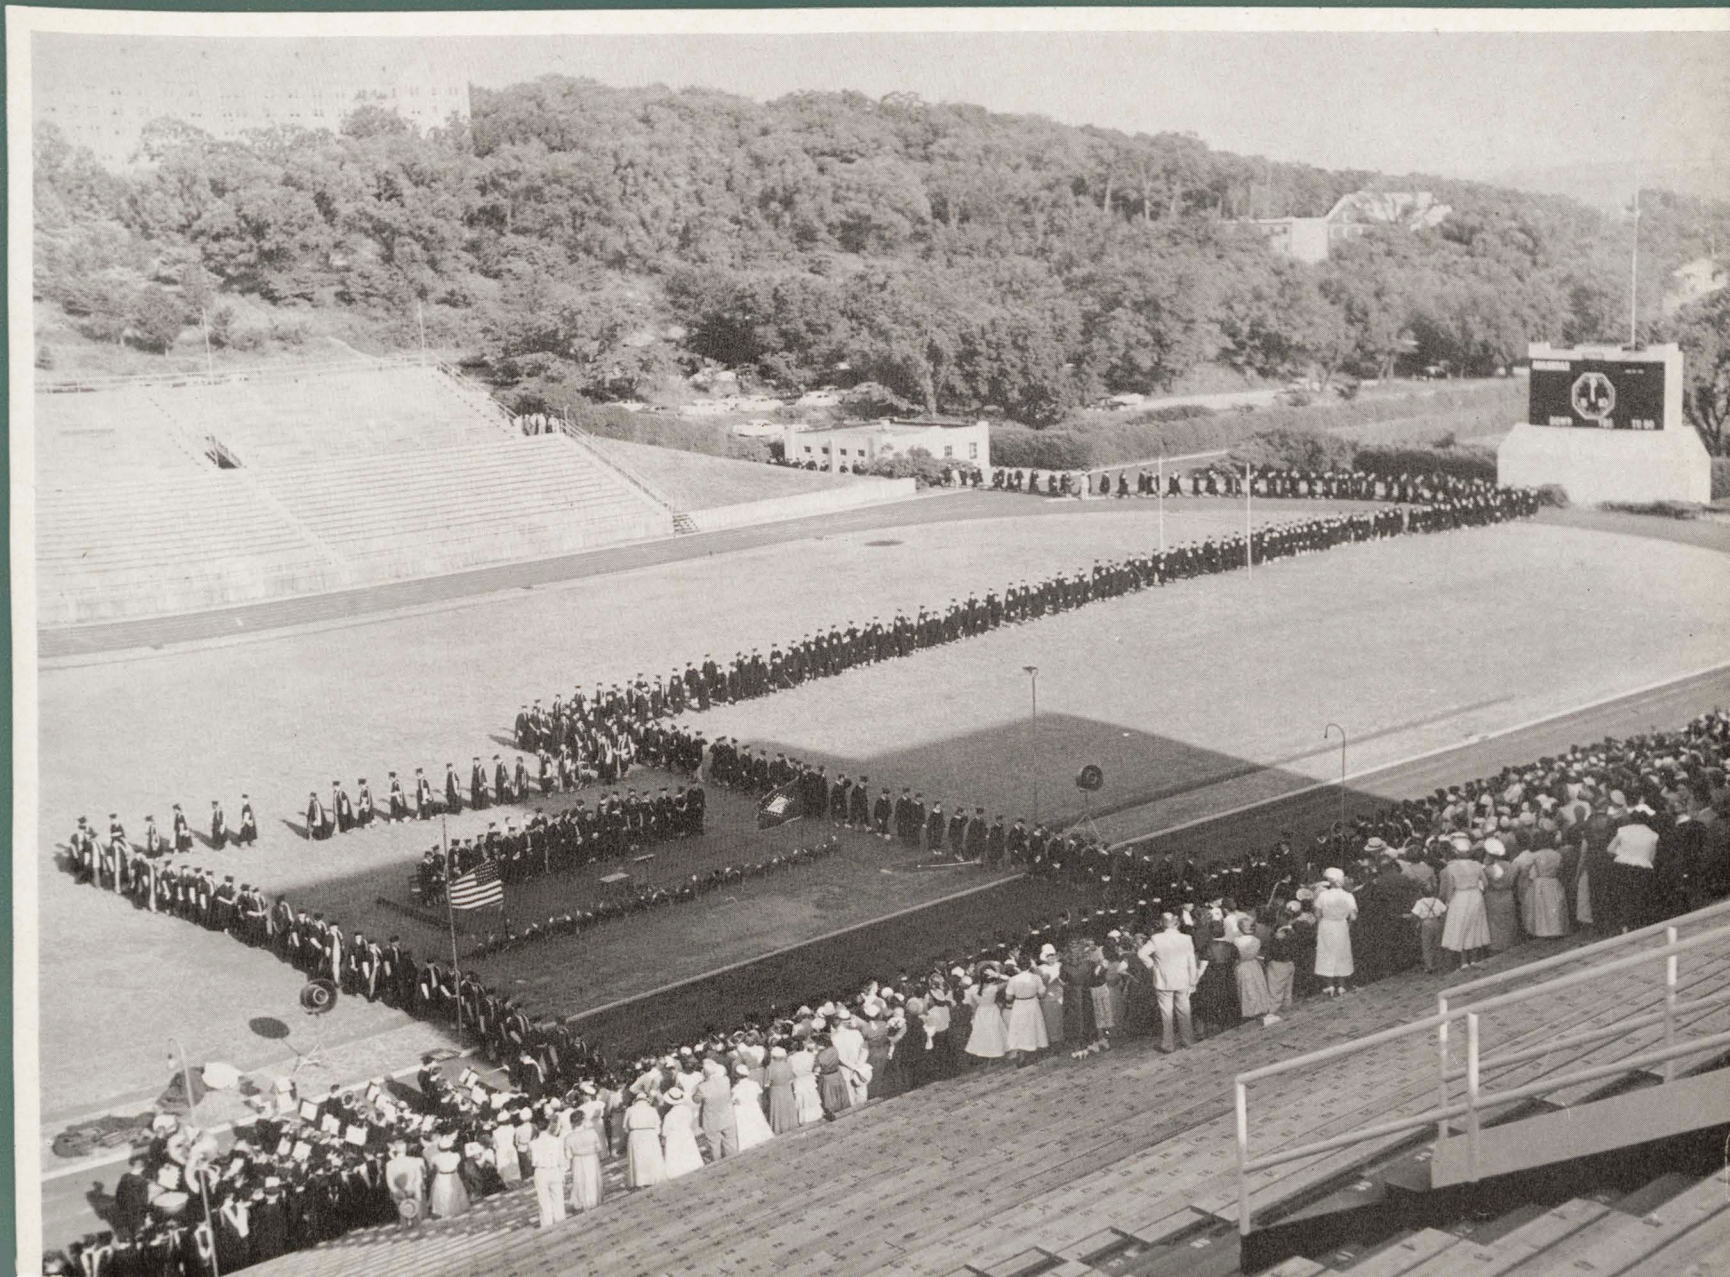

Sometimes it's easier to just rest instead of being bothered by studies and activities.

Every kind of party is given during the year and many unusual costumes are seen at some.

Graduation — The eventual goal of all University students.

Student artists learn painting in the million dollar Fine Arts Center.

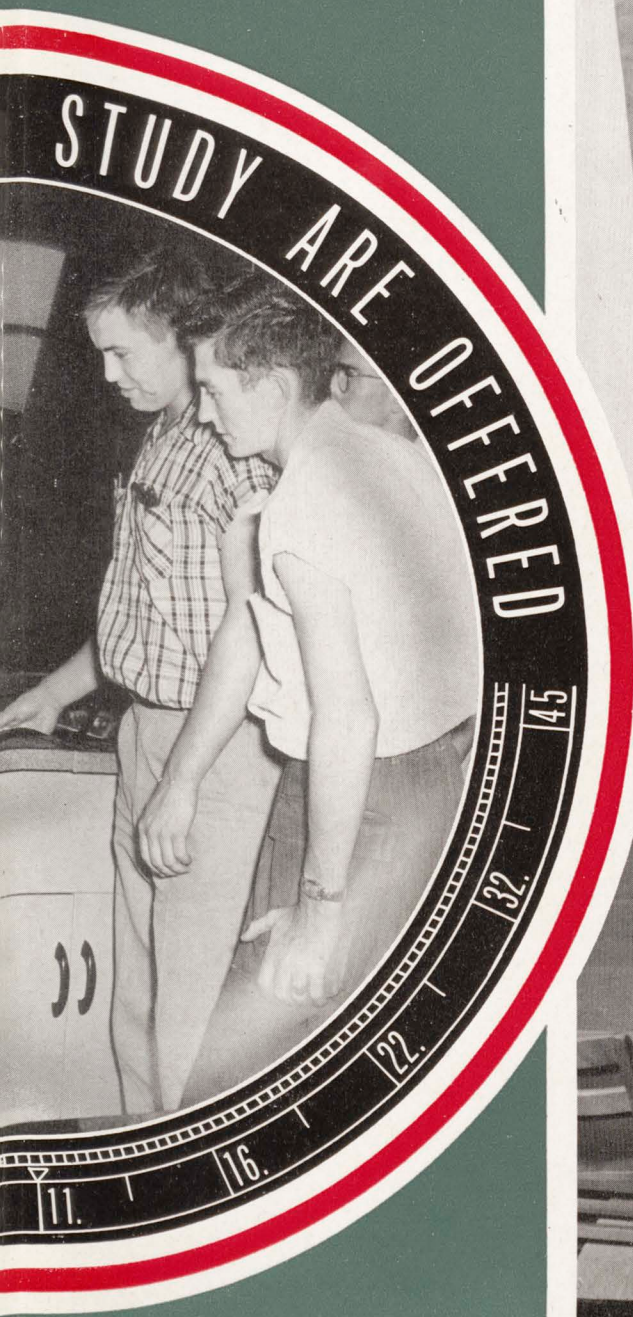

A batch of pancakes is cooked up by Home Ec majors.

Engineers learn about gas and fuel analysis through use of laboratory equipment.

Business freshmen listen to four weeks grades being read.

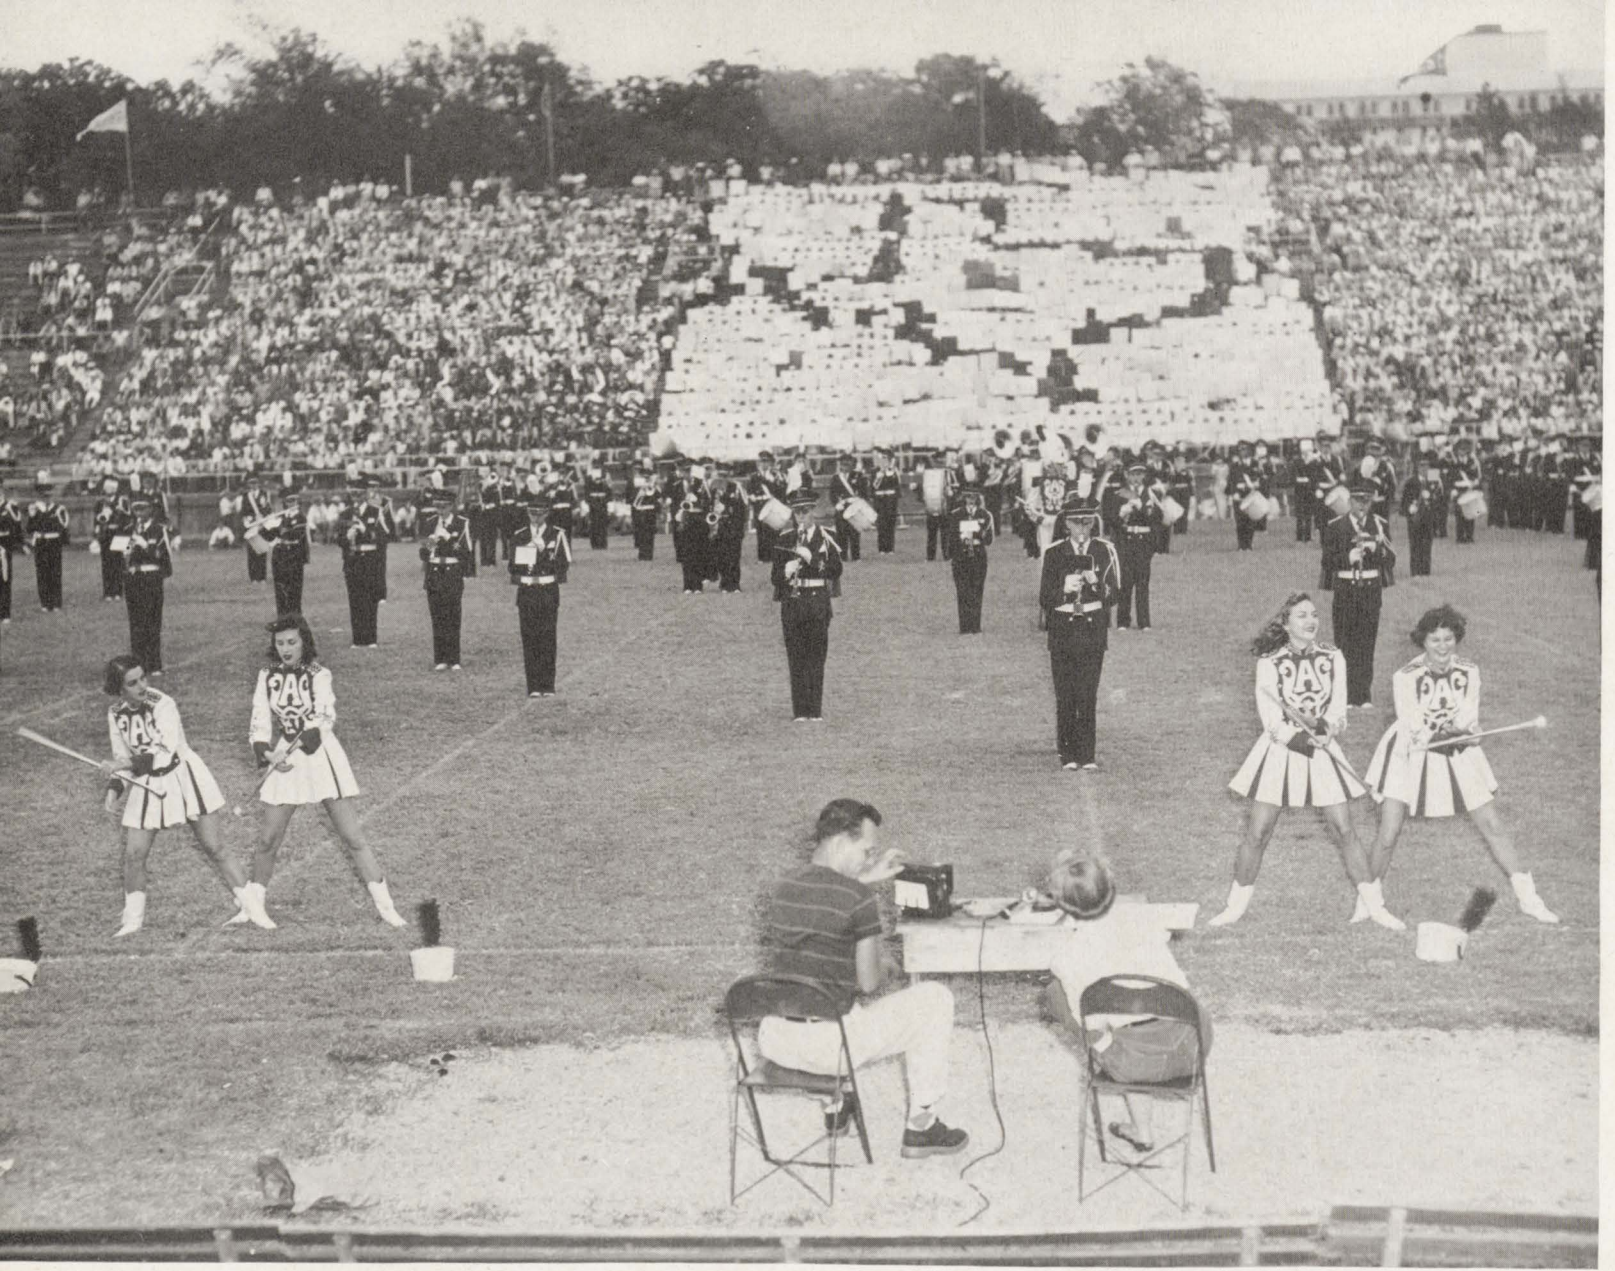

Future lawyers study in the new library at Waterman Hall.

A student at Arkansas has a wide choice of subjects which he can study in preparation for future work. The eight colleges which make up the University are well equipped to provide training for many jobs. The best instructors in Arkansas teach the courses. The school is known throughout the state and the nation for its fine training, and many graduates find work with prominent national companies.

A future teacher learns to work with children in a practice teaching class.

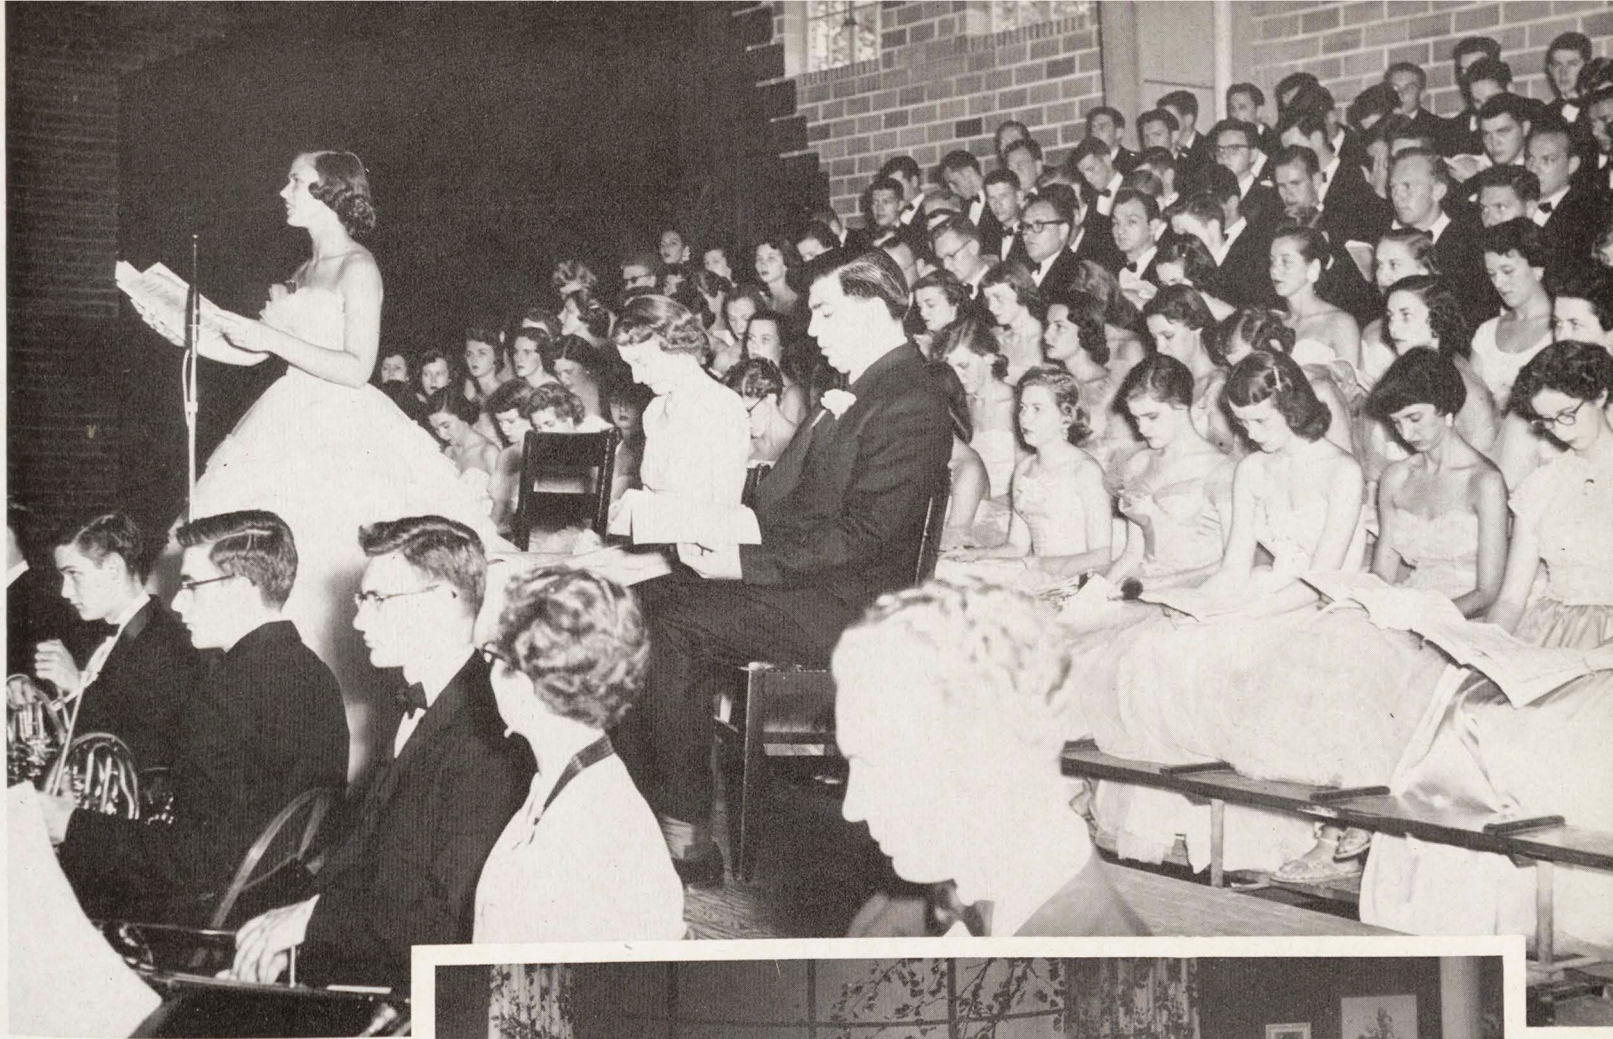

The Razorback Marching 100 and the card section get together for a colorful halftime show.

A well rounded person develops many interests outside his life's work. There is ample opportunity for those who attend the University to work and play at many activities. His hall, fraternity, or sorority is frequently preparing for a party or building a float or house decoration. Student government and publications provide experience in meeting people for many while many others extend their circle of friends over a cup of coffee in the Student Union.

The Student Union is always the favorite place to meet your friends and just kill time.

The University Mixed Chorus and the University Symphony combined talents to present "Elijah."

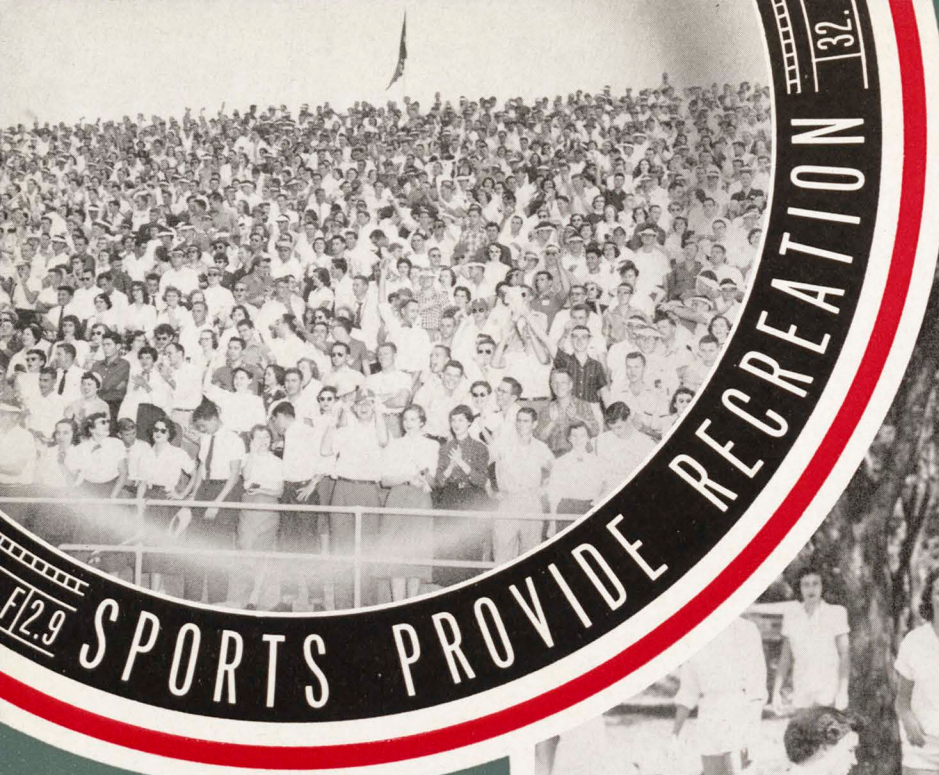

The plays provided by the Drama Department entertain the University community.

Sara Steele reads a resolution to the Student Senate.

SAEs and dates busily prepare for the spring formal.

SPORTS PROVIDE RECREATION

White seems to be the thing to wear on the warm afternoons when the first football games of the season are played.

Arkansas scores in Waco and numerous students around radios in Fayetteville cheer.

A group of girls learn about soccer in a phys ed class.

One of the biggest things in the lives of the students is the success of the Razorbacks. Athletics, like nothing else can, arouse school spirit. Every Saturday in the fall finds most of the University community either attending a football game or listening to it on the radio. This interest is quickly switched to basketball with the coming of winter. During the week many people participate in intramural sports as members of a team from their house or club.

A Razorback defender tries to break up a pass.

Intramurals — such as this track meet — give many an opportunity to participate in sports.

A torch light parade around the campus initiates the Homecoming weekend.

The Student Union Ballroom was packed for the AWS spring picnic, when rain drove it indoors.

Tri Delt entertain dates with a buffet dinner.

Numerous students are members of one or of several organizations. There are clubs on the campus which cater to practically any interest a student may have. Also extremely important to a University student is the group with which he lives. Here lifelong friendships are developed and social graces and the ability to live with others are quickly brought out as most of the students are thrown on their own for the first time. They soon learn to take part in the group's activities and to enjoy the benefits of being part of an organization.

Mortar Board members help serve during the President's reception.

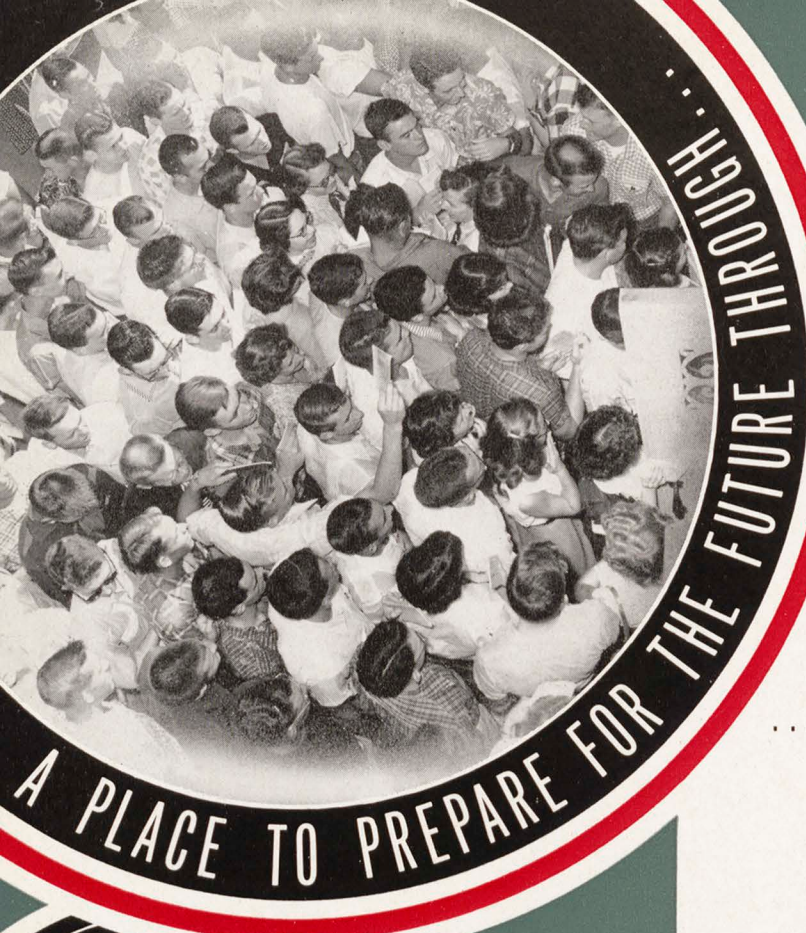

Carnall Hall girls sit down for supper and a discussion of the day's events.

Three Gregson Hall residents get together to compare notes and study for a four weeks test.

FRANCIS CHERRY
Governor of the State of Arkansas

GOVERNOR FRANCIS CHERRY

One of the University's strongest boosters and most frequent visitors is the Governor of Arkansas, Francis Cherry. During his first term the Legislature appropriated money for the first phase of construction of a new field house and an animal industry building. Governor Cherry rarely misses a Razorback football game which is in or near Arkansas. He has been on the campus for graduation, several basketball games, and numerous other events.

Francis Cherry graduated from the University of Arkansas School of Law in 1936. He was a member of Kappa Alpha while attending school. After graduation, he practiced law in Little Rock and in Jonesboro. He was elected Chancellor of his district shortly before World War II. During the war, he waived his judicial immunity to military service and served in the Navy. After the war, he resumed his post as Chancellor until he was elected Governor in 1952.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

The University of Arkansas Board of Trustees, composed of ten citizens of Arkansas, is the official policy-making body of the University. The board members are appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the State Senate. Each member serves a ten-year term, unless he is filling an unexpired term.

The board meets several times each year to decide all questions of general overall university policy.

Chairman Henry S. Yocum of El Dorado is always on hand at graduation to confer degrees.

Other members of the board are: Earl Williams, Fayetteville; Dr. C. A. Rosenbaum, Little Rock; W. W. Sharp, Brinkley; W. T. Jones, Madison; Jack Stephens, Little Rock; Pauline Holtzel, Little Rock; Barron Lester Lange, Little Rock; Lester Clyde Carter, Stuttgart, and Paul Sullins, Crossett.

Front Row: T. C. Carlson, W. T. Jones, H. S. Yocum, John Tyler Caldwell, Miss Pauline Holtzel, Earl Williams. Back Row: Joe E. Covington, Dr. C. A. Rosenbaum, Barron Lange, L. C. Carter, Paul Sullins, Jack Stephens. W. W. Sharp was absent when the picture was made.

JOHN TYLER CALDWELL
President of the University of Arkansas

PRESIDENT JOHN TYLER CALDWELL

Since Dr. John Tyler Caldwell came to the University in 1952 his energetic personality and thoughtful consideration of all problems submitted to him have already made his presence felt by everyone in the University community.

As President of the University, Dr. Caldwell administers a far flung institution with parts in many sections of the state. This has required him to be constantly traveling about Arkansas and has made him one of the foremost educational leaders of the state.

Dr. Caldwell came to Arkansas from Alabama College at Montevallo. He has a Bachelor of Science from Mississippi State College, a Master of Arts from Duke University and from Columbia University and a Doctor of Philosophy degree from Princeton University. He taught political science at Vanderbilt before becoming President of Alabama College.

JOE E. COVINGTON

Provost

Joe E. Covington is finishing out his third year as Provost. He assumed the post in 1951 when former president Lewis Webster Jones accepted the Presidency of Rutgers University. For one year he served in the capacity of President until the naming of Dr. Caldwell to the Presidency of the University in 1952. Since then he has served as administrative assistant to President Caldwell. With the departure of Dean Leflar he became Dean of the Law School in January of 1954 and serves in a dual capacity at the present time. At the end of this year Dean Covington will take over the office of Dean of Law as his full time work.

Dean Covington graduated from the University of Arkansas in 1932 and from the University of Arkansas Law School in 1940. He has since studied at Harvard and served as an associate professor of law at the University.

T. C. CARLSON

Vice President and Treasurer

T. C. Carlson, Vice President in charge of Finances, heads the Business Office of the University and administers the four million dollar yearly budget of the school. The activities of the Business Office include purchasing; budget control; receipt and disbursement of funds; accounting and financial reports; auditing; and supervision of many business enterprises of the University.

Mr. Carlson received an AB from the University of Minnesota and studied at Oxford and Yale. He has been Business Manager since 1923, Treasurer since 1925, Secretary of the Board of Trustees since 1927 and Vice President in Charge of Finances since 1946.

He is one of the oldest members of the University staff in point of service, having come to Arkansas in 1915 as Registrar.

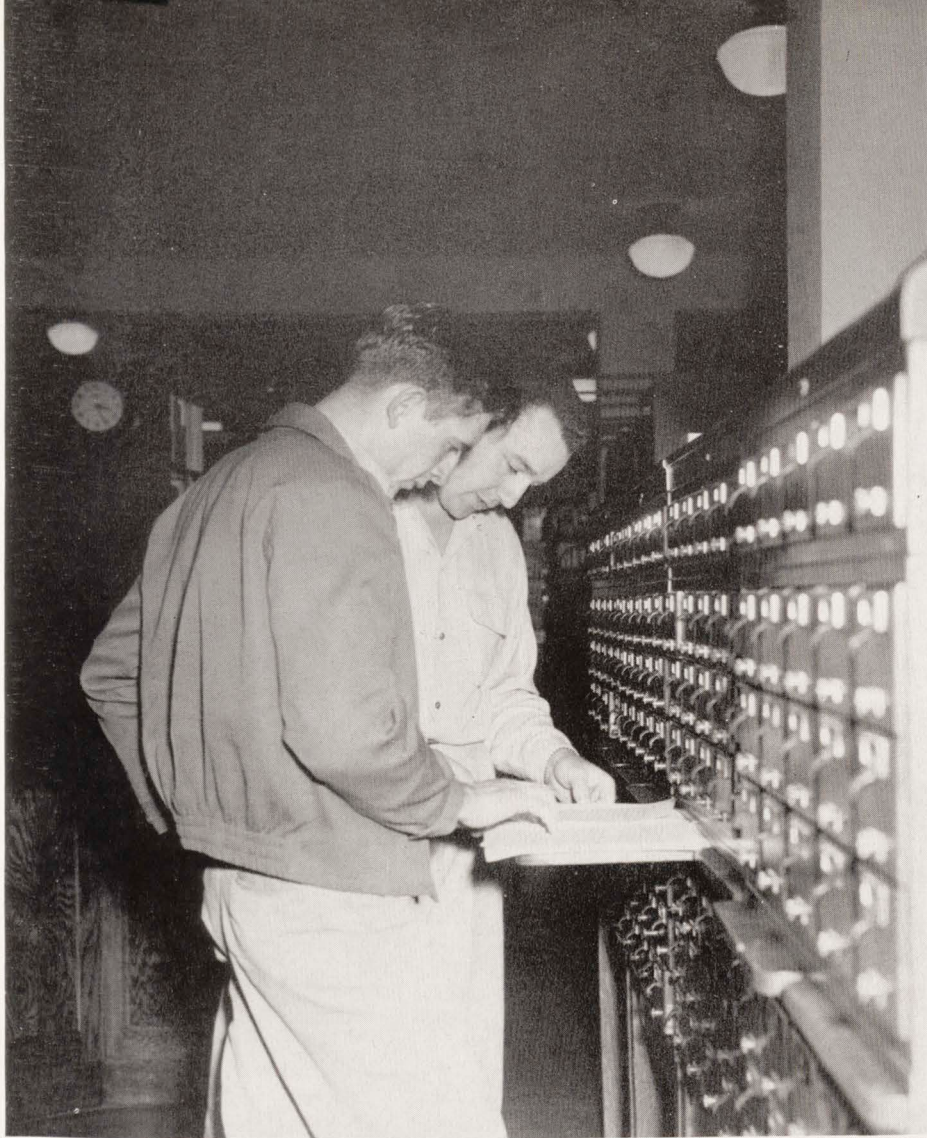

GUERDON D. NICHOLS, Dean, Arts and Sciences

College of Arts and Sciences

The College of Arts and Sciences is frequently referred to as the "mother college" of the University. It is, as its name implies, a college of the physical and biological sciences, the liberal arts, the social sciences, and the humanities. It offers a great wealth of training to all students enrolled in the University. Actually, every student who takes a full four-year undergraduate curriculum at the University takes several of his required courses in the College of Arts and Sciences, regardless of the college in which he is enrolled. The College of Arts and Sciences offers a four-year curricula leading to the degree of bachelor of arts, bachelor of science, bachelor of music, bachelor of science in social welfare, and bachelor of science in journalism. It also offers a five-year curriculum leading to the degree of architecture.

Courses in the liberal arts, the humanities, and the sciences, have been taught at the University of Arkansas from the opening of the institution.

LIPPERT S. ELLIS, Dean of Agriculture

College of Agriculture

The College of Agriculture has long been one of the outstanding colleges of the University and was one of the first to be brought out as a separate major division within the institution.

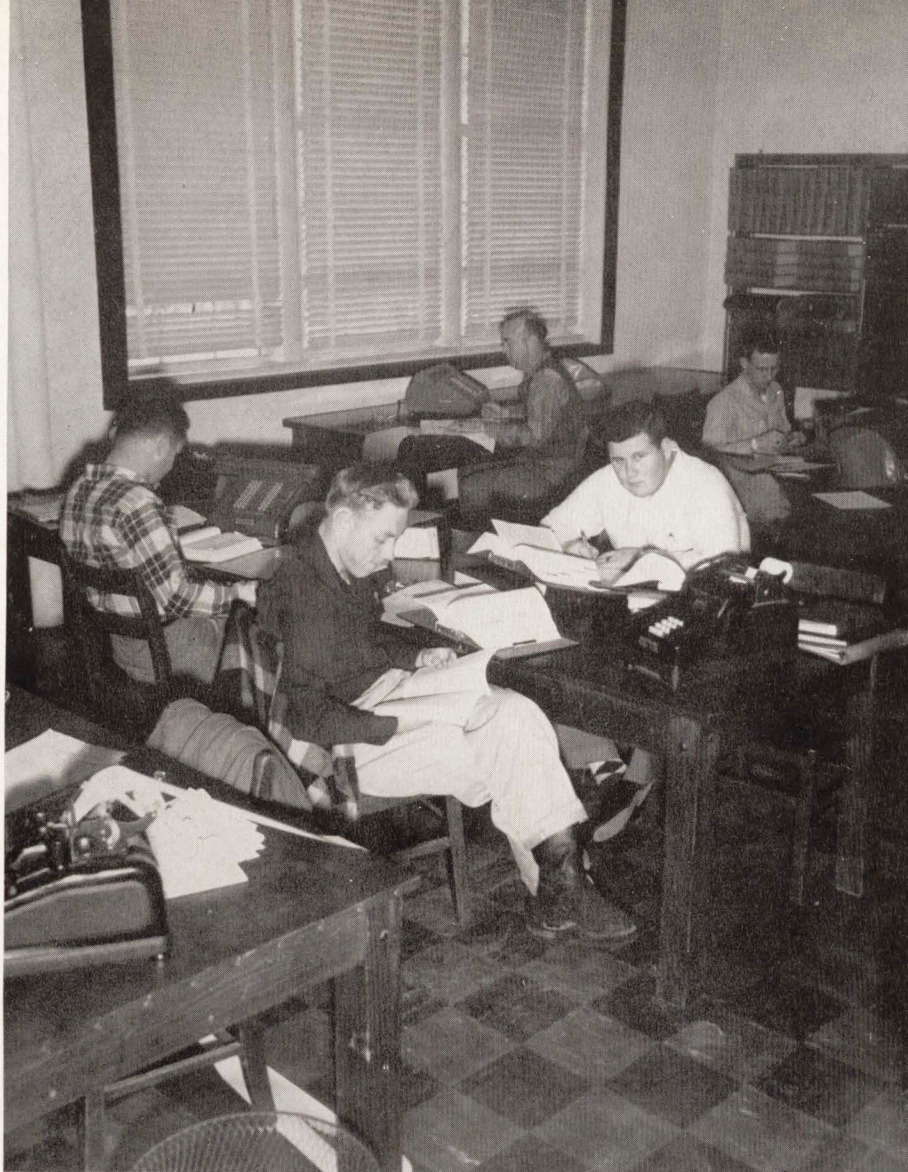

In 1874, work in agriculture was definitely thought of as of sufficient importance to be incorporated into a major division or undergraduate college. General agricultural sciences and horticulture constituted the chief divisions of work in the College of Agriculture at the beginning. The College was not listed as a College in the catalog until 1892. That year the catalog specifically referred to the Colleges of Mechanic Arts and Engineering, Sciences and Liberal Arts, and Agriculture.

The department of Home Economics has been a part of the College of Agriculture since 1914, when it was transferred from the College of Education.

PAUL W. MILAM, Dean of Business Administration

College of Business Administration

The College of Business Administration was founded in 1926, but at first it was classified as the "School of Business Administration," offering a two-year curriculum, requiring for admission two years of pre-business work in the College of Arts and Sciences. The School became a four-year college in 1937.

The College of Business Administration was moved into the old Engineering building when the present Engineering building was constructed in the late 1920's. It remained in the old building until after World War II when the present College of Business Administration was completed.

HENRY H. KRONENBURG, Dean of Education

College of Education

The education of teachers for the public schools has been a mission of the University from the date of its founding. In fact, the original act establishing the University provided for a "normal department" for the training of teachers. There was a preparatory department in the University from the beginning, and it is known that some practice teaching was done in the preparatory department during the first session of the University.

In 1913, the Board of Trustees provided for the establishment of a "School of Education" which would take the place of the old "normal department."

The School of Education was organized on the basis of a two-year curriculum, with preparatory work in the College of Arts and Sciences. It became the College of Education in 1916. Its first dean was Dr. William Jewell, who joined the faculty in 1913 and remained on the campus for a number of years.

GEORGE F. BRANIGAN, Dean of Engineering

College of Engineering

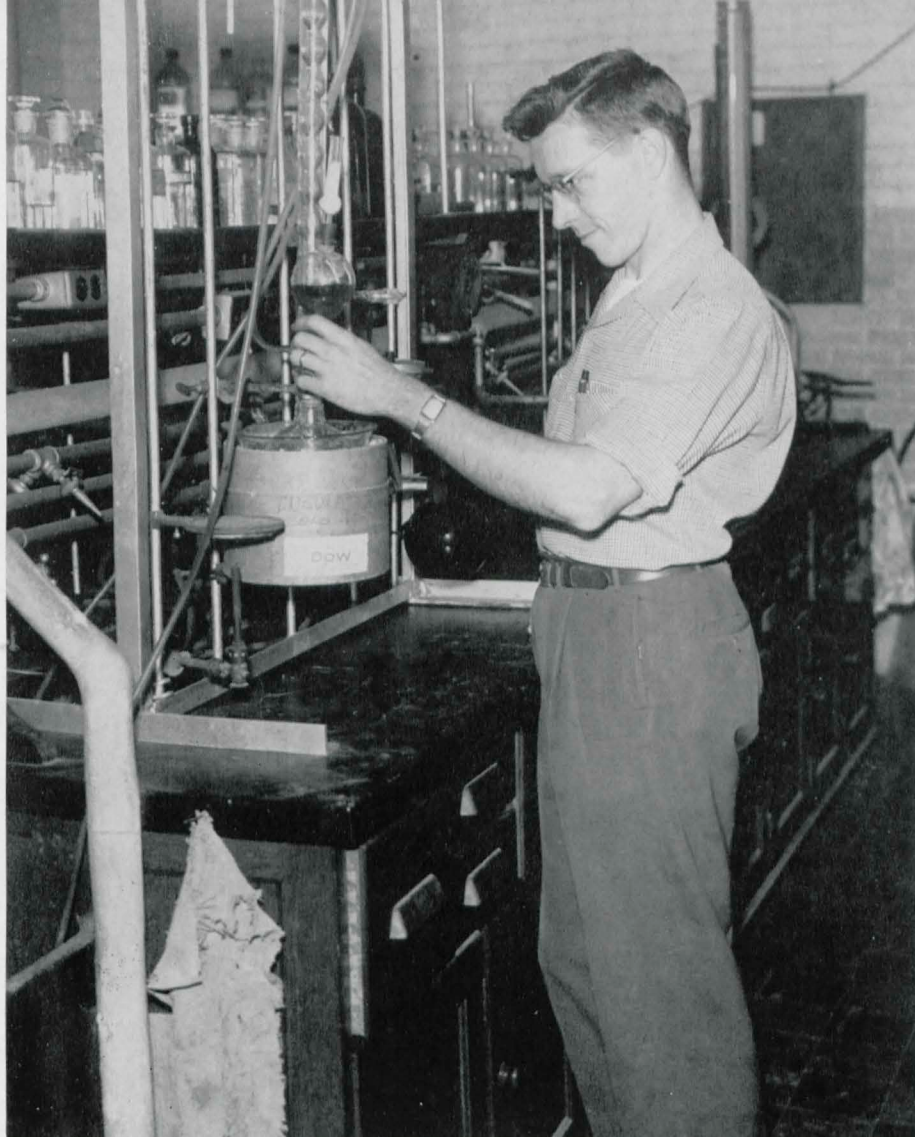

Engineering, like agriculture, has been a part of the mission of the University of Arkansas from the founding of the institution.

The Morrill Act, setting up the Land-Grant Colleges, required that the "mechanic arts" be taught along with the traditional cultural and science subjects.

Courses in the engineering sciences were offered almost from the beginning. However, the College of Engineering was not listed in the catalog until 1891.

The University catalog did not list a dean for the College of Engineering prior to the year 1914-15. Dr. William N. Gladson was the first officially designated dean of the College. Dean Gladson held that position until 1936, when he took the emeritus rank. He was succeeded by Dean Stoker, who in turn was succeeded in 1948 by Dean Branigan. Thus, only three men in the eighty-two year history of the University have held the title of Dean of the College of Engineering.

VIRGIL V. ADKISSON, Dean of Graduate School

Graduate School

The first graduate degrees, beyond the bachelor level, were offered by the University in 1887, forty years before the organization of a regular Graduate School.

The present Graduate School was organized in 1927. Dr. John Clark Jordan, who had previously been dean of the College of Arts and Sciences and head of the department of English, was made first dean of the Graduate School, a position he held until 1948 when he took the emeritus rank. He was succeeded by Dr. Virgil Adkisson, the present dean.

The Graduate School confers a number of degrees on the masters level, including master of arts, master of science, master of education, and master of business administration. It also offers the doctor of philosophy and doctor of education degrees in several areas.

The Graduate School is unique among the schools and colleges of the University in that it does not have a separate faculty. Its faculty is selected from the various departments and colleges on the campus who are approved for graduate teaching.

ROBERT A. LEFLAR, Dean of Law

School of Law

In April, 1924, the Board of Trustees voted to establish a School of Law at Fayetteville. Provision was made for the first year of law to be taught in the year 1924-25, the second year to be added the following year, and the third to be added the next year.

Dr. J. S. Waterman, then professor of economics, was named to head the work in law. He continued as Dean of the School of Law until 1943, and upon his death Dr. Robert A. Leflar was named dean. Dr. Leflar continued in that capacity until February 1954, when he resigned and was succeeded by Dr. Joe E. Covington. Thus, the School of Law has had only three deans since it was organized in 1924.

The School of Law first occupied quarters in the basement of Old Main. In 1935 it moved to the old Chemistry building, between the Student Union and Old Main. Last year, the new Waterman Hall was completed and the School moved to its present location.

School of Pharmacy

The School of Pharmacy is one of the two Colleges of the University which is divided between the Fayetteville and Little Rock campuses.

Acting upon specific authority from the 1951 session of the General Assembly of Arkansas, the University organized the school as a new major division offering accredited work leading to the degree of bachelor of Science in Pharmacy. The School of Pharmacy offers its students either a minimum program of study consisting of one year of pre-pharmacy and three years of pharmacy or 64 semester hours of prescribed pre-pharmacy courses followed by three years of professional training on the Little Rock Campus. Pharmacy students are able to receive the advantage of contact with University life and then complete professional training in a medical atmosphere.

STANLEY G. MITTELSTAEDT, Dean of Pharmacy

JULIA M. MILLER, Dean of Nursing

School of Nursing

The newest college at the University is the School of Nursing whose first class started this year. The four-year unified program includes four semesters of academic work on the campus at Fayetteville and an additional two years of professional study and actual experience in the new Medical Center at Little Rock, in rural hospitals, and in community health agencies.

No longer do Arkansas students have to decide between college and nursing, but now can have both. Upon completion of 124 semester hours including 64 hours of basic academic and pre-professional work and 60 hours of professional work a student is eligible for the degree of Bachelor of Science in Nursing and is eligible to take the State Licensing examination, required for the title of Registered nurse.

OFFICERS OF ASSOCIATED STUDENTS: Reed Donnelly, Treasurer; Sam Sexton, Vice-President; June Dalton, Secretary; Jerry Green, President.

STUDENT BODY OFFICERS

Jerry Green, President of Associated Students of the University of Arkansas

The student government at the University of Arkansas is operated by an organization known as the Associated Students. A President, Vice-President, Secretary, and Treasurer are elected by the whole University each spring. The Student Senate is composed of representatives from the various segments of the campus. The Student Court is composed of five appointed justices and an attorney general and several assistants. Much of the work of the Associated Students is carried on by committees appointed by the President and approved by the Senate.

During the past year the Associated Students have been active in setting up a sportsmanship program for the smaller schools of the state. Numerous dances have been sponsored by the Senate including the Porker Party the Wednesday before Christmas vacation. The parking problem has been examined and a different program set up through the traffic board. A revised Gae-bale has been planned, and the Senate has recommended changes in the cut system.

The student government during the 1953-54 school year was in the hands of the Razorback Party which swept to victory in the spring elections, defeating the University Party which had been in power for two years.

Second Row: Barbara Pennington, Virginia Doorenbos, Cal Ledbetter, Bill Miller, Francis Long.

STUDENT SENATE

The Student Senate is the legislative body of the Associated Students. About half of its members are elected in the general election in the spring as representatives from the various colleges on the campus. The others represent various organized groups. During the past school year the Senate sponsored the Jerry Grey and Sauter-Finnigan dances and several other dances played for by lesser known bands. The Senate backed student buses to the first Little Rock football game in the fall and attempted to arrange student transportation to other games.

STUDENT COURT

The Student Court is the judicial branch of the University's student government. It has jurisdiction to try students accused of violating any disciplinary regulation enacted by the Student Senate, the University Board of Trustees, or the University Senate. Further, it has the power to decide cases involving disputes between student organizations, and disputes concerning elections. This judiciary consists of five members, one being appointed by the Dean of Law School, the Dean of Men, Dean of Women, President of the University, and the President of the Associated Students. The court is interested not only in the interpretation and upholding of duly enacted law but also in the protection of the rights and privileges of the students.

JEANNETTE SCUDDER, Dean of Women

Dean of Women

Dean of Women, Miss Jeannette Scudder, is responsible for the general welfare of all women students, for the general counseling of students, and for the administration of women's affairs. The duties of this warm, friendly, brown-eyed woman include supervision of women's housing, advice to AWS, and advice to the various women's organizations. She spends much of her time in individual interviews and counseling.

Dean Scudder is starting her 14th year at the University of Arkansas. She is a graduate of Purdue University where she majored in English and psychology. She holds the Master's degree in personnel management from Columbia University.

Dean of Men

Dean of Men John E. Shoemaker, who was recently ordained to the diaconate of the Episcopal Church, has served the University as Dean of Men since September of 1948. Dean Shoemaker felt he could be of greater service to his church in the diaconate than as a layman. Dean Shoemaker came to the University as assistant director of Ordark Research Project. He had received a cum laude degree in chemical engineering and a master of science degree in metallurgical engineering from Harvard.

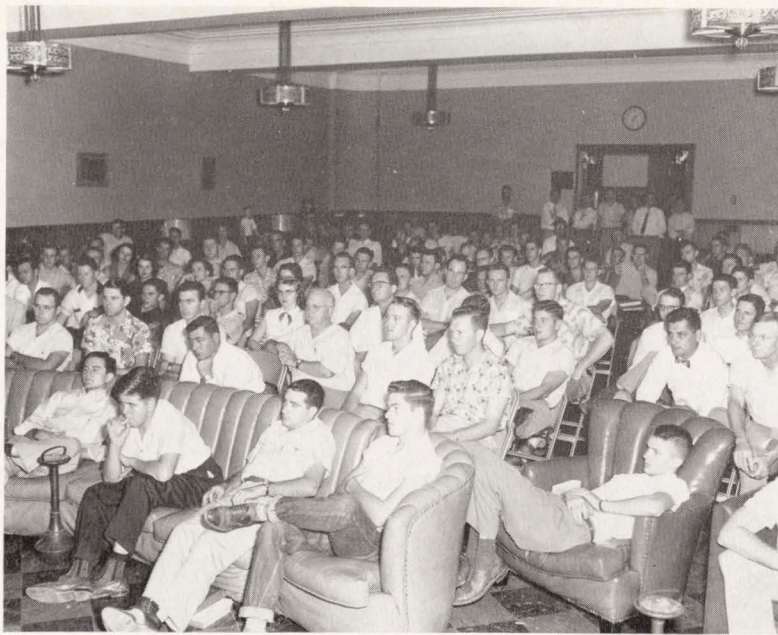

Dean Shoemaker is responsible for the non classroom phases of a male student's collegiate life. He is counselor and advisor. One of his biggest jobs is aiding in the smooth operation of fraternities.

Spring Fever AFFECTS EVERYONE

As the ice melts on those scenic Ozark Mountains and transportation once again becomes possible, the students emerge from the seclusion of the organized house to expose pale bodies to the tanning rays of the sun and everyone seems to go crazy for a time. The result may be anything from riding bucking brones to filling a fraternity house yard with cars.

Picnics have always rated high on the entertainment list, along with a dip at Elkins. Later in spring, after classes end, University co-eds always play a big part in the Miss Arkansas Contest where, this time, four of the six finalists were University girls.

During the short spring, studies sort of become a forgotten word, and to the dismay of faculty and parents campus-ology becomes the only course to which much time is devoted.

Chi Os soak up the sun at their annual spring outing while their dates soak up the scenery and play lazy.

Joyce Reed gets a crown and a smile from Governor Cherry after winning the Miss Arkansas contest at Forrest City.

O. P. Hilliard decides riding a bucking brone at the annual Agri Day rodeo is much easier than running a political party.

The AWS spring outing gets turned indoors as rains soak the ground, but not the terrace of the Student Union.

Vinsonhale's folly appeared very disturbing to sleepy Sigs when the morning sun revealed a lawn filled with cars.

Casual dress and relaxation typify the feeling of spring along sorority row.

Betty Biggadike, Patsy Barton, Robin Wilson, Sara Steele, Ann Williams, and Anna Jean Pappas sunbathe and gossip on the Pi Phi sundeck and contemplate the flattering shades of tan which are sure to follow.

Feudin' Fightin' and Politickin'

Sam Sexton and Jerry Green shake hands after final returns assure their victory, while Mrs. Sexton looks on.

With a breath of cigar smoke and a fiery campaign speech, politics assumed its annual position of prominence on the spring calendar.

The incumbent University party, which has been in the saddle two years, went down in defeat before a new group, the Razorback party, which came through with the innovation of a campus party primary. Another newcomer was the Bull Moose party, which was content to laugh heartily at campus politics in general.

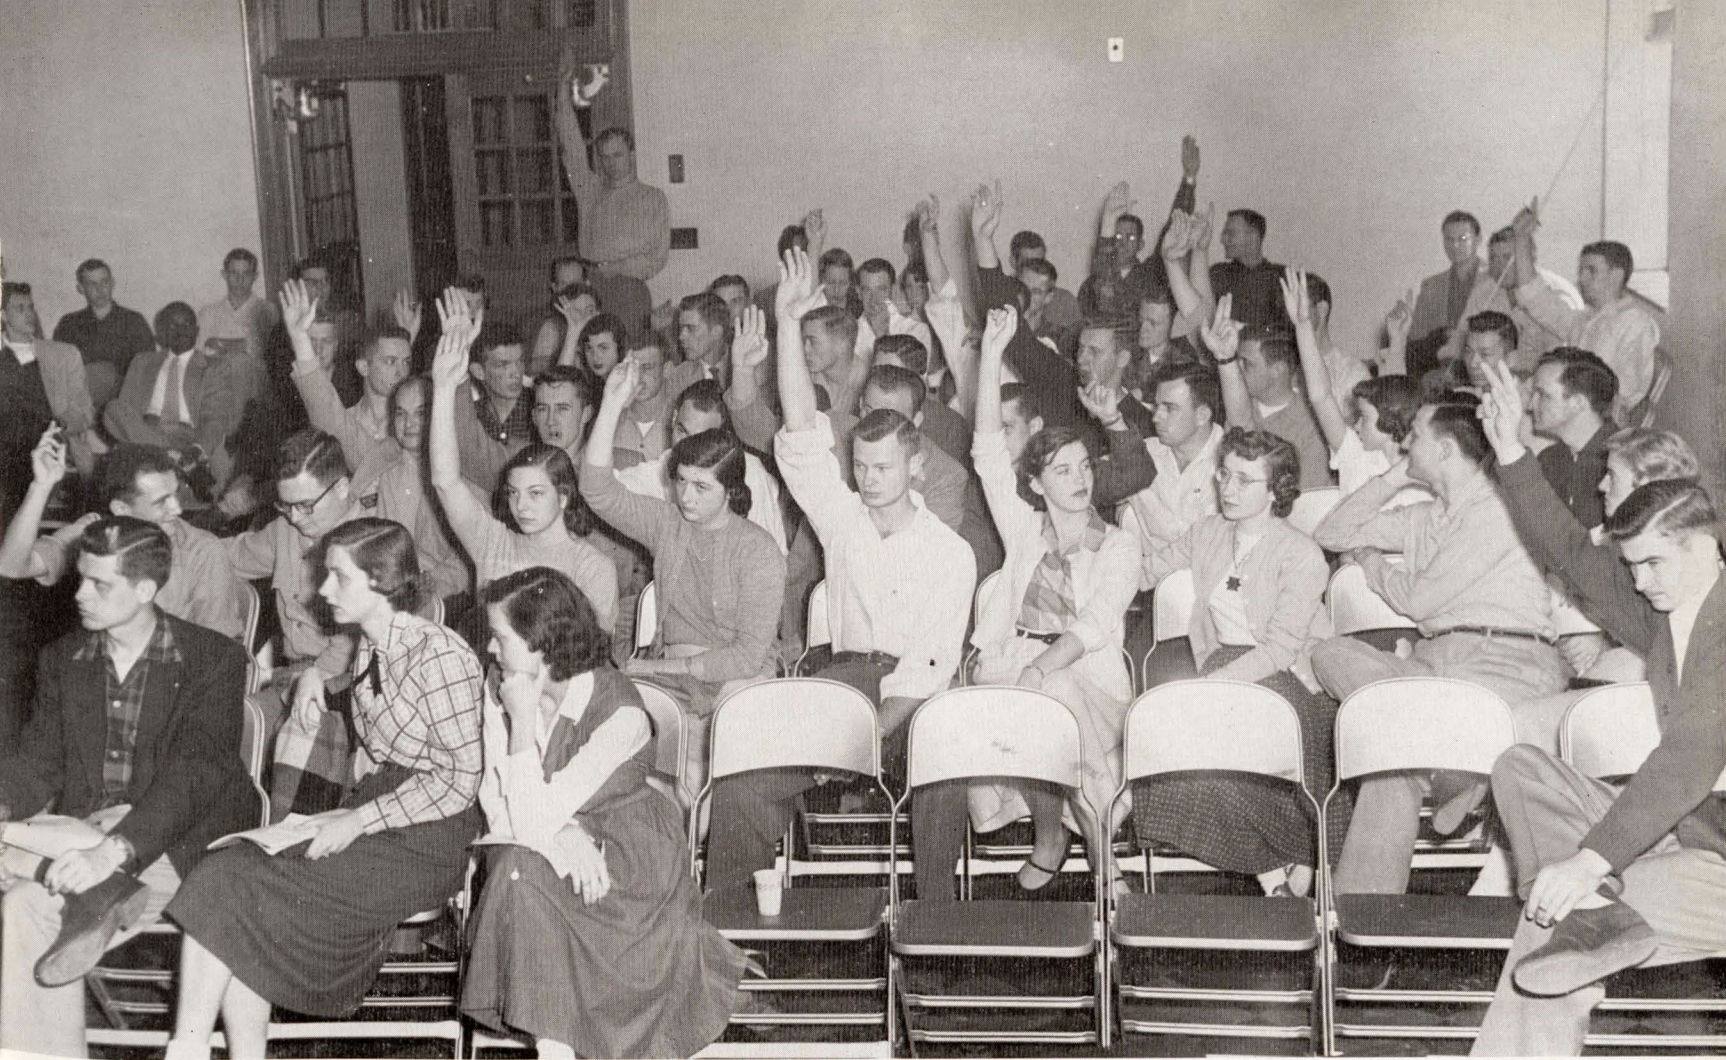

Charges of stacked conventions and loaded primaries were hurled at each other by the Razorback and University parties. Consequently, the Bull Moose conducted both a stacked convention and a loaded primary (only one candidate) and were immediately thrown off the ballot for having a student named Teddy Roosevelt on the Moose candidate's petition.

Candidate Boyce has trouble deciding between himself and the moose as Piper and Goldman conduct the Bull Moose primary.

Razorback party officials conduct their party primary which selected a slate that swept to victory.

The University Party convention proceeds with the business of adopting a platform.

Candidate Boyce pledges to fight sin and Communism and uphold motherhood and the Constitution.

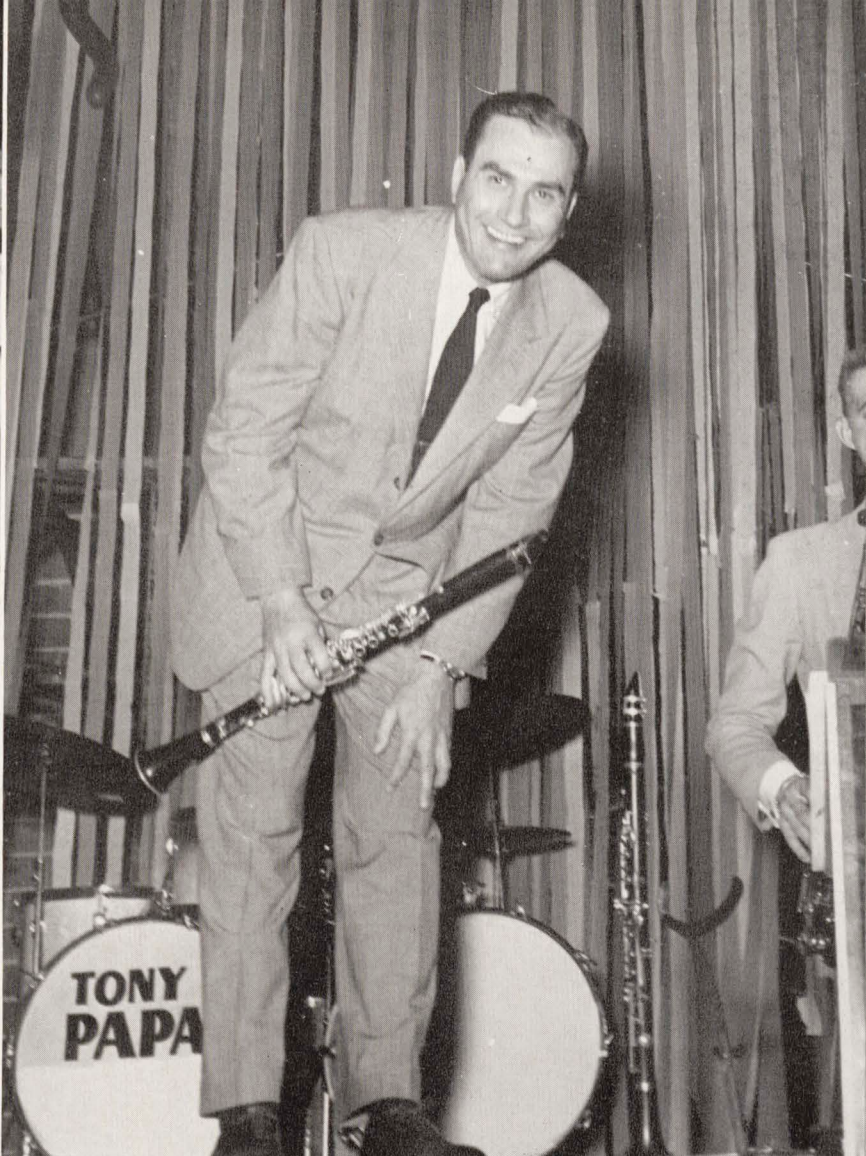

A large crowd of Kappa Sigs gathers around to watch election returns.

Artie Shaw, congenial leader of the band, turns out sweet music in the Fieldhouse, and pauses to peer at a photographer.

Gaebale A DANCE AND A BEAUTY SHOW

Jackie Stucker (center) was chosen Miss University of Arkansas. Her maids were Cynthia Kenward and Betty Lou Ayers.

Gaebale wheeled into a modified version under the hands of Jim McGehee and Sam Boyce after an all-out poll to determine the program. The poll turned into a regular election campaign with McGehee and Boyce taking to the stump to defend the program established by a Gaebale evaluation committee appointed earlier in the year by Dr. Caldwell. Irate business students under the guidance of Gene Lambert and the Commerce Guild took up the banner for an extra day of Easter vacation and a modified Gaebale, while Boyce and McGehee held out for a revised version of the old Gaebale celebration.

The election came out two to one in favor of the modified version. Result: a beauty show and a fieldhouse dance, and an extra day to search for Easter eggs.

The music was good and the crowd was large. Jim Buckley and Sissi Riggs added gaiety with the decorations.

Campus Capers, SHOW FOR CHARITY

The Campus Capers heralded the close of the campus chest drive and the beginning of Gaebale as the girlyies got together to stage a series of house skits that had a capacity crowd yelling for more. The Capers met with such a measure of success that Civic Club wheels decided it should be an annual event to close the drive for charity.

Each women's house presented a 15 minute show which ranged from clowns to black-face to songs like "In My Merry Oldsmobile."

The Campus Chest drive was originated three years ago by the Civic Club in order to eliminate the numerous charity drives throughout the year. The first drive was under the direction of Bob Riley and centered around the election of a Miss Campus Chest. The next year Charlie Jones took the reins and had the women's houses compete to see who could raise the most money. An Interfraternity sing was thrown in for good measure. Last year's drive was headed by Al Edwards and Betty Henrici.

Delta Gamma reviewed the past in the "Old Family Album" with several illustrative skits.

The Holcombe Hall girls turned up with a tap-dancing horse in nylons.

Jackie Bonner advises the audience, "Be a Clown."

Calhoun and Gabriel sing out in rags as a second take on an Astaire-Powell routine from Royal Wedding.

Al Edwards congratulates Charlie Davis as winner of the "Best Lover" award.

The Pi Phis presented a chorus line to illustrate thoughts which crossed the mind of the recipient of a letter from a College Joe.

Rush INITIATES THE FALL SEASON

Lambda Chi rushees and members pick up the goodies toward the close of an afternoon rush session.

Fraternity rush week started the fall semester with the usual round of parties, tours, and hot box sessions.

The schedule called for a tour of all fraternity houses on Sunday, afternoon and night parties on Monday and Tuesday, and preferential parties on Wednesday. Thursday morning rushees signed their bid preference slips and Thursday afternoon received bids in their rooms in Gregson Hall.

Fraternity parties, which were two and one-half hours in duration, generally consisted of much handshaking and distribution of propaganda material. Usually a skit or other form of entertainment and light refreshments would up the festivities.

Approximately 240 men participated in the largest rush week to be conducted since 1948. Eleven fraternities competed in the activities, which were supervised and under the direction of the Interfraternity Council.

Sororities VIE FOR RUSHEES

Rushees and members gather around the dining table at the Zeta Tau Alpha house during the formal dress party.

Six sororities extended bids to 120 women after a series of nine parties lasting over a five day period.

The rushees were billeted in Davis and Carnall Halls during the big week, moving out to the various sorority houses on Thursday afternoon. The prospective pledges were divided into six groups and attended preliminary parties at all six sorority houses on Sunday night, Monday morning, Monday afternoon, Monday night, Tuesday morning, and Tuesday afternoon.

Wednesday they returned to two preferential parties in the morning and afternoon. Thursday morning they returned to one house, and received their bids at noon Thursday.

Sorority rush is supervised by the Pan-Hellenic Council in co-operation with the Dean of Women's office.

Rabbits and devils gang up on a naive "Alice in Wonderland" during a skit in the Delta Gamma game room.

Registration--THE LINES ARE LONG

Fall registration with the Kerr short form application blank came out with an official 3744 figure which was one of the largest since the years immediately following World War II.

An orientation program was conducted throughout registration week for freshman and transfer students in order to acquaint them with the campus and its activities. The program was under the direction of ODK, men's leadership organization.

The actual registration process was slightly speeded up over previous years. The procedure itself took in most cases slightly over an hour, but the waiting in line period was still the same.

The fieldhouse again served to house the long tables of advisors, collectors, and schedulers. Noticeably missing was the table used last year by some jokers to confirm that freshmen were not members of the communist party.

"But I must have this section, it's the only way I can graduate."

The door guards were careful to check numbers before admitting students to registration.

The inside of the field house during registration gives the impression of a mob scene with "A east of thousands."

A Talent Show HIGHLIGHTS ORIENTATION

Sue Gail Dillman did popular dance during the ODK Orientation talent show.

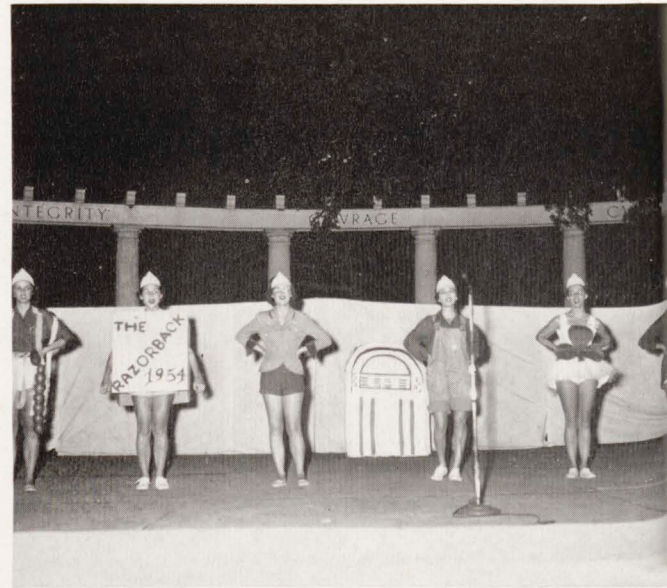

One of the highlights of the revised Orientation Week schedule was the Talent show in the Greek theatre sponsored by ODK. Holcombe Hall and the pledge classes of five sororities participated.

The show consisted of a series of skits which brought back tender memories of the old Gaebale carnival. The Union was the supposed location of most of the events portrayed.

During the opening week, new students took a series of tests which were not quite as relaxing as the rest of the opening program, but these were mixed with informal dances, an activities presentation, and a new system of counseling for men.

ODK and other interested organizations plan to enlarge the program of entertainment and present a simplified version of registration and testing in the future. The old system has slowed down the efficiency for registering the new students.

The Chi Omegas told a story of campus queens.

Pi Phis represented various types of co-eds.

"Red and the U of A Wolf" was the theme of the Kappa skit.

The Tri Deltas told a story of a girl who came to college.

Memories were recalled by the Zeta Tau Alpha Show.

Queen Jimmie, her court, and the fans stand up and cheer as the Razorbacks make a long gain.

Homecoming--WE LOST THE GAME, BUT...

Davis Hall's theater was the winning girls' house decoration.

The 32nd annual Homecoming rolled into high gear with floats, house decorations, spirited alums and a football game.

ABC, who directed the organizations, came through with all of the components for the celebration including beautiful weather for the entire weekend.

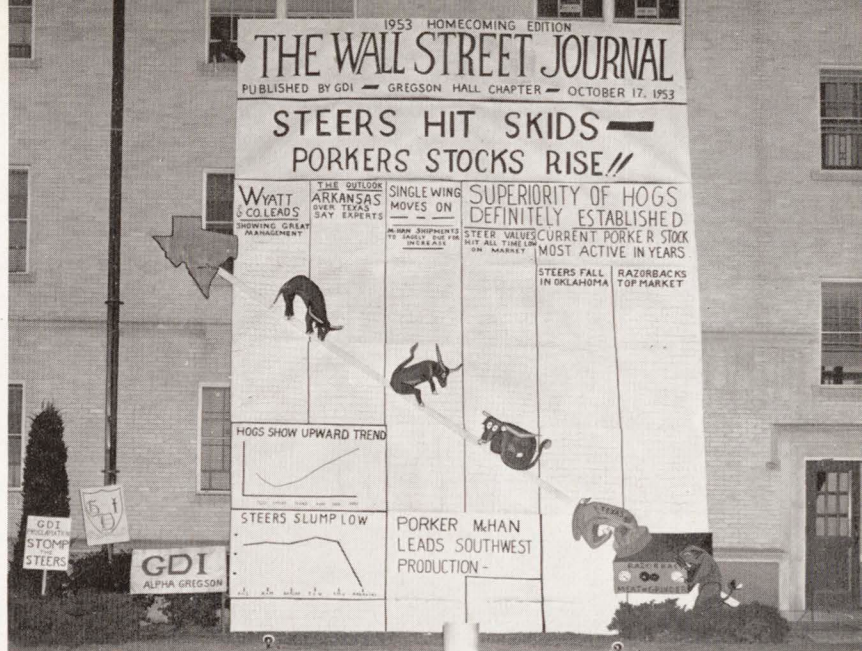

Jimmie Lou Anderson, representing Kappa Kappa Gamma, reigned as queen of the event, while PiKA and Davis Hall took top honors in the house decorations bracket. Sigma Nu and Tri Delt rang for top honors in the float competition.

Open houses and reunions took their share of the limelight, and campus wheels both past and present got together at the first annual Blue Key reunion.

Halftime activities included exhibitions by the University Drill team and the Razorback Band. Pre-game activities consisted of crowning the queen and the traditional greased pig chase by ABC pledges...

Delta Delta Delta placed first and Delta Gamma placed second in the girls' float competition.

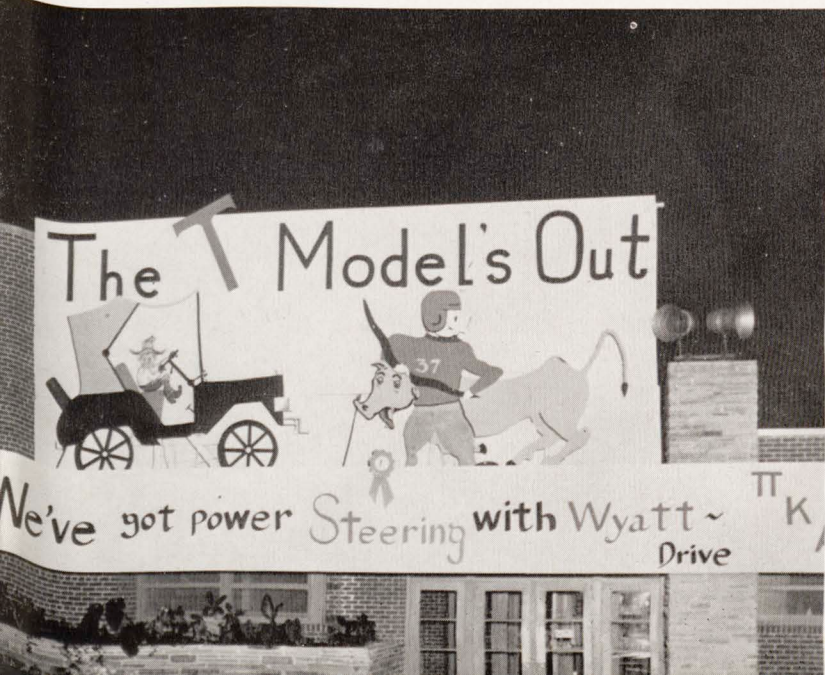

Gregson Hall's newspaper gave them second place in the race among boys' house decoration.

The queen, governor, president, maids and escorts sing the Alma Mater after the coronation.

PiKA's car won a first place for house decorations.

Lambda Chi placed second among the boys' floats.

... The Celebration WAS A VICTORY

... Among the numerous other activities a dance in the Student Union ballroom climaxed the celebration.

The annual pre-game pep rally in the Greek theatre was attended by some four thousand people, including three members of the University's first football team.

W. S. "Pop" Gregson, who left the University earlier in the year due to failing health, was honored by cheers in his honor and a recording of his voice was played urging the team on to victory. In the Saturday parade two floats were entered commemorating his long career of service to the University.

Governor Francis Cherry, although refusing to proclaim a Beat Texas week at Coach Wyatt's request, appeared at the rally and told students that although Arkansas was the underdog for Saturday's game they could still gain the victory. He concluded by saying that he had had some experience being the underdog himself.

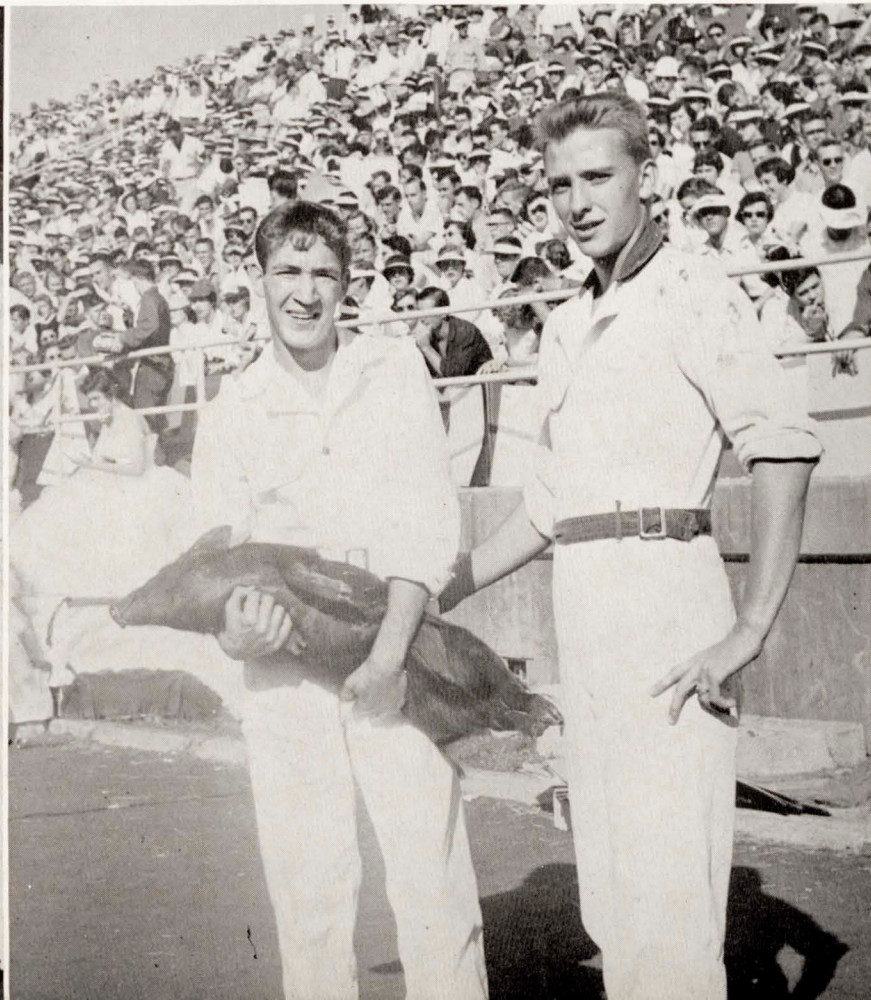

A large crowd turned out for the Homecoming dance in the Student Union Ballroom.

A cheering crowd filled the Greek Theater for the best attended pep rally of the year.

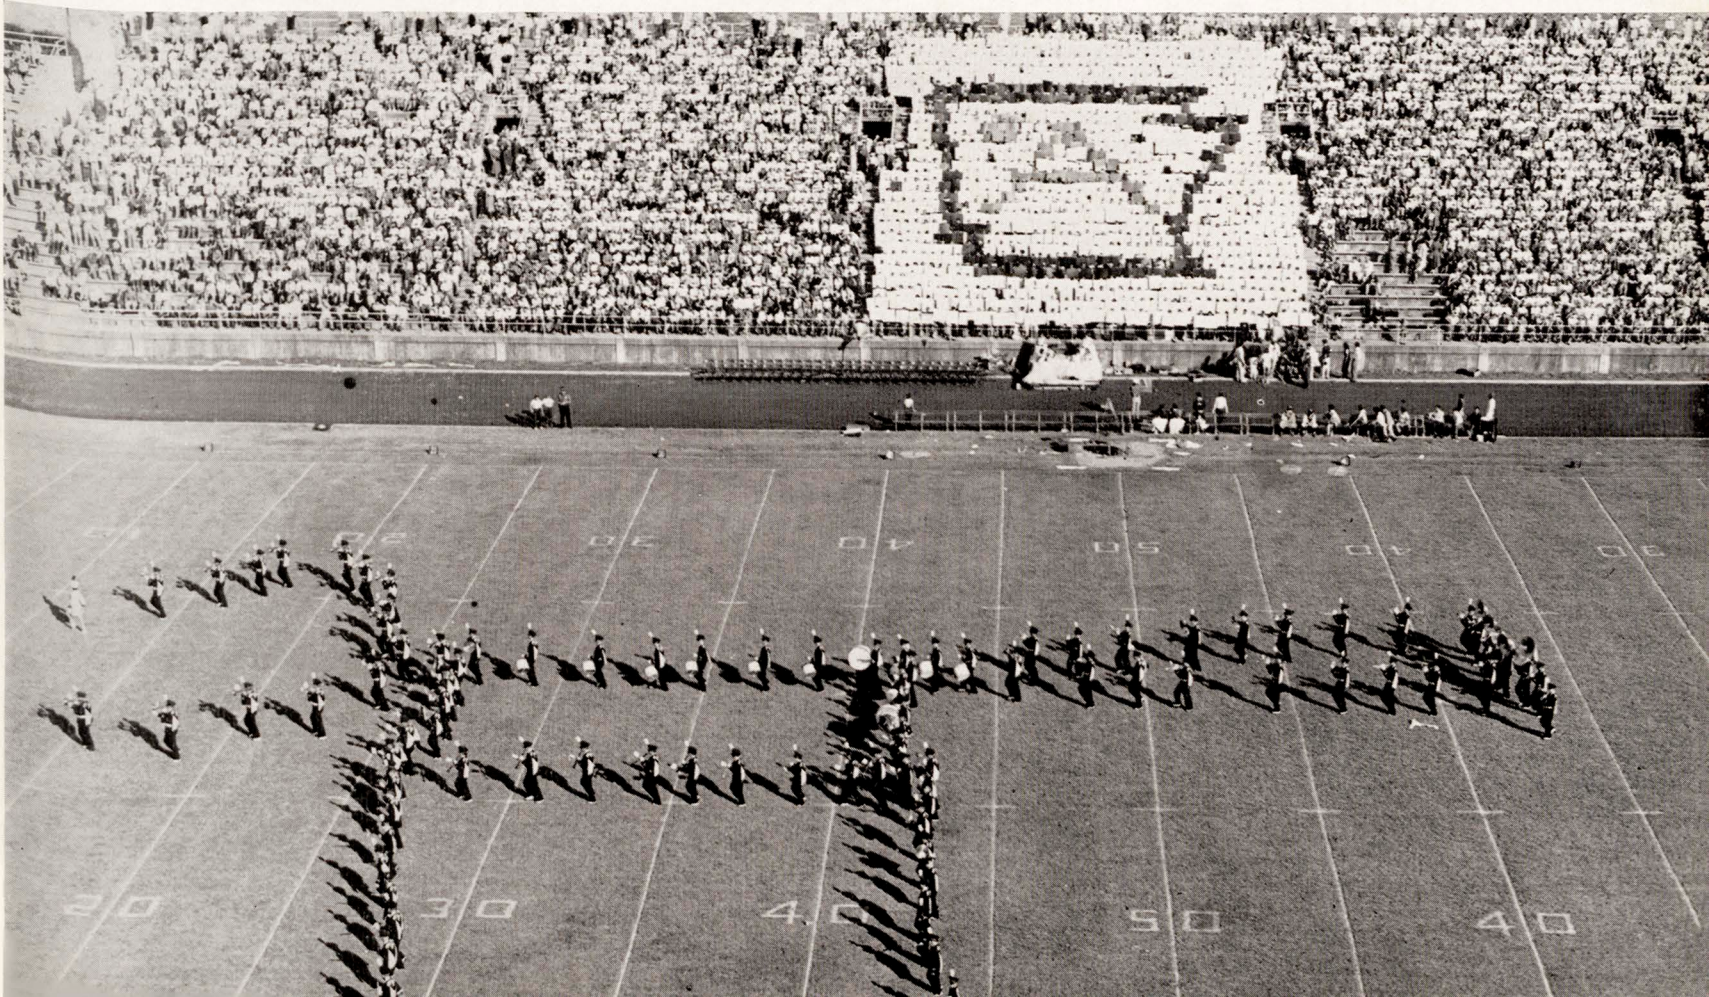

Chi Omega's boots and spurs were runner-up in the girls' house decoration competition.

Betty Lou Ayers was a pretty decoration on the Sigma Nu float which won the boys' contest.

The band formed a horse which walked down the field while the card section outlined the state of Arkansas and formed an "A".

Football Trips ADDED VARIETY TO THE FALL

Below: Joan Bramhall and Mary Gail Anderson lead cheers as students and the band see the team off for an out of town game.

Football games at home in Little Rock are a favorite journey for fans in the fall. The cheerleaders and the band always put on a pep rally in the Marion and it's just the place to "find a date."

Everybody "gets their hats" and just goes. It doesn't matter where, just so the Razorbacks are playing there . . . Dallas, Houston, and (ooh, that town!) Memphis.

The Sig Alph bus trip to SMU was a grand opportunity for rushing, getting to know the girl across the aisle, and sleeping if you didn't like your date. What does it matter if you get in at the crack of dawn? Just so the party was there.

Rain or shine, snow or hitchhiking, students managed to find their way to the game. "Take a train to the game" was the cry of ABC and Senate members. Two train tries flubbed; it's plain students would rather walk.

A caravan of buses took students to Little Rock for the opening game of the season.

The Memphis Razorback club gave a dance for fans who came to the Ole Miss game.

The band and cheerleaders lead a rally in the Peabody Hotel lobby at high noon before the Ole Miss game.

Governor Cherry, along with many cheering students, was on hand when the Razorbacks collided with the Rebels in Memphis.

A couple of band members were more than willing to share shelter with a pair of LSU cheerleaders when the rains began to fall in Little Rock.

The field house floor was filed for the Sauter-Finnigan Concert.

School Dances PROVIDE WEEKEND ACTIVITY

Jim Allison, chairman of the Senate Entertainment Committee, presents a watch to King Porker, Floyd Sagely.

The annual Porker Party was held December 13 in the Student Union Ballroom to honor the 1953 Razorbacks. From a list of handsome backs and linemen, Floyd Sagely was presented as King Porker by Jim Allison, chairman of the Senate Dance Committee. Al Jackson and the rest of his crew from Memphis jived up some hot stuff to furnish rhythms for dancing.

At the Sauter-Finnigan concert, everybody's mouth dropped open at first to hear the crazy arrangements, then spread into wide smiles as it became more and more enjoyable. "The Moon is Blue" was a special favorite. And, of course, the Senate lost money.

Stag lines were almost as long as the registration lines and as usual the girls loved it. Conversations during the dance were short and limited to "How are you? Isn't the band good tonight?" and "I haven't seen you in a long time!"

The floor was less packed for field house dances than in past years—you weren't quite as likely to lose your date.

Editor Martin announced the RAZORBACK Beauties during the intermission of the Sauter-Finnigan Dance.

The crowd attending the Porker Party in the Student Union Ballroom swings out to a fast number.

Whenever a couple danced to a Latin-American number, a crowd of spectators gathered.

Parties LIVEN THE SOCIAL SCENE

Costume parties and formals were filling the calendars every week-end. Every fraternity, sorority, and organization had to have its night of dancing and partying. Each costume brawl gave the girls a chance to show off those wonderful inventions called legs.

Sometimes the dance floor got a little too hot and crowded; so, there was always someone overflowing into the kitchen to quench their thirst and sneak preview the refreshments. Housemothers were usually stashed away in their apartments after having performed their official function of standing in the receiving line.

In each sorority before a big dance, you could find female "Aubairs" taking pictures of the sisters all dressed up. All the while, their dates wait downstairs and make for better inter-fraternity relations.

After the ball is over, housemanagers must scurry home before the gang arrives so they can beller, "Last Call!" out the front door and shoo all the "Just one more see and I'll go" stragglers.

Mr. and Mrs. GO TO COLLEGE

Louise Mixon combs Rickey's hair while father, Bill, tries to get him to be still.

Marriage and going to school do mix, as many of the Arkansas students have proved. Sometimes both "mama" and "papa" attend classes; sometimes only "papa".

And if there are kids, there are other kids to play with. Terry Village is the college's official marriage colony. Others have apartments closer to campus.

It's easier to get Junior to do his homework when you have a good example like "Daddy" to point to. Company to study with is nice.

Married students like dances just as much as the other students. They've already got a date; no worry or fuss. Everybody dresses up and while she ties his tie, he zips her dress.

Most of the married students have part-time jobs. Some of them work for the University; others work in town.

When homework and dishes are done, there's always another married couple to play bridge with.

Christmas SIGNALS A TIME FOR PARTIES

Holcombe had a pajama party at which gifts were distributed. Later the gifts were turned over to the Salvation Army for distribution to needy families.

Everybody had a Christmas party, complete with gifts, Santa Claus and a beautifully trimmed tree. Decorations adorned the doors of most of the houses, the Old Main chimes played carols, and the sun shone.

The "spirit" was all around you. Students were thinking of going home; professors were thinking of assignments and tests just before the holidays began.

The Chio's had a little smoke and fire trouble, but carried on with the party and their skit.

There were parties for the underprivileged children. Bright eyes, excited with the prospect of a dolly or car in the gayly wrapped gift; these were the children. Their tummies were filled with such luxuries as turkey and cranberry sauce, and the students got more fun out of that party than all the rest put together.

Vacation WAS PRECEDED BY MANY EVENTS

Church groups bundled up in their warmest clothes, lit candles and went caroling. Through chattering teeth "Silent Night" still sounded beautiful in the chilly night air, and the carolers were soon rewarded with hot chocolate and cookies.

The performers in the annual Civic Club Singfony filled the Union ballroom so that nobody else could get in. Deep male voices and clear female ones sang songs about Charley being their darling to Nobody Knows the Trouble They've Seen. The boys wore the same conventional navy blues for that "unison" look and the girls were carbon copies of each other in dark skirts with either a sweater and collar or a white blouse.

AWS sponsored a fashion show December 15. Models were selected from the different houses and the show was emceed by Bob "I didn't write that letter" Green.

A couple of little girls put away milk and meat at the Sigma Chi children's party.

Dance groups and choral organizations combined talents to present a Christmas story.

The girls at Carnall distributed many gifts to children.

A show of Christmas fashions was presented for the benefit of co-eds.

A full house was on hand for the Civic Club's Singfony.

Snow BLANKETS THE CAMPUS

A group gathered in front of the Library to make war with snowballs on any passers-by. Many ran for cover after coming too close.

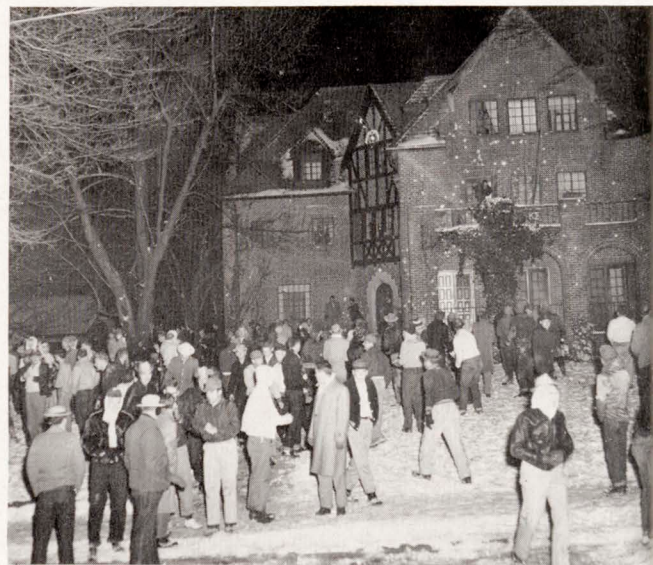

Snow came in all its glory, right in the middle of tests each time. The temptation was just too great and everyone had to play with snow balls instead of books.

Some of the playing got a little rough. Like a huge snowball, the movement to war gathered an army on its way down the hill. Counted in the cost were something like ten windows, a couple of lamps, a cut-up garden hose (the snow did THAT?) and many, many battered faces. It was a riot—in more than one way.

Walking to class was a dangerous adventure; slip-ups were plentiful. Anyway, it was a good excuse to stay in bed and cut.

The girls got into the act by being a little too sassy—just asking the boys to wash their faces good. It's quite a wonder that there weren't more cases of pneumonia. However, runny noses and Kleenex were much in evidence. Snowmen ruled the realm for days. And, after all that work, it was fun to come inside and sit on the radiators.

A group attacked the KZ house with snowballs which knocked out many windows.

Sleds drawn by cars were popular during the first snowfall.

During the height of the blizzard, many students gathered in front of the Union to play in the snow. Most of the girls were rolled in the snow many times.

With the coming of week days, students trudged to class over snow covered sidewalks.

Military Cadets AID BLOOD DRIVE

Dr. Fry speaks to a large group at the second REW convocation.

The Red Cross Bloodmobile managed two squeezes from the campus this year. By hook, crook, forging and bribing the ROTC cadets with getting out of drill they still managed to fall short of 86 pints of blood the first go-round. In the spring, Bob Jenkins led the drive and the ladies in grey got 133 more than they had asked.

The biggest blood bet was paid off in front of the main library with a large student audience watching Army Col. Sterling Moore shine a pair of Air Force shoes worn by Col. Ray Alford. Later on, the losing Army donors held a full-dress parade in honor of the Air Force.

Conscientious kids waited in more lines to give of their own. First they asked you all these face-reddening questions; and then, they stuck what felt like a dagger through your finger to get your type. Blood type, that is. It was funny to note that lots of big, healthy, Wheaties-eating boys were turned away for various and sundry reasons while the weaker sex was bled.

Several ROTC cadets lie on beds in the Faculty Club at the Red Cross "blood letting."

Registration CONFUSES MID-YEAR STUDENTS

Freshmen are the most-unwanted feeling people on campus those first few weeks. While everyone else sneaks past the guards in the field house to register, the frosh have to wait until the last few days.

Then, no sooner than that's over and you've got five eight o'clocks and a four o'clock Saturday afternoon, they sit you down to tests. Sweating hot and crammed in like freshmen, every single new student takes the tests—long, impossible things that ten Phi Beta Kappa's could even pool their brains to pass.

There's barely time for the "pause that refreshes" before orientation starts. So far, the only achievement of orientation lectures seems to have been to orient students on how to cut lectures or how to go to sleep to a monotone.

At mid-term, it's even worse. Orientation, tests and rush parties at the same time are enough to drive a new entrant nuts BEFORE classes start. The rushers go kinda nuts, too—trying to fill a room with smoke, and impress in a measly thirty minute party.

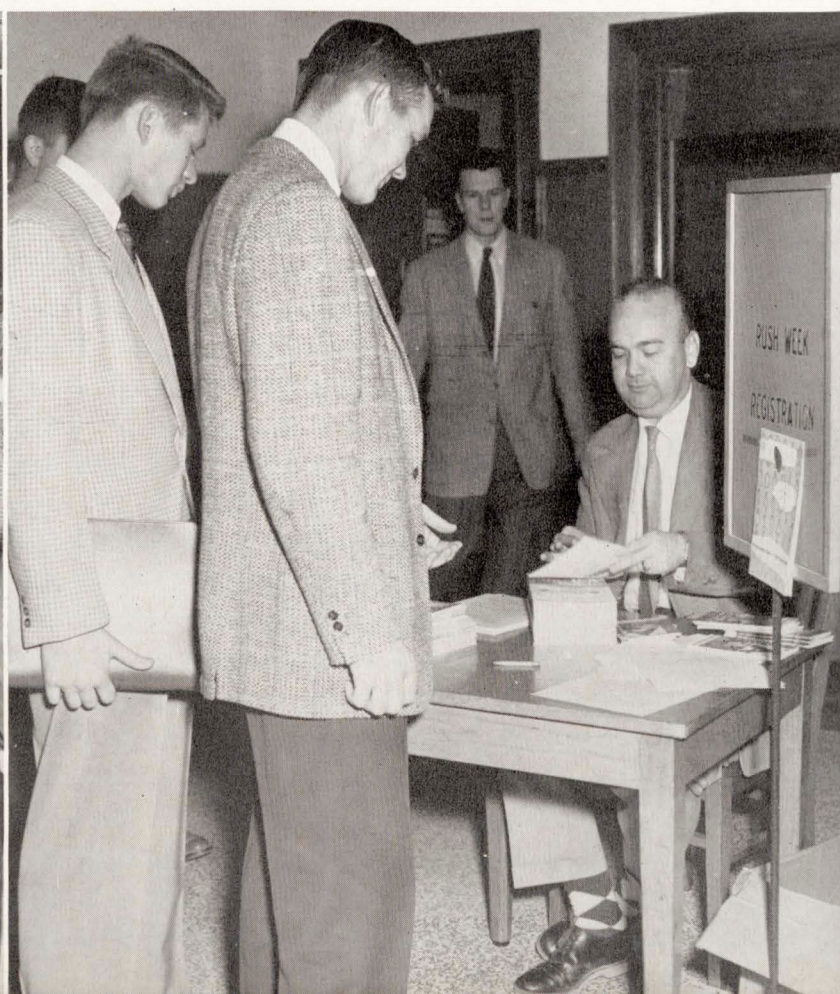

Mid-term freshmen and transfers take a welcome break from the grind of entrance exams and head downstairs in the Union for a drink.

The PiKAs and rushees cluster around the piano for a few songs during semester rush.

Registration—fall or spring—always results in many lines to pick up cards, see advisors, and do a million other things.

The Student Union Ballroom, often the site of more pleasant things, became the scene of entrance exams for new members of the University community at the beginning of the spring semester.

Basketball BRINGS OUT MANY FANS

Clutching activity books, thousands of students pour through the turnstiles before each basketball game.

Nine Saturday nights during the cold winter months found the student crowds spurning the movie-house and dancing in favor of the Razorback round-ballers. It was a popular date night for the boys in particular, especially since it cost only two ever-loving activity books and a wait in the turnstile line for admission.

Again the cheerleaders were on hand to lead the "whoop pigs." They bullied the crowd into standing up on the narrow seats while billfolds, programs, purses and coats fell underneath. It wasn't a perfect Saturday night unless your date had to dive for a prize at least once.

The field house was always crowded and had a row of athletes with drags trimming the court.

By standing outside when the game was over, you could tell whether Arkansas and Rose were successful or not. From there, it was a steady stream over to the Union ball-room or Jug's. The "Basket Balls" were sponsored by the Student Union committees and featured Stacy and stags.

The Student Union Ballroom was filled to overflowing at each of the convocations during Religious Emphasis Week.

REW ADVOCATED "LIVE IN FAITH TODAY"

Co-chairman Mary Ann Graham announces REW plans at a banquet a few weeks before the start of the week of emphasis.

A "Lift in Faith Today" was just the way to express REW this year. It featured a number of changes, including the use of eleven speakers instead of one man.

Topics for the convocation held each morning at 10:30 in the Union were: "Look Out" by Ruth Seabury, "In America" by Harold Fey, "Faith Unlimited" by Blake Smith, and "From Here to Eternity" by Harry Philpott. Glad of a chance to cut classes short—even if only for ten minutes—the students thronged to hear the speakers.

Breakfasts each morning, and bull sessions for supper were the five day schedule. One of the most popular and best-attended was "Courtship and Marriage" by Clark Ellzey.

Winding up events on Thursday night George Harper conducted an impressive dedication service. Co-chairmen Mary Ann Graham and Ollie Bland checked the last date on their calendars that was circled in red and leaned back to discover the results of February 22-25 were well worth the time and energy.

Here and There MANY THINGS HAPPEN

College life isn't all classes and weekends. It's that "between-times" time that adds up. That fifteen minutes before a meal or the twenty minutes it takes to wash your hair add up. Or maybe the prof forgets his 9 o'clock and the hour spent in the union with a cup and friends isn't completely wasted.

Like waiting for the phone at the house—some people never observe the "five minute phone limit" rule. Some lines are never empty and that "baumzz, baumzz, baumzz" signal seems perpetual.

There's always a time for decorating for a dance. Ladders are the shakiest and ricketiest things at this particular moment. Glue and paste and scotch tape suddenly become necessary essentials. Just when everything falls down and there simply isn't enough time left in the world to finish and "whoever thought up this fantastic idea should be boiled in oil," the place looks gorgeous.

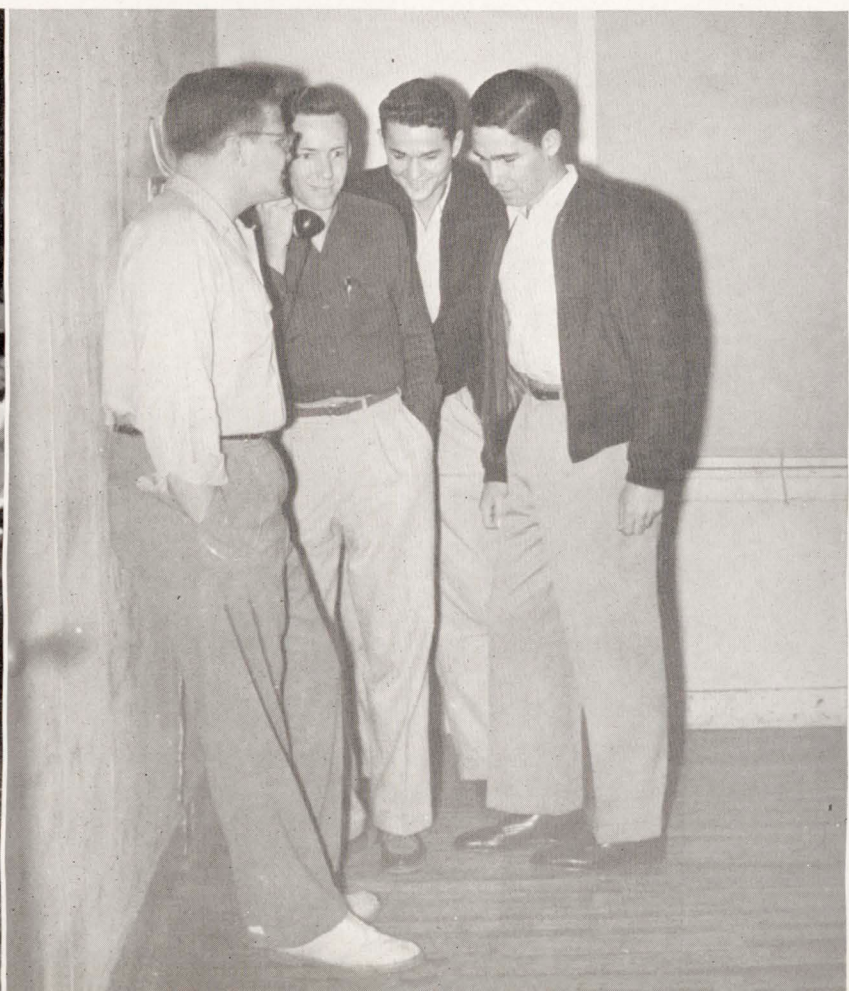

Tuesdays turned out to be "meetin' day" for all the clubs and committees and extra-curricular stuff. Pledges had to gather activity points so they turned 'bout face and became joiners. Chairmen had to sweat out an hour meeting, secretaries had to write those silly card reminders, and everybody ended up going home and leaving the important stuff up to the important folks.

The Band's "Hogsapoppin'" show at the halftime of a basketball game was the most confusing entertainment of the year.

A Greenhouse REARS ITS HEAD

“Will there be a check from home?” is the thought that crosses many students’ minds as they take letters from their box in the Student Union Post Office.

The University has awakened to find something new under the sun, a greenhouse raising its pointed head in the middle of the campus. Most people felt this was about as appropriate as the Homecoming football game being put in Nome, Alaska. Worry was expressed that an eleven story grain elevator might be erected next to the agri building, or a stock exchange building attached to BA, if the Botany department could add a greenhouse. This brought back into the students’ minds their constant gripe against buildings and grounds with their multitude of little green fences and bushes that you stumble over at night when walking across an area that was clear that afternoon. Constantly buildings and grounds were planting trees—and not just ordinary trees either—but very expensive trees from Outer Slobovia or Inner Mongolia. The students had no trouble figuring out where money that was needed for actual improvements in the University should come from—“Take it from buildings and grounds, 95% of the stuff they do is unnecessary—the legislature should investigate those moles.”

Buildings and Grounds brought out their truck and sprayer to kill crabgrass growing on the campus.

After wondering for weeks what the hole was for, the students found a greenhouse was being annexed to the south side of Old Main. Many claimed it was a sacrilege to change the exterior of the building.

John McClellan, Arkansas' senior Senator, and Sid McMath, the man who would like to give Fulbright that title, were brought to the campus at different times by ACPL.

Mrs. Roosevelt spoke to a luncheon gathering of student and faculty leaders in the Student Union private dining room, and later gave a public address in the ballroom.

Eleanor Roosevelt VISITS ARKANSAS

Mrs. Roosevelt spent the night in Holcombe Hall and had dinner with the freshman girls during her one-day visit.

"Where the elite meet" was the Student Union private dining room the day Mrs. Roosevelt came to town. Big wheels and little cogs were invited specially to meet the notable of the year. She lunched with them, and just as graciously showed her manners by shaking all the hands afterwards.

The ballroom was filled the afternoon and night that she spoke. With her twinkly eyes and the rose on her hat, the world traveler charmed her whole audience. Entering in a kimono at the night performance, she lambasted McCarthy and gave the campus, town, and ladies club audience something to think about.

In spite of the big Baylor game to tempt the students, there was an overflow crowd within 45 minutes before she made her speech. People from far and near filled the seats in the union while others tuned in the loudspeakers in the lobby, grill and lounge so they could hear.

A group gathered early for the luncheon in the Student Union.

Jerry Green, President of Associated Students, introduced Mrs. FDR to the luncheon of leaders.

The whole Student Union building was packed when Mrs. Roosevelt made her night talk in the Ballroom. People arrived hours early.

ST. PAT AND PATRICIA Campaign

Twice each year the Engineering students go wild—once on Engine Day and once during the campaign for St. Pat and St. Patricia.

The vote soliciting goes on over several days featuring odd garb for the would-be St. Pats and leg shows presented by the St. Patricia candidates at the Engineering Rally the night before election. The Engineering building echoed to sounds of Irish music and spot commercials for days before the election. Each candidate prefixed "O" to their last name and used an Irish first name if they could change theirs enough. Everyone wore green.

The rally was the climax of all this and took on air of a political convention with parades around the Student Union Ballroom, speeches by the candidates, banners proclaiming "Vote for O'Smith," and wild promises of changes in Engineering school such as no classes eight days a week.

Patia Link was St. Patricia and J. C. Barr was St. Pat.

A pair of charming cigarette girls distributed free Luckies as part of Jim Barr's campaign.

Patti McDonald performed for Patia Link, Mary Claire Massey and Faye Bordelon performed for Lemel Tull, and Joyce Reed performed for Pat Ellis as part of their attempt to gain votes.

Bette Pryor was on hand to help out Rosalie Bent, the Zeta candidate, with a song.

Fred "O'Abrego" had a trio with the letters of his name taped to their legs present the "O'Abrego Can Can."

Orvil Elkins came over to sing on behalf of Barr and brought along several fellow musicians.

Ann Easley sang her message to the Engineers as she was helped out by a number of her Kappa sisters.

Graduation -- A MILESTONE

TOP: The Chi Omegas told the story of a candy shop for the 1953 Campus Capers. BOTTOM: Dr. Robert Hutchins presents his views on the future of education.

Besides the various oddities and dailies on campus—for instance, an oddity: the German swastika and a daily: swarms around the Coke machine—the chief aim of most people is GRADUATION.

The black cap and gown that seem so far and out of reach may not be so far in the future after all. And there's the funniest feeling when you finally come to your senses and realize ahead of you is the deep, dark brink of life. No more Jug's, Rockwooding, home football games in Little Rock, classes to cut, stags at the Union dances, Monday night frat meetings, 5¢ cups of coffee, or a three to one ratio of men.

The organ begins to sound like a funeral march, and the morbid look on the face of those who have fostered you through a horrid four years—namely, the profs, make you feel more and more like you're in a buryin' place.

The University lost around 600 at mid-term graduation and is scheduled to lose about the same number this spring.

Most everyone dashes to the fieldhouse lobby for a Coke and a smoke at basketball halftimes.

Ralph McGill, editor of the Atlanta Constitution, gave the commencement address to 625 University graduates at the mid-winter commencement.

"Uncle Walt" Lemke attracted attention to his Armistice Day display of war souvenirs by hanging a Nazi flag on Hill Hall.

D'Ann Reed provided graduation music with the Baldwin Organ which replaced the Band at mid-winter services.

Before the coming of rules designed, to the students' way of thinking, to make the Library a less pleasant place, the steps were a popular place to take a break for a cigarette.

Many Regulations PROVE UNPOPULAR

Snow paints a beautiful picture on the campus as co-eds return from class on a cold day.

"Everytime you turn around, you find a new regulation that you are violating—It wasn't like this when the veterans were here—What are they trying to turn this place into—Hendrix College?" are sentiments frequently expressed by students who have run afoul of some new rule.

The library decided students should no longer follow the time honored custom of having a bull session while sitting on the steps. Traffic zones were opened and then closed with little warning to students who subsequently collected tickets. Many "privileged character" signs sprang up saying "This space reserved for number 89123," thereby starting a "disintegrating erosion of particular exceptions." Drinking was severely restricted, raising charges that this was becoming "Caldwell's convent."

But not everything got more strict. Tables were allowed at Student Union dances and smoking was permitted in the Ballroom. A Campus Fair replaced the Gaebale Carnival. A liberalized cut system was investigated. A longer Easter vacation than ever before was granted the school.

Marsue McFaddin has a bit of snow ice cream from a snow covered bush.

The punch bowl was a popular place at Holcombe's sweater hop.

A crowd often appears on the balcony of the Student Union Ballroom while dances are taking place below.

It seemed all the boys on the campus tried to crowd into Holcombe for a sweater hop in mid-winter.

A military color guard and drill team led the Homecoming parade.

A NIGHT AT THE Opera

The first University Opera Workshop started things off on a clear note by having a hold-over performance their first appearance.

Variety show was their style and they simplified things by singing in English to their amateur opera audience. That audience really spilled into the Fine Arts Concert Hall seats—they surprised everybody by turning out in true culture form.

Backstage, it was a question of making-up, changing scenes and costumes in a hurry to the tune of trills and practice runs coming from every nook and cranny. There were all sorts of mixed and peculiar people. A Cleopatra and a man in his undershirt and false mustache stood next to each other, watching a peasant girl with gold loop earrings and the black devil practice their night's notes.

An appreciative audience was on hand for the opera workshop's first presentation. An extra performance was necessary.

Kaye Thompson portrayed the vivacious Carmen with Lyle Crawford as the admiring Don Jose in a scene from "Carmen."

Betty Pless was the captive princess Aida with Carolyn Sager as the jealous Amneris in "Aida."

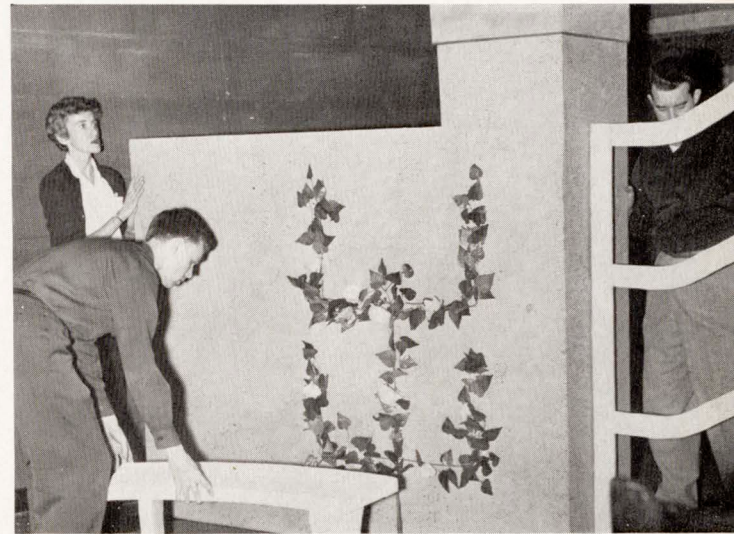

The applying of make-up is a most important preliminary to the presentation of opera. Here, Charles Martinelli helps Barbara Moberg.

Pledges PARTICIPATE IN MANY ACTIVITIES

TOP: The Chi Omega pledge class sponsored a car washing project to raise money. BOTTOM: SAE pledges dug a hole in the back yard ten feet by ten feet.

Pledging is one heck of a sport from the first. Rush turned out to be a funny feeling in the tum, lots of nothing-talk, smoke filled smokey rooms, and finally, running up the hill from the union to get your ribbons or peeking out Gregson's windows and waiting for that pledge button.

From then on, it's phone duty, door duty, ash-tray duty, clean-up duty, wake-up duty, and STUDY HALL. That Main Library is filled and crammed with pledges sitting at the tables and talking to other pledges; anything to keep from studying.

There were some high spots, however. The inter-fraternity pledge dance was the affair and most of the individual fraternities and sororities entertained their group with dances and dinners. Walkouts were a favorite; and even though the girls couldn't get out of town, they managed to have a good time. The boys went to girls schools and big towns—anything but Fudville. Silverware was the item to steal, lights always went out, and a donkey even got in on the act in one walkout. There was always that inevitable time to come home . . . and then, . . .

Vice-president Sexton and Senators Campbell and Jones presented a sportsmanship plaque to TCU.

STUDENTS WORK AT This and That

Carroll Seroggins fires the ball toward the basket as an excited crowd watches during the Arkansas-SMU game.

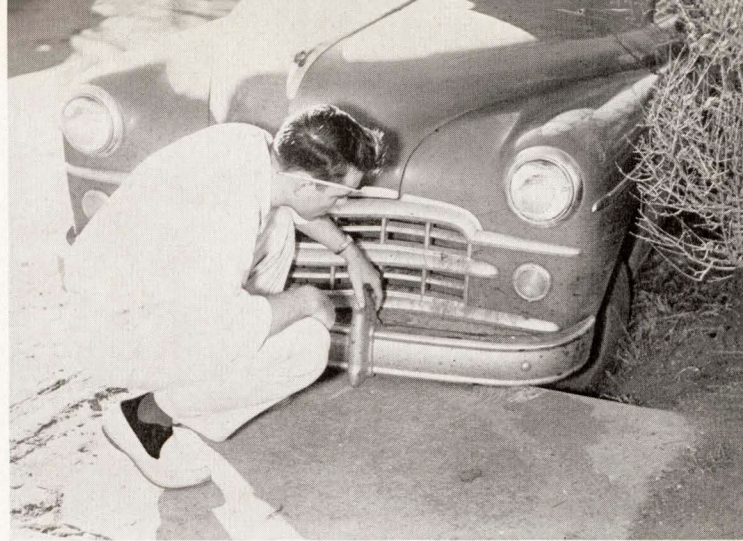

There is always something to do at Arkansas. And if there's nothing to do, the students can study.

Jug's is the perfect place to hold the Friday afternoon get together, the Union grill is made for drinking a cup of coffee while you think of the millions of things you have to do, the library steps are wonderful for smoking a cigarette and putting off studying, the living room of a sorority house is a perfect set-up for courting during closed house, and dinner at Springdale and a movie is the regular Sunday night date.

Football games at home in Little Rock and Saturday night games here in the field house weren't neglected. There were Fine Arts plays, opera workshops, concerts, and lectures. REW took up a whole week, and the various school "days" came off. Frat parties and dinners, political rallies and dinners, going to church on Sundays, the Singfony, Gaebale, the Tuesday-Thursday drills climaxed by the Military Ball, Campus Capers, the freshman talent show, pep rallies, all-school dances weren't missing, either. And, if you had anytime left over, you could always read the "Razorblade."

AIR FORCE ROTC

The Air Force ROTC Detachment at the University of Arkansas, under the direction of Lt. Col. Ray W. Alford, PAST, is bringing to a close its first year of operation under the Air University's new generalized curriculum. This program has as its objective, to develop in the student, to the highest degree possible, those understandings, attitudes, skills, and attributes of leadership considered essential in the development of all Air Force commissioned officers.

Approximately five hundred Cadets are enrolled in the Air Science Department, one hundred and fifty being in the Advanced Courses. Nineteen Air Force ROTC Cadets were commissioned Second Lieutenants at mid-year graduation while forty-five Cadets are scheduled to receive their commissions in June. A majority of those commissioned will further their Air Force training at Air Force Flying Schools.

Major Cyrus B. Vance, Assistant Professor of Air Science and Tactics, served as Executive Officer for the Air Force Detachment during the past school year.

AIR FORCE FACULTY

Captain George H. Parsons teaches Air Science II. His home is Fayetteville. He is Explorer Project Officer and CPA Project Officer. Major Cyrus B. Vance of Tulsa, Oklahoma, teaches Air Science IV. He is executive Officer and Adjutant. Captain John J. Henneberger is Public Information Officer and Historical Officer. He is from Dallas, Texas and teaches Air Science III. Major Edgar C. Warren of Van Buren teaches Air Science I and is Director of MARS. Captain William B. Feigley, Jr. directs the Air Force Band and teaches Air Science I. He is from Waco, Texas. All of these men are Assistant Professors of Air Science and Tactics. Lt. Col. Ray W. Alford of Fort Thomas, Kentucky, is completing his third year as Professor of Air Science and Tactics.

Captain George H. Parsons, Major Cyrus B. Vance, Lt. Col. Ray W. Alford, Captain John J. Henneberger, Major Edgar C. Warren, and Captain William B. Feigley, Jr., meet to discuss Air Force ROTC plans and problems.

SCABBARD AND BLADE

Scabbard and Blade is a national Military Honor Society with local chapters, called companies, located in eighty-nine leading colleges and universities throughout the country which have ROTC programs.

The Scabbard and Blade Society was formed at the University of Arkansas in 1916.

Membership is by election only, active members being chosen from outstanding cadet officers of the advanced ROTC.

The Captain of this year's Scabbard and Blade unit which is Company B., second Regiment, is Joe Pete McNeill; First Lieutenant, Jim Cordonier; Second Lieutenant, Pat Watkins; First Sergeant, David Lashley; Pledge Trainer, Harold Spain; and Social Chairman, Charles Prothreau. The present membership totals seventy-five cadets.

PERSHING RIFLES

Pershing Rifles is the National Honor Society for basic ROTC cadets. The purpose of the organization is to better train basic cadets for positions of leadership, to increase the cadet's proficiency in drill and command, to improve the cadet's interest and knowledge of the military services, and to recognize outstanding cadets.

Company D, 7th Regiment, was organized on the University of Arkansas campus twenty-three years ago. Pershing Rifles is available for all types of ceremonies, and during the past few years participated in all ROTC reviews, the Homecoming Parade, and the Regimental Assembly reviews in Wichita.

Instruction was accomplished by films, demonstrations, and lectures by the Pershing Rifles Staff and their advisor, Captain Louis V. Hardecastle, U.S. Army.

ARMY ROTC

The University ROTC Program completed its eighty-first year on the campus this Spring. During these years the ROTC unit has developed outstanding reserve officers for the U. S. Army and a number of its graduates have gone into the Regular Army. Graduates of last year are serving in all parts of the world in various positions. This year's Cadet Corps consisted of five hundred and fifty students in both basic and advanced courses. Graduates of the advanced course are carefully selected for character, intelligence and aptitude. Outstanding records were made at last year's Summer Camps in competition with Cadets from colleges and universities throughout the Middle West and South.

Highlights of the Army ROTC Program were again the Cadet Military Ball, the Federal Inspection, and a visit to the Campus by Major General William L. Mitchell, U. S. Army. Major General Haydon L. Boatner addressed the Cadets at the last commissioning ceremony.

ARMY ROTC FACULTY

The Army ROTC Faculty for the year was headed by Colonel Henry Nelson during the first semester. The new Professor of Military Science and Tactics, Colonel Ralph T. Simpson, assumed his duties at the beginning of the second semester. Other members of the Staff, officers and non-commissioned officers, represent a carefully picked group of personnel from the Infantry and Signal Corps. Both officers and non-commissioned officers are chosen on the basis of formal education, military schooling, and experience.

Colonel Simpson is a graduate of the Command and General Staff College, one of the Army's highest institutions for military training.

Front Row: Col. Henry Neilson, Maj. Reuben D. Parker, Maj. Ray Basham, Capt. Floyd S. Gibson, Capt. Louis V. Harcastle.

Back Row: Sfc. R. E. Pope, Sfc. A. H. Jamison, Sfc. Pat N. Westfall.

ARMY CADET COMMANDERS

The Army Cadet Officers this year were led by Cadet Colonel John V. Satterfield, III. Battalion Commanders were: Cadet Lt. Colonel Don B. Mitchell, Lt. Colonel Doyné Dodd, Lt. Colonel Harold Spain, and Lt. Colonel James B. Snapp. The entire Cadet Officer Staff performed unusually well during the year and exercised initiative and application which marked them as one of the most energetic and able groups of Cadet officers the University has had in some years. Positions were rotated in the Companies, Platoons and Staffs during the year so that all Cadet Officers could be given an opportunity to exercise some command function.

Front Row: J. V. Satterfield, D. B. Mitchell, D. Dodd, J. R. Snapp.
Second Row: Harold Spain, Rupert Leohner, Harry E. Purdy, Roy B. Shaver.
Third Row: C. O. Graves, Jr., Robert E. Middleton, L. E. Hurley, C. W. Combs, Lyle C. Crawford.

ARMY ROTC DRILL TEAM

The Army ROTC Drill Team was organized in October of 1952. Colonel Henry Neilson, the PMS&T had the original idea of having a crack Drill Team and Captain Floyd S. Gibson was selected to carry out the project.

The Unit was organized from a group of volunteers out of the Cadet Corps. The Drill Team made its first appearance during the half at the 1952 Homecoming football game.

The movements of the special drill are for the most part without commands, each member, through practice, knowing the entire sequence.

The drill platoon this year numbers fifty and is commanded by Cadet E. B. Ebert, second in command H. W. Glaze and J. L. Armstrong as Platoon Guide.

Front Row: Harry W. Glaze, Bobby L. Fincher, J. O. Forgy, Wm. A. Lavenue, J. L. Armstrong, E. M. McCune, L. W. Clark, B. L. Parker, E. B. Ebert.

RIFLE TEAM

The Army ROTC Rifle team is enjoying its most successful season since World War II. In winning 17 of 25 matches they defeated such strong teams as Arkansas State, Oklahoma University Army and Air Force, Tulsa University, Oklahoma Military Academy, Oklahoma A&M Air Force, and Arkansas Tech.

The team, coached by Major Dale Parker, appears to have clinched second place in the newly organized Midwestern ROTC Rifle League.

Second Row: O. E. Jones, Jimmy McCaleb, Bill Crabtree, Duane Mabry, Reuben Blood, Jr.

ARMY ROTC BAND

The Army ROTC Band was led during the first semester by Cadet Sergeant First Class Duane Griffin. During the second semester, Cadet Sergeant First Class Ronnie Cox led the Band.

The Band was equipped during the year with new instruments. This along with close attention from the Cadet Drum Majors and Mr. Marty, Band Director, made this one of the best ROTC Bands the University has had in several years.

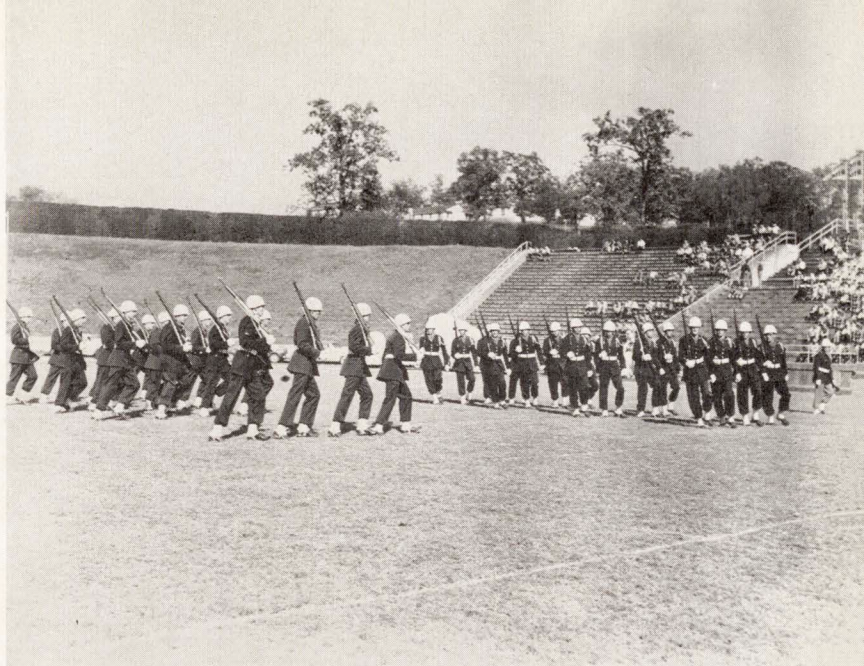

Starting last year, a medal is presented annually to the outstanding Army ROTC Band Member.

Front Row: Duane Griffin, Drum Major; J. K. Johnson, R. B. Treat, W. R. McManns, V. A. Metcalf, F. L. Crutcher, J. M. Futrell, C. H. Ramsey, J. N. Adams, R. D. Cox, Asst. ARKANSAS RAZORBACK

The business staff looks over the advertising layout.

TOP: AUBERT MARTIN, Editor

BOTTOM: Editor-to-be, Gil Buchanan, selects a picture to be filed.

Many times during the production of the 1954 RAZORBACK the staff was ready to throw its support to a plan to eliminate yearbooks, but with the end of year, all the work is forgotten until time to start the next RAZORBACK.

The planning of a yearbook must always start in the spring or summer. By mid-summer the general plans for the 1954 RAZORBACK had been formed and the cover designed. Then came the job of filling the book. The pictures had to be scheduled, taken, filed, marked, and sent to the engraver. Write-ups had to be obtained on many organizations and activities. The staff constantly felt the shortage of a talented writer who could take all the information which came in and re-write it so that it would be interesting and consistent with the rest of the writing in the book. The staff underwent a shakeup during the fall. The editor gave forth a warning that "If some people with titles do not start being seen around this office there are going to be some new people with those titles." There were.

Typing was a constant problem. Much of the work was uninteresting, but a few faithful stuck to it. Charlotte Reid spent endless hours on this and many other jobs. Other faithful workers in the small jobs were Nancy Thomason, Ann Denker, Janet Evans, Mildred Jarvis, Ann Starmer, Sara Steele, Donna McCluney and Tom Johnson. Bill Mays handled an enormous variety of work. One of his many jobs was finding out who people in unidentified pictures were. "May's FBI" always got their man. Gil Buchanan handled the clubs section and earned a promotion to Assistant Editor. Neil Goldman also earned an Assistant Editor's spot with his aid in directing other workers, handling of odd jobs and always being on hand when needed. Dick Rothrock copy read almost every piece of typewritten material that went to the printer. Sissi Riggs returned at semester to aid in the completion of the book. Many of these people gave the editor the feeling that there should be a special place in heaven for those who came in to help on Saturdays, Sundays, and late at night such as Bill, Gil, Neil, Dick, Charlotte, Sissi, and Tom.

Joe Henson and his business staff had the job of keeping the book on firm financial footing, and at the time the RAZORBACK went to press, it seemed to be well in the black in spite of increased printing costs.

ARKANSAS TRAVELER

TOP: PERRIN JONES, Editor

BOTTOM: Several of the editors examine a story.

Continuing the daily deadlines, the Traveler wrote another year of U of A events. Mingling in "World News in Brief" with the more important campus news, the first daily newspaper at the University was published Tuesdays through Fridays.

Pipe smoking Editor Perrin Jones campaigned for more parking space, bloodmobiles, and Gaebale in his Tuesday column, "Pipe Dreams." Associate Editor Ed Maxson signed "In the Rim" on Tuesdays and another feature was the favorite, "Newsmakers."

"Highlights from Hy" were a part of the daily sports roundup under the direction of Editor Hy Kurzner and his helpers Jim Learnard, Jerry Reichert, Sonny Phillips, and Harold Will, filled the remaining inches.

Managing Editor Ferrell Moore chewed fingernails every afternoon over space while Molly McAmis pounded out Traveler Society for Thursday's edition with news of past and future social events and those people "Travelin'."

Local coverage was handled by a staff of six reporters: Clifton Wells, Nancy Steele, Tom Johnson, Dorris Hendrickson, Jack Lowery and Lawrence Oliver working under News Editor, Ronnie Farrar, Jones, Maxson and Moore.

"Hog Waller" was filled with grey stuff letters under 300 words and expressed the students' opinions on things, Gaebale, and professionalism. Wednesday's paper carried a section by Feature Editor Nancy McDonald, who wrote "For the Birds."

Business Manager Bill Henson pacified local and national advertisers and the Traveler finances. Assisting in the business office were Palmer Reed, Jo Wagner, and Doug Smith.

Others in possession of press cards were proofreader Jean Wines, and the Photography Staff, Aubert Martin, Ed Puska, Don Johnson and John Rockwell.

TOP: MARY MIDDLETON, Editor

BOTTOM: The Ticker staff discusses the next issue.

The Guild Ticker, the official publication of the College of Business Administration, was first published in 1937.

Published twice each year, its aim is to provide articles of interest to the students in the college, and to provide valuable practical experience for the students who work on the staff.

About 900 copies are distributed to the students in the college and 450 copies to businessmen, other colleges, and to high schools in the state. This practice, the staff feels, helps build good relations between the college and the businessmen in the state, and encourages high school students to attend the University of Arkansas.

The editor of the 1953-54 Guild Ticker was Mary Middleton. Bill Randall served as Business Manager.

Bill was assisted by Jim Poe, Mike Chitwood, and Gene Gross as Associate Business Managers; and Brad Kidder and Paul Randall as Advertising Managers. Patsy Jones served as Advertising Secretary.

ARKANSAS AGRICULTURIST

Everyone is absorbed in the latest issue of the Agriculturist.

TOP: JIM ATKINSON, Editor

BOTTOM: Editor Atkinson points out work to be done as everyone gathers around the typewriter.

The Arkansas Agriculturist is the official student and faculty voice of the College of Agriculture, and has been published since 1924. The magazine was published four times this year by the students in the College, and contains articles and feature material of interest and guidance to Agriculture and Home Economics students.

One of the most popular and most thoroughly read pages in the Agriculturist is "Grunts and Squeals," the joke page where all the chuckles circulating around Ag School are concentrated.

The Dean's Page was another regular feature which has run in the magazine this year. In each issue there appeared on this page a message to the students written by either Dean Lippert S. Ellis or Assistant Dean G. T. Hudson. This section has become an important link between the students and the deans.

Other features of the magazine this year have been a series of articles written by farm boys and girls who were exchange students to some foreign country and Ag Spotlight which denotes the outstanding students and faculty members within the College of Agriculture.

The traditional pink-covered issue of the Agriculturist, published in April, was the biggest and most important issue of the year, and highlighted the thirty-ninth anniversary of Agri Day. This issue was devoted to the departments, clubs, and Agri Day activities.

The Agriculturist is financed both by national and local ads plus a proportion of ASA dues. It is sponsored by the Agri Students Association, and the Editor, Associate Editor, and Business Manager are selected by ASA each year prior to Agri Day.

ARKANSAS ENGINEER

The business staff checks the ledgers.

TOP: JIM COLLIER, Editor

BOTTOM: The editor takes a look at some new copy.

The Arkansas Engineer is the official magazine of the College of Engineering and is published quarterly. Its origin dates back to 1912, although it was a number of years later before the magazine became a continuous publication.

The Engineer is a member of the Engineering College Magazines Associated, composed of over fifty members who regularly exchange their individual issues. The association holds annual conventions for the purpose of improving editorial style, financial management, layout, and general appeal.

During the past year, the staff has devoted issues to the Freshmen, the High School Seniors, the "Erin Go Braughs" on Engineers' Day, and the Seniors, and has attempted to design their covers accordingly. The Engineers' Day issue is always the most interesting because it contains pictures of Saint Pat and Saint Patricia, her Maids of Honor, the scenes from Post, coronation ceremonies and the Banquet, with beard-growing and "golden chicken" awards to the instructors. The Engineer is designed to appeal to all engineers, regardless of their major. For instance, the most popular features are "Engine Ears" and "Cracked Retorts"—joke pages, of course. Some of the other features are "Recent Reports," which gives the latest technical developments in industry; "Engine House News," which tells the latest activities of the departmental organizations, as well as the professional and honorary engineering groups. Another interesting feature is "Ark Lites," a pictorial page of interesting scenes in industry.

Feature articles by outstanding guest editors have included "Communism and the College Student," by J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI, and "What an Employer Expects of a Graduate Engineer," by Marion Crist, an outstanding Consulting Engineer here in the state.

Although the Engineer is primarily for the engineering students, it is mailed to almost all of the high schools throughout Arkansas, and to a limited number of subscribers.

BOARD OF PUBLICATIONS

The Board of Student Publications is a committee set up by the constitution of Associated Students for the purpose of regulation and control of all campus publications. The board is authorized to accept bids and award contracts on the all-campus publications and to elect the editors of the Traveler, RAZORBACK and A Book. It also names the Business Managers of the Traveler and RAZORBACK. The board approves salaries of editors, business managers and other important staff positions on the all-school publications.

Membership on the board is set up in the following way: The editor of the Traveler is automatically chairman, the editor of the RAZORBACK and president of the Press Club are permanent members. The president of the university appoints two faculty members each year: One from the journalism faculty and one other. The president of Associated students each year appoints one faculty member and one member of the Student Senate to the board. In addition to these, two more seats are filled each year by two of the four editors of the Law Review, Engineer, Guild Ticker and Agriculturist. These are appointed by the president of the university and serve only one year.

The Arts

The Razorback Band lines up in a flying wedge for the fanfare at half-time at Memphis.

The Razorback Marching Hundred

The Drum Major and Majorettes line up. They are Martha Berry, Mary Clair Massy, Bob Griffin, Patsy Gross, and Signa Shoffner.

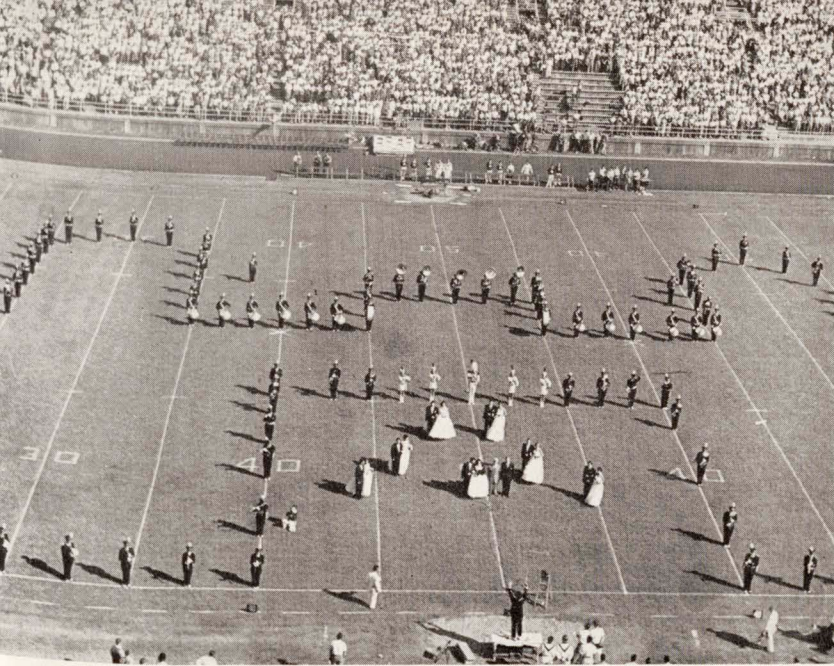

The Arkansas Band was given a new name this year by Director E. J. Marty. He named it the Razorback "Marching Hundred." This was the first year that the band has ever marched as many as one hundred musicians on the field.

The band made several out-of-town trips with the football team — including two trips to Little Rock and a journey to Memphis for the Arkansas-Ole Miss game. The "Marching 100" appeared for the first time in Memphis in front of television cameras — and on a nation-wide telecast, too. The fast-marching group also appeared in the Homecoming parade, and played for all the pep rallies and "send-offs."

The band is the spark at every football game, basketball game, pep rally, and parade at which they participate. None of these Arkansas activities are ever complete without the "Marching 100."

At the present time, the band is looking forward to the trip to New York City on July 7-10. They were selected to represent the Arkansas Lions' Club at their international convention. The climax of the event will be when the band appears in Madison Square Garden for the final rally.

The Band forms an outline of Old Main as a frame for the Homecoming coronation.

The Arkansas State Police provided an escort from Morrilton to Little Rock for the band.

CHORAL ORGANIZATIONS

The Collegiate Singers is a sixty voice concert choir which represents the University throughout Arkansas and surrounding states. It is a well organized and trained group which has as its goal the raising of the standards of choral music in the state. This program is carried on through an annual concert tour and several on-campus concerts. Mr. Herrold E. Headley, the able director, is constantly striving to still further improve the quality of work produced by the group. Membership in the Collegiate Singers is an honor sought by every student interested in vocal music. The Choir is a tightly knit group of singers who have passed a vocal audition given by Mr. Headley and have been accepted on their personal merits by the organization.

The Collegiate Singers gave a concert in the Concert Hall of the Fine Arts Center on a Sunday afternoon in early fall.

The Central Methodist Church Choir Loft holds the University Choir in the afternoon presentation of Handel's "Messiah."
A night performance also was given.

The newly formed Women's Chorus holds a rehearsal.

Harold Headly directs the chorus in its presentation of the "Messiah."

The Capulet and Montague factions have it out in one of the many duels in "Romeo."

Blackfriars PROVIDE DRAMA

Everything must stop at tea time . . . even the saving of humanity.

The University Theatre's season this year included seven full-scale productions, one of these being experimental.

The opening play was "The Curious Savage," by John Patrick. The next, "Romeo and Juliet," played during the Southwest Theatre Conference, which attracted people from several states, including Louisiana, Texas, Missouri, Oklahoma and New Mexico. The guest speaker for the Conference was Arthur Miller, author of "Death of a Salesman" and "The Crucible."

Thornton Wilder's "Skin of Our Teeth" came next, and was followed by "Madwoman of Chaillot" by Jean Giraudoux. An English play, "An Inspector Calls" by Priestley was the only "theatre-in-the-round" production of the year.

The experimental production, "Miss Emma," was student produced and directed. "Miss Emma" was adapted from a Jane Austin novel of the same title by Dr. Robert Morris of the English department, author of last year's "Giant From the South."

"Goodbye, My Fancy," a comedy by Fay Kanin was the last production of the 1953-54 season.

Everyone went berserk in the "Madwoman," even the buildings.

"Miss Atlantic City" parades on the Boardwalk in "Skin of Our Teeth."

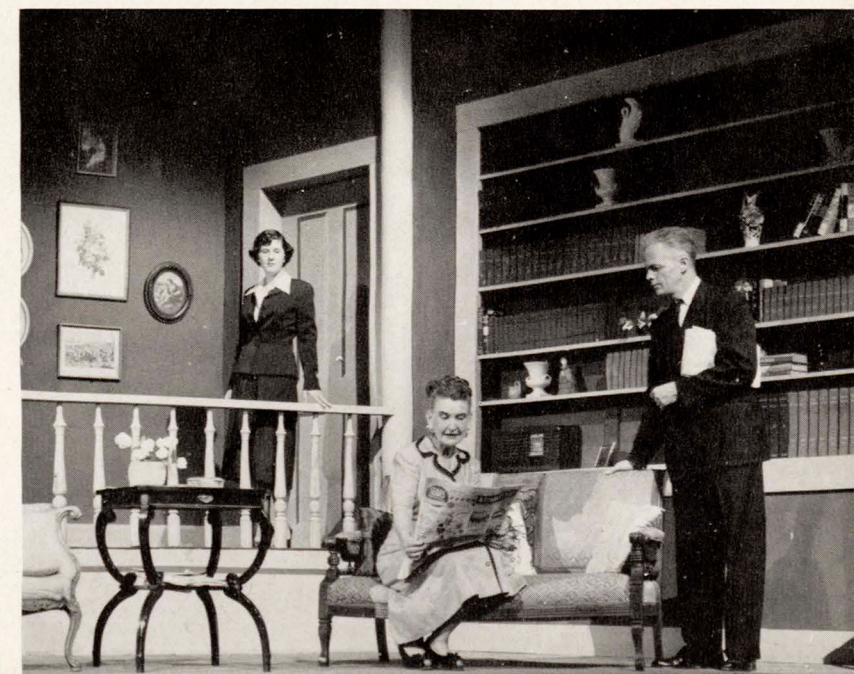

The mystery of "money, money, who has the money" is solved in "The Curious Savage."

JOHN H. BARNHILL, Director of Athletics

In his eighth year as Director of Athletics is John Barnhill, former All-Southeastern Conference guard. When Coach Barnhill graduated from Tennessee in 1928, he left an outstanding football and track record behind him. Barnhill was head coach at Arkansas from 1946-1949.

RAZORBACK COACHES

As Athletic Director, John Barnhill has overall control and responsibility for the athletics at the University of Arkansas. He has set up a two fold policy of putting football on a sound basis so as to invite the attention of all Arkansas and broadening the overall athletic program to encompass as many activities as possible. Both of these things have been done since he arrived in 1946.

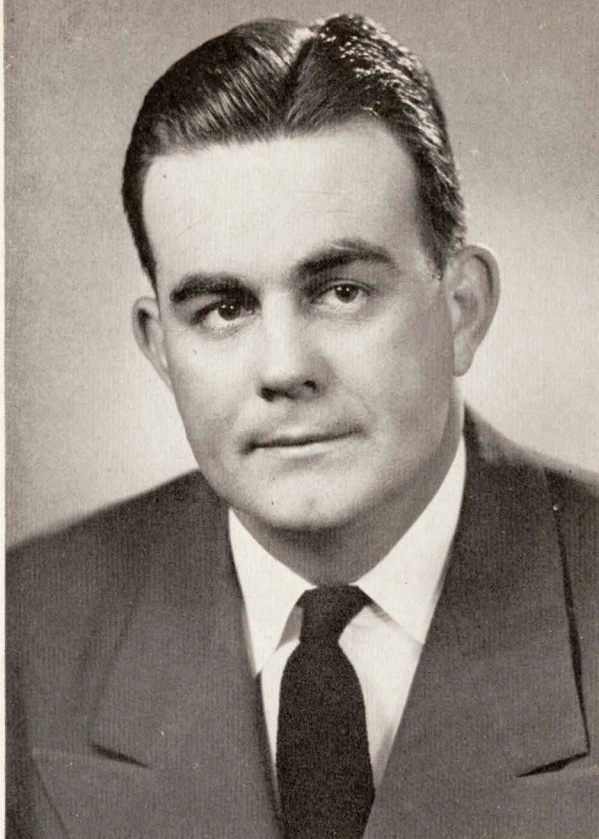

Bowden Wyatt's responsibility is football. He has a large staff of assistants. George Cole is now entering his 20th year at Arkansas. He graduated in 1928 and returned to the coaching staff at his alma mater six years later. Much of his work has involved scouting. Dick Hitt has been coaching with Wyatt for 11 years, first joining him at Mississippi State. George Cafego and John Baily were teammates of Wyatt at Tennessee. Cafego coaches backfield and Baily works with men at all positions. LeRoy Pearce played under Wyatt at Wyoming and then came to Arkansas with him. Tracy Scott, an Arkansas graduate has worked with the Shoats. Bill Ferrell serves as trainer and baseball coach.

Glen Rose coached the basketball team to a winning season. Before leaving Arkansas in 1946 Rose had coached both football and basketball, and before that had been an outstanding athlete here. Norm Price, a recent Razorback coached freshman basketball.

Mrs. Goldie Jones has completed over 25 years of service at the University and handled the many tickets for athletic events. Bob Cheyne directed sports publicity for the sixth year.

BACK ROW: Bill Berrell, John Baily, LeRoy Pearce.

BOWDEN WYATT, Head Football Coach

Coach Wyatt came to Fayetteville this year from Wyoming. His formula for football success is: Good conditioning breeds good team morale, and with the two, victories will follow.

GLEN ROSE, Head Basketball Coach

Coach Rose returned to the University last year after having left in 1946. Rose was a member of winning Razorback teams in the thirties and coached here during the war years.

Cheerleaders HELP BUILD SPIRIT

Arkansas' cheerleaders this year include five vivacious girls and four equally spirited boys. Wherever the Razorback team appeared, there also were the cheerleaders, representing the spirit of the Arkansas student body.

From flips in the mud in Little Rock's memorial stadium, to calling the Hogs in Memphis' Peabody Hotel through pep rallies in the Greek Theatre, this crew was there.

OKLAHOMA A & M - 7

A crowd of 22,000 fans were on hand to see the newest version of Razorbacks go down fighting in a 7-6 loss to Oklahoma A&M Aggies.

Even though the Hogs were defeated, they gained admiration from the coaches and fans for their spirited and rugged playing.

Early in the first quarter the Cowboy's flashy Indian halfback, "Pawnee Bill" Bredde, cut back through the right tackle for a 77 yard touchdown run and Quarterback Andrews kicked the point that meant victory.

The Cowboys maintained their early 7 point lead through three quarters and not until the final period did the Razorbacks go all the way on a 50 yard passing attack for the score.

The Hogs opened their drive with McHan returning a 23 yard punt to reach the mid-stripe. McHan passed to Sagely for 11 yard, but the Porker end dropped the ball as he turned down field recovering it on the Aggie 39.

McHan again went back to pass and completed to Reginelli, behind the fine blocking of Guard Bud Brooks. The play covered 22 yards.

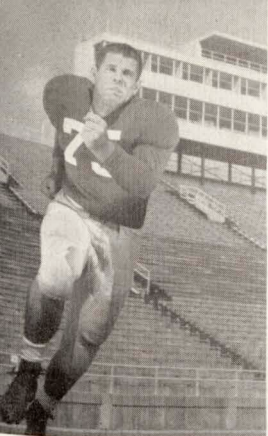

McHan was stopped on a sweep, making only a yard as the quarter ended. As the teams changed ends, the crowd gave the Razorbacks a tremendous cheer for their fighting spirit.

McHan fired a sharp pass to Sagely for 13 yards, down to the two. McHan gained one more yard on a plunge over guard. Then with the ball on the one yard line, McHan dived over tackle for the touchdown. McHan's try for conversion was wide and the Hogs could never make up the difference.

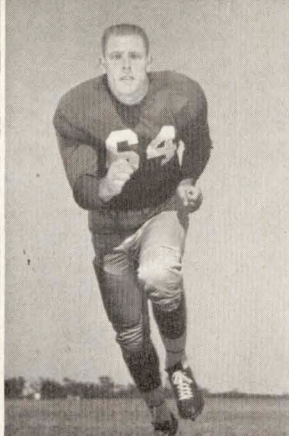

It was the Hogs' own miscues that piled up against them time and again. Nine penalties came mostly at critical moments, but Porker receivers failed to hold passes from McHan, and eight fumbles were costly. The Aggies had eleven penalties for 70 yards.

The game was a highly creditable performance for Bowden Wyatt's single-wings, as they never gave up fighting.

ARKANSAS-13 — T C U-6

Taking an early lead, the Razorbacks tromped the favored Texas Christian University, 13 to 6, in their opening contest of the Southwest Conference campaign.

Workhorse McHan ran or passed 36 times for 222 yards as the tough, hard-charging Hogs clicked for two TDs and a 13-0 halftime lead.

Time and again TCU tossed away chances when they were well past midfield, on poor pitchouts, fumbles, dropped passes and penalties.

Arkansas won the toss and elected to receive.

McHan and Moore went to the 34 yard line on three power plays. Reginelli made four more, but the Razorbacks were off-side and set back to the 29. McHan hit Carpenter on a running pass play for nine to the 38. Moore added another yard.

Then McHan smashed through left tackle and broke into the clear. He was overhauled and pushed out of bounds on the TCU seven. It was a 54 yard sprint.

Moore carried the ball twice into the middle to put the ball on the four. McHan hit right tackle to reach the one. Moore then hurdled the line for the score. McHan's kick was blocked and the Hogs led 6-0.

The Razorback final score came in the second quarter.

After several runs by McHan and a pass to Thomason, McHan fired a 25 yard pass to Sagely on the two yard line, where he fell into the end zone with a defender on his back.

Long came in to convert and put Arkansas ahead 13 to 0.

TCU's only score resulted from a pass from McKnown to Robinson. The Porker forward wall blocked the attempt for the extra point.

Duncan (76), Matthews (89), with a host of unidentified Razorbacks throw McKnown (49) for a sizeable loss. Coming up to assist is Gilliam (61).

ARKANSAS - 7 BAYLOR - 14

The surprised Baylor Bears fought hard to come from behind to cop a 14-7 victory from the upset-minded Razorbacks.

It was a very surprised Baylor team at the end of the first half of play. The Razorbacks had an upset in the making, with a 7-0 lead over the eighth-ranked team in the nation.

It was the famous backfield of the Bears that meant disaster to the Hogs in the second half of the game. The powerful ball carriers led by quarterback Davidson spotted Arkansas' weakness and blasted two TD's and two extra points for the 14-7 triumph.

The thin Arkansas line stood fast to stop many of the powerful Bruin drives. Guard Harold Spain and center Jim Cauthron led the Porker line in their defense stands.

Both teams had numerous opportunities to scratch paydirt, but failed to tally, as strong defenses tightened when the opposition was in sight of the goal line.

During the second period Arkansas brought the first blood.

To start things off, Davidson passed to end Am-yet for 15 yards to the Hog 39. On the next play Davidson passed again but this time Floyd Sagely intercepted on the Arkansas 36 and returned it to the Bear 34 yardline for a 31 yard gallop. Spear-headed by the passes and running of tailback Lamar McHan, in six plays the Razorbacks broke the scoring ice. A pass that covered 18 yards from McHan to end Jerry Bogard ended in a TD.

Francis Long came in to convert and the Porkers were out in front 7-0.

Coody took McHan's kick on the fifteen and returned it to the Baylor 43 yard marker to start the second half.

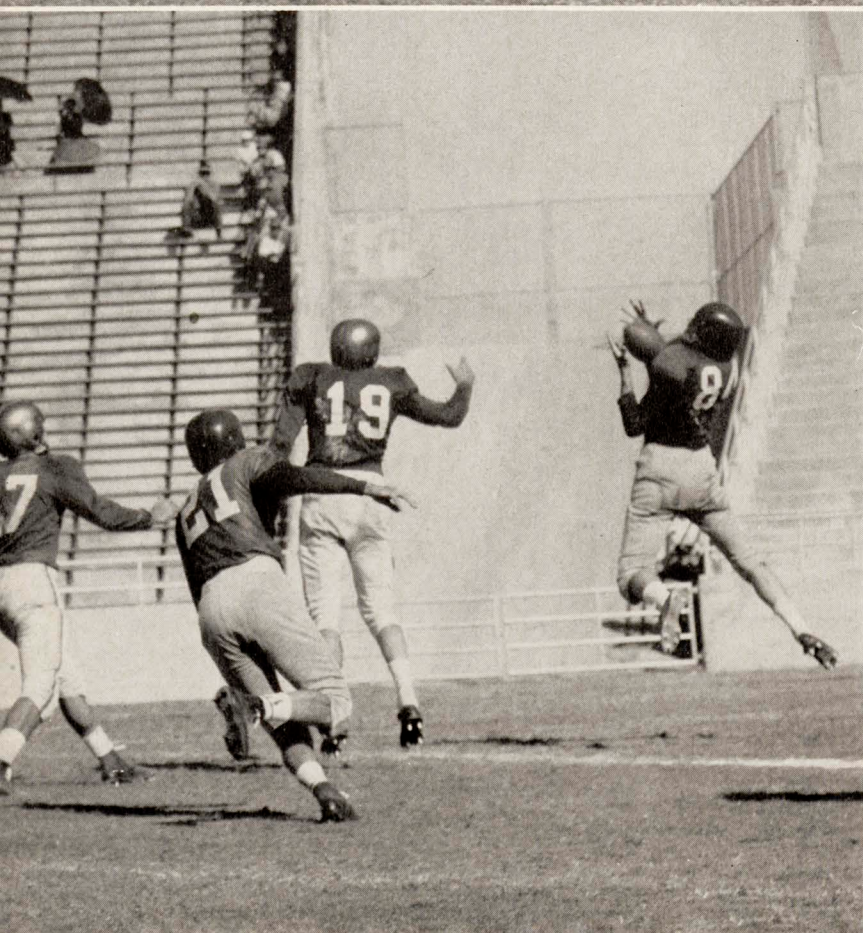

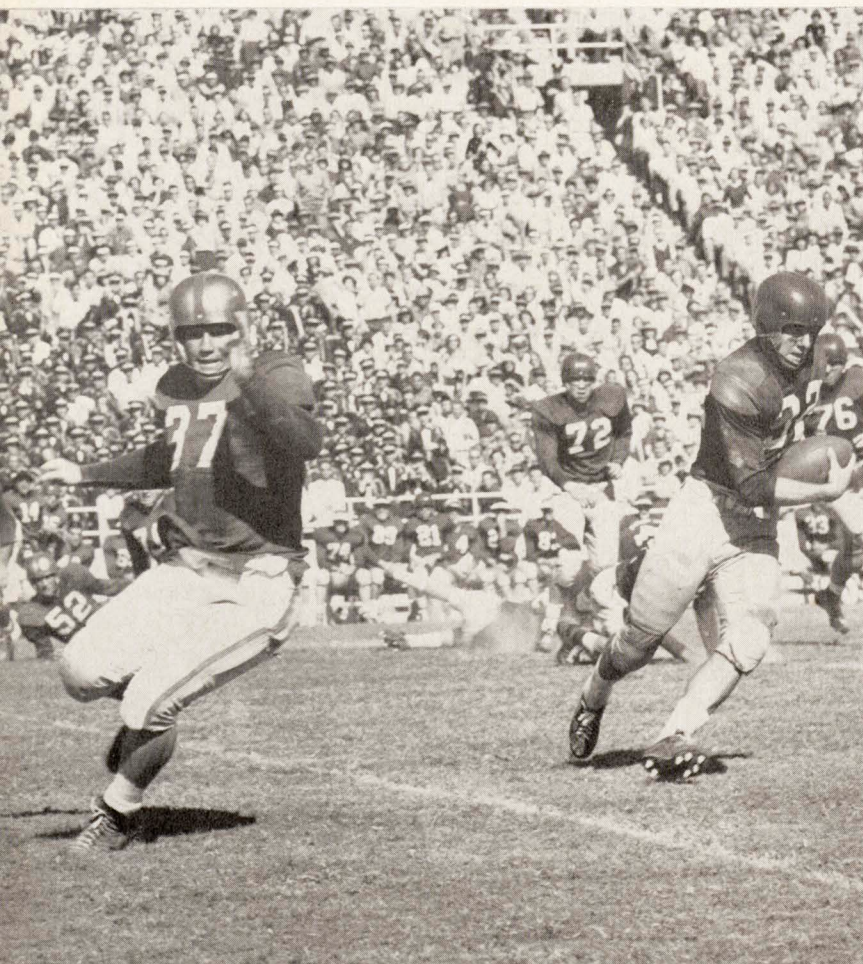

Three plays later Allan Jones hit the center of the Arkansas line and cut to the right sidelines. Twisting and turning, Jones fought his way to the Arkansas three yard line. Minutes later Jones crashed over from the two yard line for the first Baylor TD.

Arkansas fought all the way, one time going to the Baylor 11 yard line before the Bear's defense could stop the attack.

With just 2 minutes and 45 seconds remaining in the game Davidson passed to Hopkins from five yards out to put the Bears out front to stay.

Smith converted for the second time and Baylor lead 14-7.

To hold the eighth-ranked team in the nation to a seven point victory proved what good hard football the Razorbacks played.

ARKANSAS - 7 — TEXAS - 16

Texas depth too much, as fresh reserves take over to defeat the Porkers 16-7, and damper the Homecoming celebration.

The fresh substitutes of the University of Texas were too much for the grim Arkansas Razorbacks.

Captain Troillett elected to kickoff. The Hogs booted, and stopped the Steers cold, forcing them to punt.

The Porkers took over, deep in their own territory. After going into Texas soil, the referee marked off a penalty against the Hogs.

McHan's quick-kick of 67 yards rolled dead on the Texas three. This put the Long Horns in the hole, and moments later set the Hogs up for a break.

Floyd Sagely recovered a Long Horn fumble on the Steer's 29, which brought the Homecoming spectators to their feet.

The Hogs drove to the Steer's 14 behind the running of McHan and his passes to Reginelli and Proctor. But, the Hog's attack stalled and the Steers took over.

The Steers began to move but were lassoed when McHan intercepted a pass. Again, the Porker offense failed and the Longhorns took over on their own 19.

Then the Porkers were caught in a Long Horn stampede.

Led by the quarterbacking of Andrews and the fine running of Robinson and Cameron, the Steers took advantage of a slumping Razorback eleven. In eight plays the Long Horns moved the ball 81 yards for their first touchdown.

After a successful conversion, they kicked off to the Porkers. The Hog attack almost connected, but on a 14 yard gain Reginelli fumbled.

Taking over on the Porker 31, the Steers powered goalward. Moments later Andrews passed to Cameron for another Texas TD.

The Razorbacks got the ball again in that jinxed second quarter, only to have a punt blocked clear out of the Hog end zone, for an automatic safety, and two more Texas points.

In the final period of play the Porkers surged for a touchdown. Lamar McHan carried the burden all the way, except for a one-yard plunge by Johnson Gunn. The final run was from six yards out, when McHan circled end for the TD.

Francis Long came in to relieve McHan, and kick the extra point to make the score 16-7.

Brooks (64) dives at the Texas fullback, Cameron (34). Closing in from behind is Proctor (17).

MISSISSIPPI - 28

Before a crowd of 27,000, the powerful Mississippi Rebels completely outclassed the Arkansas Razorbacks for a 28-0 verdict.

The Old Miss eleven marched up and down the gridiron in typical Rebel fashion. The powerful line along with the hard running backfield, commanded by quarterback Leo Paslay, made a very sad day for the Ozark Hogs.

It was Arkansas' own mistakes and fumbles that defeated them. Arkansas' backs fumbled the pig-skin eight times. It seemed these fumbles came in the most crucial moments. When the Razorbacks were threatening the Rebel's 'T' formation worked like a charm. The quick opening plays had the Hogs completely fooled. Time and again Lofton, McCoal, and Kinard broke loose for sizeable gains. Lofton broke loose for an 87 yard gallop.

The Rebels took the opening kickoff and were forced to punt. McHan brought it back for yardage. The Hogs threatened, but penalties killed the drive and McHan punted.

Starting on their own 45, the Rebels scored in six tries. Paslay tossed to Lofton for 40 yards, to the Hog 15. Hard running McCoal fought to the Hog goal-line, and halfback Kinard plunged over for the score. With the conversion the Rebels led 7-0, with just five minutes gone in the first quarter of play.

The second Old Miss tally came in the third quarter. Reginelli fumbled on the Porker 32, and the Johnny Rebs romped past the Hog defenses for their second TD and extra point, to increase the lead 14-0.

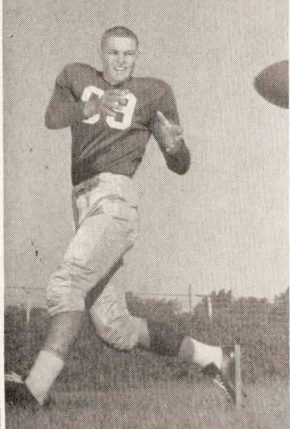

In the final frame Lofton set sail on an 87 yard scamper for a six-pointer, and quarterback Paslay connected another TD toss with eight seconds remaining to make the final score 28-0.

Porker's outstanding players were Eddie Bradford and Jim Cauthron in the line and Henry Moore and Lamar McHan in the backfield. McHan completed five passes for 97 yards and ran for 51 more.

ARKANSAS - 41 — TEXAS A & M - 14

Uncaged offense and iron curtain defense was displayed by the Razorbacks as they passed and ran to perfection to humiliate the bewildered cadets of Texas A&M, 41-14.

Going into the game as seven-point underdogs, the Razorbacks displayed great spirit and determination to crumble the Aggies for a great upset victory.

The first score of the game resulted from a 70 yard drive sparked by the passing and running of McHan and his sophomore aid, Moore. McHan elected to run the remaining four yards around left end for the tally. This put the Razorbacks ahead 6-0, with just a few minutes gone in the opening quarter. But, the Hogs didn't have it all the way in the first quarter. The Aggies, behind Ellis, scored from 23 yards out and went ahead 7-6.

Early in the second period the Razorbacks took over when McHan flipped a TD pass to Sagely for 16 yards and to Thomason for 53. McHan also took over the conversions, kicking the first two of his four to make it 20-7 at the end of the first half.

The Razorbacks showed real power in the third period, going 78 yards to score on McHan's two yard plunge. After a 30 yard drive, Moore powered over for another six points.

McHan added two more extra points to make the score 34-7, and then the regulars retired.

Billy Pickens took over as the Arkansas field general and passed to blocking back, Preston Carpenter, for the final Hog tally. Nix converted to make the score 41-7.

Magourik added another touchdown for the Aggies to complete the final score 41-14.

Arkansas' great offense racked up 25 first downs and 445 total yards rushing, while holding the Aggies to 15 first downs and 211 net yards. The most astounding statistic was the passing record of McHan and Pickens. They completed 12 straight passes from the second period in to the fourth. McHan hit 11 of 13 and Pickens connected with 4 of 4.

The whole Porker forward wall along with the two linebackers, Carpenter and Proctor, were in the Aggie backfield play after play.

Due to McHan's outstanding performance, he was named, "Back of the Week," for the nation.

Forrester (86), Roth (67), and Moore (30) open the way for McHan (37) against the Cadets of Texas A. & M.

RICE - 47

Terrific playing by the Owl's forwards lambusted the Razorback defenses to take a very decisive 47-0 victory.

The loss was very stunning to the Razorbacks after their fine exhibition against Texas A&M the week before.

The tremendous Owl line was the main cog in the Institute's scoring machine. All-American candidates for the Owls smashed through the Porker wall to wreck the Razorback offense.

Time and again the Owl's favorite T-formation stutter play worked perfectly. The owls used it to rack up 505 yards rushing and seven touchdowns.

The Owls began their first drive from their own 24. It took just 13 plays for the Owls to score their first tally. On the second play, Moeagle, who gained 201 yards, broke open for 36 yards. Again Moeagle added 11 more. On the fourth down, quarterback Grantham passed to Crawford for the score.

The Hogs came back strangely after the kickoff, but lost the ball on Rice's 22 yard line on a fumble.

After that the Hogs stalled and never again were in the game. Rice roared on to three tallies in the second period, two in the third, and one in the fourth.

The second Rice tally came after a 50-yard gallop by Moeagle down to the four. Johnson, the Owl's great fullback, carried it over.

Moments later Johnson plunged across for the Owl's third score of the game. A new runner, Garbrecht, set up the fourth touchdown and then took it over himself.

In the last half, Rice really poured it on. With Rice subs in the game, the Hogs were still off balance. Wyatt also cleared his bench.

In the final half, Moeagle ripped off 23 yards for a quick score. Then a 60 yard drive was climaxed by Nesrsta, who scooted across from the eleven yard line.

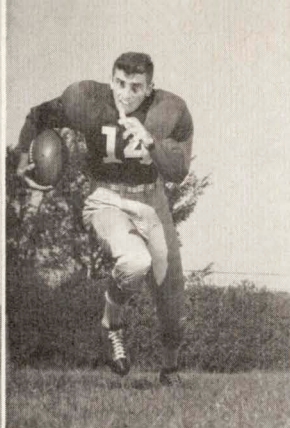

Late in the third quarter, Nesrsta again drove for another tally. With half of the final period gone, Laviage romped fourteen yards for the TD. This ended the offensive show.

Melton only added 105 yards to his offensive total. Sagely caught four passes to add to his building record.

The Porkers were hurt by the absence of Bobby Proctor, who was out with a bad leg.

For three hard fought quarters the Arkansas Razorbacks scrapped the favored Southern Methodist University before conceiving a heart-breaking defeat, 13-7.

This loss marked Arkansas' 15th consecutive loss on Texas soil and left the Hogs with a 2-4 conference record.

Although outweighed the inspired Arkansas defense stopped the powerful SMU drives time after time.

The Porkers shifted their offense into a spread and tightened their defense. As a result, they confused the Mustangs and surprised the bewildered crowd of 26,500.

Arkansas' scoring threat started when Bud Brooks blocked a Mustang punt and the Hogs covered on our own 39 yard line.

Pass plays from McHan to Sagely and line plunges of Henry Moore took the ball to the three yard line.

Then on the fourth down, McHan ran wide to his left and passed to Sagely. But the officials ruled he was out of the end zone line, therefore ruled no good.

SMU took over and punted out to their 49 yard line where McHan brought it back 11 yards to the Hog's 40 yard line.

A pass to Sagely netted 21 yards. Thomason added five on a reverse, reaching the 14. On a spread, McHan passed into the end zone. Forrester tipped the ball into the hands of Carpenter for a touchdown.

McHan converted to make the score 7-6 with a minute remaining in the first quarter.

SMU scoring resulted from pass plays with end Nix receiving both passes.

Outstanding playing by Spain, Bradford, Roth, Carpenter, Graves, and Brooks, figured for the Hogs' tight defense.

McHan added 107 yards running and passing to continue to lead the Southwest in total offense, and Sagely caught two passes, running his catch total to 22 for the season.

ARKANSAS - 8 — LSU - 9

Fourth-period drives for the Razorbacks failed just inches short of the payoff touchdown, as the Louisiana State University Tigers held on for a 9-8 decision.

The Hogs' forward wall sparked by Rath, Brooks, Spain, Bradford, Warren and Forrester, broke through several times to throw the Bengals back for losses.

LSU took the opening kickoff, and after two plunges by the Tiger fullback, Dagget passed to halfback Gonzales for a 27 yard gain to the Hog 39.

Again the Bengals hit the line with three more bucks down to the 23. Halfback Meyer was spilled for a seven yard loss by Forrester, and after the drive had been apparently stopped, pass interference was ruled against Arkansas and LSU attained an easy first down on the Porker 13.

Marchand, the Tiger's big fullback, drove for seven, and after Brooks stopped Gonzales for no gain, Marchand plunged to the Arkansas two. From there halfback Brancato dived for the score.

The Porkers brought the kickoff back to their 27, and after being checked, kicked back. The Tigers came back to Hog territory, but were checked and Dagget punted into the end zone.

The Hogs failed to move the ball, and McHan kicked out of bounds on the Bengal five. Brooks, Bradford, and Spain stopped two Bengal rushing tries. On the next play the Hog forwards rushed in on Dagget as he attempted to punt, blocking his try. The ball bounded into the endzone. Rath quickly covered it for a Razorback touchdown.

McHan's kick was swept wide by the powerful cross wind, and the game remained tied, 6-6.

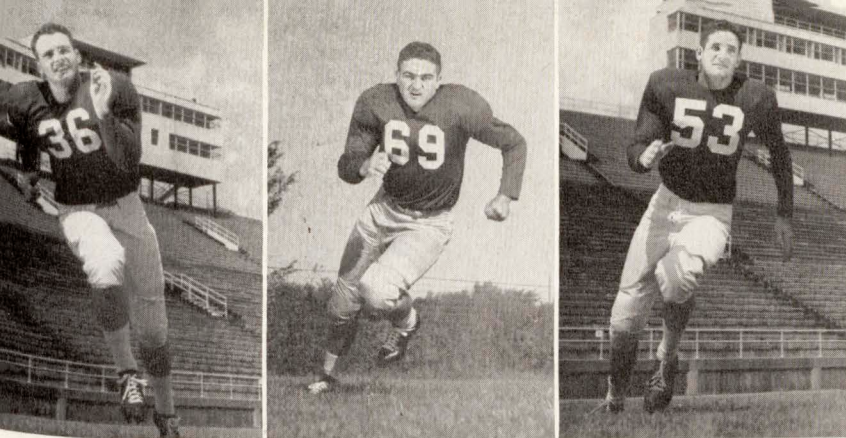

In the second period the LSU Tigers went deep into Poker territory, led by quarterback Turner and fullback Marchand. When the drive stalled on the Arkansas 22, fullback Tommy Davis kicked a terrific 32 yard field goal.

In the third quarter, neither club was able to move convincingly, and rain began to come down harder, which favored the Tigers.

The Porkers scored once more on an intentional safety by the Tigers. The final score ended 9-8, with LSU on top.

The LSU Tiger line tightens up to stop the Porkers just short of a touchdown. Arkansas players are Cauthron (51), Warren (36), and Thomason (26).

ARKANSAS - 27 TULSA - 7

The football era for many seniors came to an end as the Razorbacks, behind the passing of McHan, decided the Tulsa Golden Hurricanes, 27-7.

Seniors, playing their last game, were: Harold Spain, Ron Forrester, Buster Graves, Earl Warren, Ralph Troillett, Edsel Nix, Red Warren, Charlie Hallum, Chuck Ramsey, Jim Foreman, David Lashley, Jerry Bogard, Floyd Sagely, Billy Pickens, and Lamar McHan. These boys had the fighting spirit that made the Hogs superior from the opening whistle of the game to the last.

Arkansas opened its attack by returning the opening kick-off to its own 25, and 15 plays later the Hogs took a 7-0 lead. Following the opening kick, McHan and Moore carried the ball to the Hurricane 36. McHan connected with Sagely for 20 yards, and another pass to Reginelli, put the Hogs on the Tulsa two-yard line with a first down.

It took four downs before McHan fired another pass, this time to blocking back, Preston Carpenter, for the touchdown. Carpenter caught six passes and scored two touchdowns for a very impressive afternoon's performance.

Bob Gilliam set up the next Arkansas tally by covering a Hurricane fumble on the Arkansas 40-yard line. Again, McHan took to the air attack to connect with Sagely, once for 15 yards and another for 26, to furnish the key plays on the second TD march. Again McHan completed a five-yard pass to Carpenter for the tally.

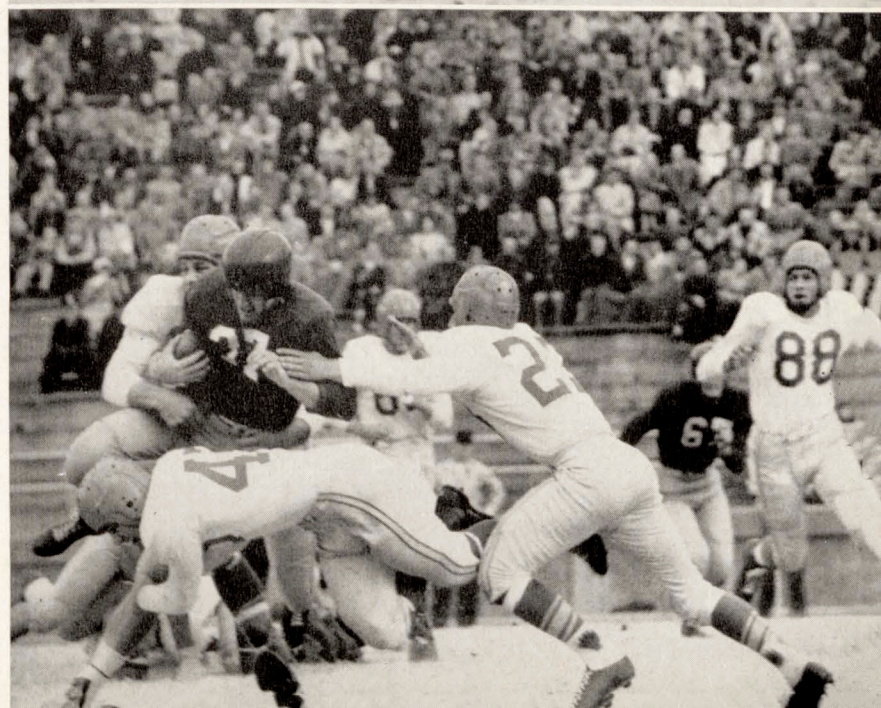

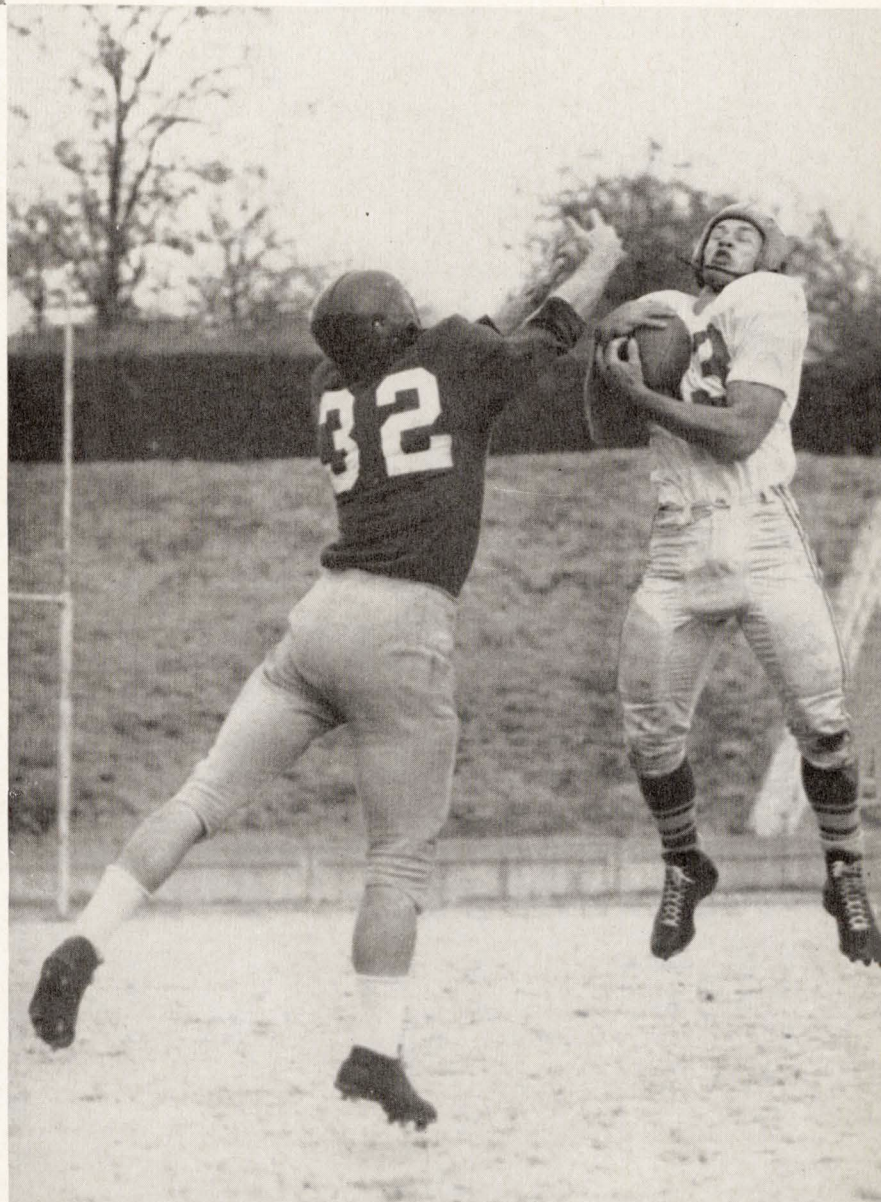

With the fine passing of McHan, the Razorbacks rambled to the one-yard line, where Moore powered over for the third Porker TD.

The third quarter saw the Hogs score again. After an exchange of kicks, one a 68-yard quick kick by McHan, the Razorbacks took over on the Hurricane 47.

Sagely took two passes from McHan for the final touchdown—the first toss of 20 yards and the second of 27—to end the performance for each player. McHan booted three of four extra points.

McHan placed in the top three total-offense performers in the nation. Sagely was second highest receiver in Razorback history.

The day was dark and cloudy as the Shoats scored a win against Oklahoma A&M in their only Fayetteville appearance of the year.

The freshman football team with their heavy line and fast backfield will contribute to the success of the Razorbacks in the coming years.

The forwards, led by Jerry Ford, Richard Hardwick, Jim Atkins, Greg Pinkston and Neil Martin, opened the way for the ball carriers and put up a stiff defense. Olan Burns and Billy Ray Smith were on the snagging end of the passes of tailback George Walker.

Walker carried most of the burden in the backfield. He is a 185-pound speedster who broke loose for several long gains. Rounding out the backfield was Ronald Underwood at wingback, Bill Gideon at blocking back, and Rogers Overby at fullback.

In the first outing, the Shoats were defeated by Little Rock J. C., 27-22.

Penalties proved costly to the Freshmen, who were penalized 125 yards. Off-side was called 14 times on the Baby Porkers.

Tailback George Walker and Bennie Berry completed 11 of 22 pass tries for the Shoats. Walker and Berry also ran a "TD" apiece and both kicked extra points. Jerry Ford took a fumble out of the air to score the other Shoat TD.

Gaining experience as the season matured, the Shoats, sparked by George Walker, stopped Oklahoma A&M frosh, 28-18.

Walker passed to Underwood and Smith for two tallies, ran one himself, and set up another score by his brilliant running.

Still on the move, the Frosh showed power and skill while rolling over the Tulsa frosh, 28-13.

Walker was a constant threat to the Tulsa eleven, netting 115 yards and five completions out of nine tries.

Underwood latched onto four passes for two touchdowns.

The Shoat line was sparked by Pinkston, Martin, Adkins, Hardwick, Ford, and Smith. The forwards made terrific tackles, making the Tulsa backs fumble. This was a big factor in the victory.

Arkansas and Tulsa freshman roundballers stare as the ball gets away from them.

Hands shot up and the Shoats and Trojans fight for a rebound.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

Coach Norman Price's freshman eaglers finished the 1953-1954 campaign with a four won, eight lost record out of 12 starts.

The Shoats tallied 790 markers for an average of 65.9 per game, while the opposition racked up 773 points against the Shoat defense for a 64.4 average per contest.

Terry Day, 6-3 freshman from Magnolia, paced the Shoats in scoring honors. In 12 contests, Day accounted for 66 field goals and 35 free tosses for a total of 167 points. This gave him an average of 14 points per game.

Joe Dickson from Little Rock was close behind Day in the scoring column. In 11 starts, Dickson tallied 12.5 points per contest. Dickson missed one game due to an injured foot received before the Aggie game.

Larry Head, the 6-1 jump shot artist from Fayetteville, was third in the race with 129 tallies. Head hit 50 field goals and 29 free throws, which gives him a 10.7 average per game.

Ferrell Trout was next with 116 markers. Close behind Trout was Stanley Williams with 112 points.

Sixth in the race was Charlie Brown, the 6-9 lad from Walnut Ridge. Brown finished with a 5.2 average per game.

The Freshmen, after a slow start, rounded into mid-season form and took four out of their last five games.

Opening the season, the Shoats were defeated by Tulsa Freshmen, 52-36.

On the home court the Freshmen trounced the Little Rock J. C. five, 81-61; lost to Joplin J. C., 63-

Rounding into form, the Shoats set a record for the freshmen of Arkansas by mauling the Beebe J. C., 100-62.

After dropping games to Conner's Oklahoma Aggies, 76-60, and Miller's Jewelers, 81-72, the Shoats defeated Conner's Oklahoma Aggies, 61-43, and Joplin J. C., 73-64.

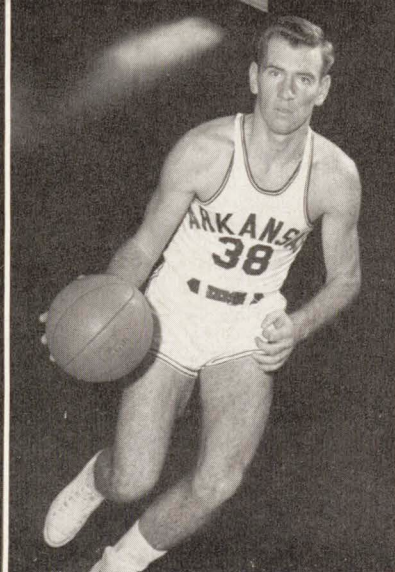

The Freshmen scored 800 points to the opponents' 784.

The University of Arkansas basketballers, under the second year coaching of Glenn Rose, finished the 1953-54 season with a 13 won, 10 lost mark. In conference play the Razorbacks finished in a third place tie with a six won and six lost record.

The Razorbacks were hot and cold through the season, although along the last of the season the Hogs showed considerable improvement in team playing. One of the big factors was the improvement of Jerald Barnett, Floyd Sagely, Raymond Shaw, Orval Elkins, and Norman Smith.

Gerald Barnett, the 6-0 sophomore from Harrison, led the Razorback scoring with a total of 225 tallies for the season. Barnett hit 81 field goals and 63 free tosses for a 9.8 season record. Barnett is tied with Norman Smith for the highest score in one single game. Both scored 24 points in different ball games to cop the tied honors.

Most improvement of the season was shown by

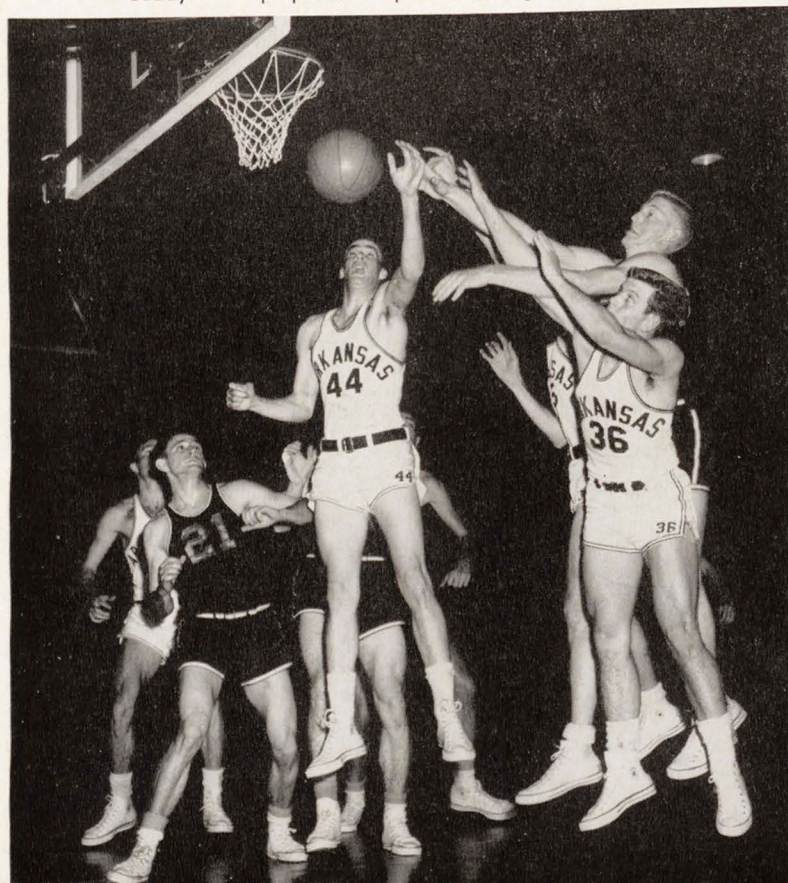

Co-captain Raymond Shaw. Shaw was off to a slow start, but sparked in the final rounds to display his old form. "Wilbur" took second in scoring honors, making 68 field goals and 49 free tosses for an 8.0 average. Shaw's highest score in any single game was 20 points.

Co-captain Orval Elkins was close behind to take third place with 180 points, and a 7.8 average for the season.

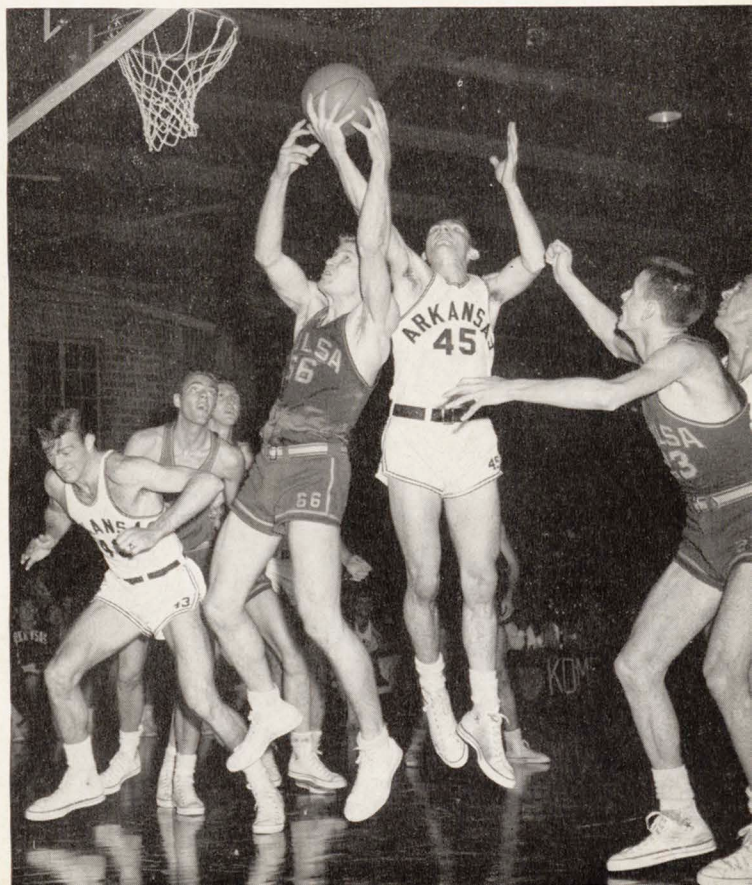

The senior co-captains, Shaw and Elkins, were important men on the backboards, taking 138 and 129 rebounds, respectively.

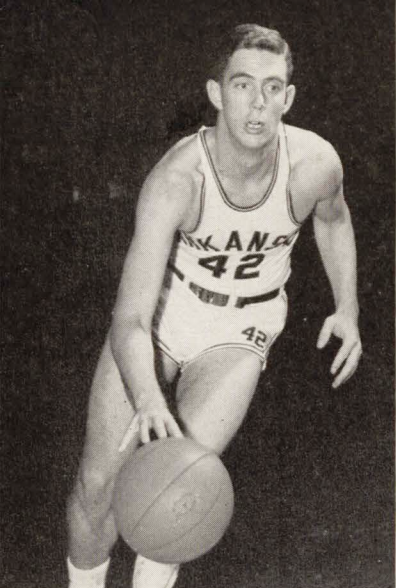

The lad from Bucyrus, Ohio, Norman "Poor Devil" Smith, sank 61 field goals and 45 free tosses to take fourth place in scoring honors. Smith had the best shooting percentage in field goals. He attempted 155 and made 61 for a .393 percent. Smith was valuable on the backboards, taking 102 rebounds for the season. Norman will be a big factor in the success of the Razorbacks next year.

Carroll Scroggins, the over-head shot artist, ranked fifth, making 57 field goals and 37 free tosses for a total of 151 points. Scroggins rounded out the season with a 6.6 average.

Two points shy of Scroggins was Buddy Smith with a total of 149. Buddy hit 39 field goals and 71 free shots for an average of 6.5 for the season. Buddy displayed fine defensive playing against the "stars" of the opposing Southwest Conference teams.

Floyd Sagely, fresh from the gridiron onto the basketball court, proved himself a great basketball player as well as a football player. Sagely was slow at the start, but improved with every game to finish seventh with a total of 125 points and a 5.4 average for the year.

With 108 points and a 4.7 average, Marvin Adams placed eighth in the scoring column. Adams scored 15 points for his high in a single game.

Leo McDonald hit 34 field goals and 23 free shots for a total of 91 points and an average of 3.9.

Bill Sailer rounded out the scoring with 43 points to his credit and a 1.8 average.

The Razorbacks scored 1496 points to the opponents 1432 for an average of 65.0 and 62.3, respectively.

The Hogs opened the season with the University of Tulsa. The victory went to the Tulsa eagles, 51-50. It was the third quarter that hurt the Razorbacks. Leo McDonald hit 10 points to lead the Hogs' scoring.

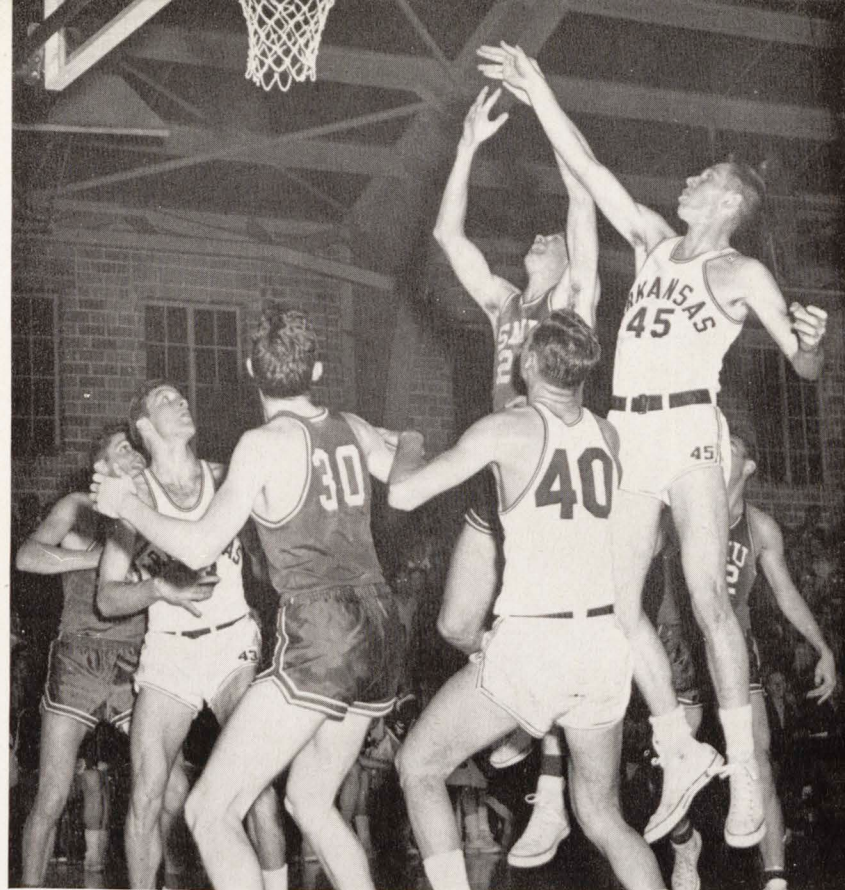

Arkansas took revenge by topping Northwest Louisiana State, 71-62. This was the second game and the first at home.

During the Christmas holidays the Hogs defeated Washington University at St. Louis, 69-55. Still against Missouri teams, the Porkers edged the University of Missouri, 64-63. Journeying to Little Rock, the Hogs defeated Washington U. in a return bout, 68-50.

Going into the Southwest Conference holiday tournament games the Razorbacks had racked up a record of four wins and one loss.

Arkansas was plagued with hard luck during the Southwest Conference holiday tournament games. The Porkers were hot in their first game, and defeated Texas Christian, 60-50. Arkansas, in the second round, lost a heart-breaker to the University of Texas, 66-65. Texas tied the ball game in the last seconds and later won in the overtime period. Arkansas again lost a close, hard fought game to SMU, 70-66, thus eliminating them from the tournament.

Bouncing back from the tournament, the Porkers got back into the win column by defeating the University of Tulsa, 55-49. Playing the final game before opening the Southwest Conference race, the Hogs trounced the University of Mississippi, 89-76. Barnett led the Hogs with 24 points.

Opening the conference play, the Razorbacks were dealt two straight losses—one by the University of Texas and the other by Baylor, 63-59.

The Hogs then proceeded to cool Southern Methodist, 61-58, but were stopped short by Rice Institute, 80-55.

Taking a break from the conference, the Hogs took on the Phillips "66" Oilers, only to be nosed out, 66-60.

Resuming conference play, Arkansas took an easy victory over Texas A. and M., 80-55. The Hogs took another victory over TCU, 66-59, but were handed their worst defeat of the season by SMU, 92-68.

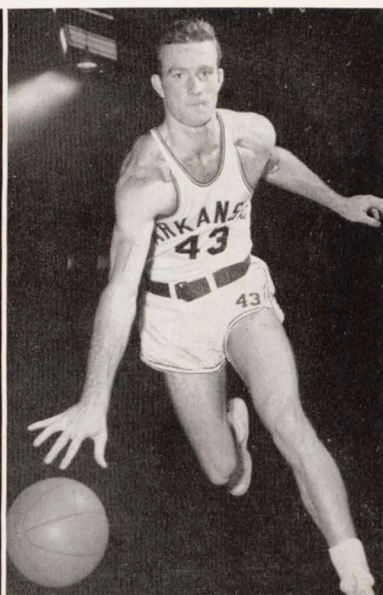

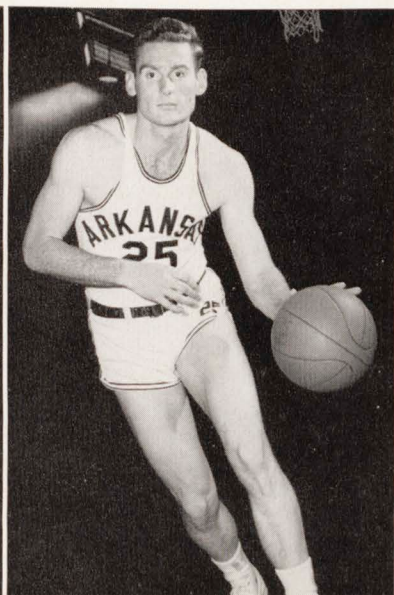

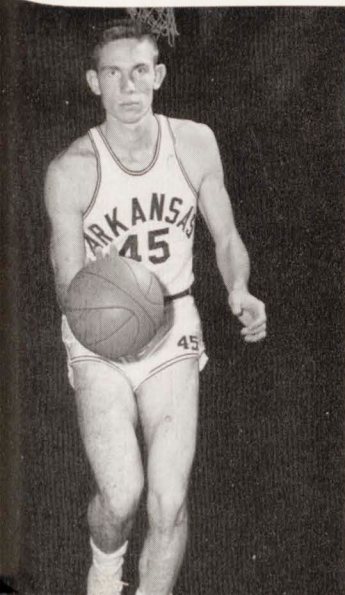

The following week the Porkers took their third straight over TCU, 70-55. The Hogs found Baylor easy, taking a 73-51 victory.

Making the final road trip, Arkansas lost to Rice, 76-62. Then at College Station, the Porkers took their second victory over Texas A. and M., 67-54. Returning to the home town for the last game of the season, the Razorbacks bowed to the University of Texas, 67-57. The Hogs led most of the way, but in final period the Longhorns proved too much.

TRACK

Track season was off to a "bang" with the Razorbacks taking first place in the fourth annual Arkansas Relays, ahead of Tulsa and St. Thomas. Also, 21 high schools through the state competed. It was a very muddy track and no records were broken.

Next the Razorbacks competed in the Kansas, Drake, Oklahoma A&M, and Texas Relays.

Jack Troxell wins a 220-yard race for the Razorbacks.

The Hogs made a fine showing in the record breaking department. Two new records were set—the mile run by Dick Heber (4:15) and the javelin throw by Dick Hazard (204' and 61¼").

Heber, Hazard, Brown, Bean, and Pryor were the leading point makers for the Razorbacks. Dean Pryor was the iron man for the Porkers. He placed in seven events at the Arkansas Relays—three first places, three second places, and one third place.

The 1954 track team will be led by Dick Hazard, Reed Donnelly, Alan Eshbough, Jimmie Tennison, Bill Ross, Bill Diven and Warren Carpenter.

The Hogs will probably be the strongest in the long distance runs, fair in the sprints. They will be the weakest in the field events.

The Razorbacks have a five-meet schedule for the 1954 season.

The fifth annual Arkansas Relays will be April 10. Approximately 350 athletes are expected to compete.

Next, the dual meet with the Kansas State Teachers, followed by a meet with Texas, Oklahoma A&M, and Kansas.

The final meet will be the Southwest Conference at Waco, Texas.

Lamar McHan knocks the ball out of the park . . .

BASEBALL

The Arkansas baseball team had a 7-11 season record in 1953, the result of only fair pitching (very thin mound staff), poor hitting and erratic fielding. The Porkers lost five of six to Tulsa; dropped two to Oklahoma A&M and had single losses to Bradley, Illinois, Fort Leonard Wood and Buena Vista.

Wins were recorded over Tulsa, the Class C Hutchinson Elks (the best game for Arkansas), Buena Vista, and NE Oklahoma State, four times.

Coach Bill Ferrell lost his entire outfield after 1953. Only six lettermen returned—three of them in the infield—Lamar McHan, Billy Bowden and Francis (one a catcher), Buster Wilkerson, and two pitchers, Tom Cusack and Edsel Nix.

Prospects for '54 were much brighter, however, with the acquisition of some promising sophs. Pitchers Charles Bogan and Preston Carpenter were expected to improve the mound corps and a faster outfield (though all non-lettermen) was foreseen. The chief questionmark at the season's start appeared to be at the plate.

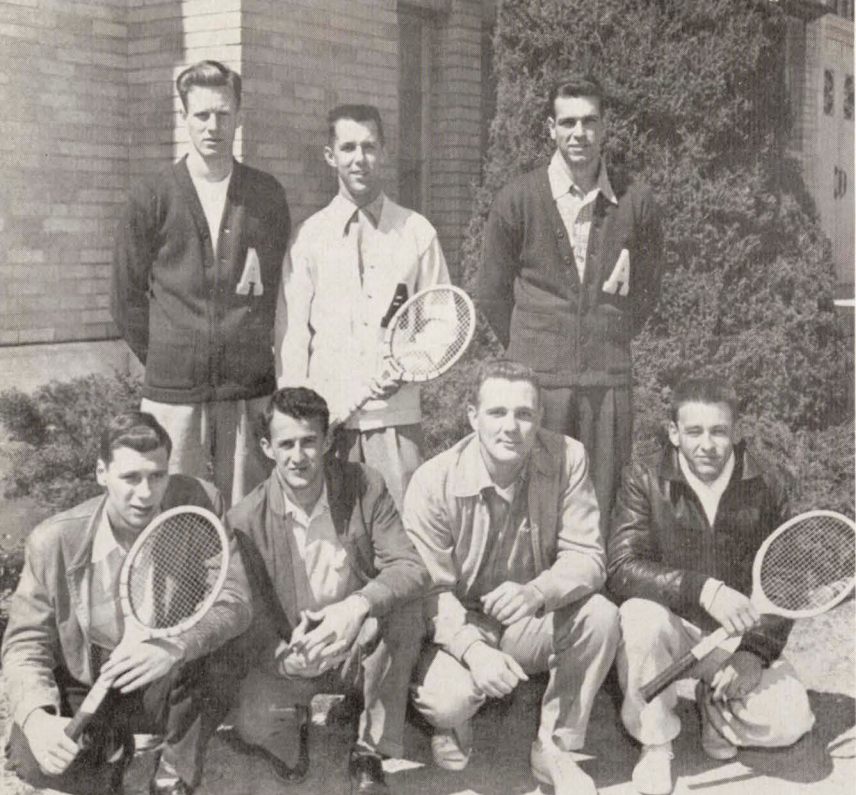

The Porkers compete out of the Southwest Conference, but in 1954 had the most attractive schedule in many years. Twenty games included Kansas, Missouri, Tulsa, Ft. Leonard Wood, Illinois and Bradley University.

McHan led the hitting department in 1953 with a .395 batting average. The Lake Village junior batted in 15 runs with five homers to lead in each of those departments.

The Arkansas tennis team, under the coaching of Francis "Wendy" Morris, failed to make the win column during the 1953 season.

TENNIS

After an opening season tie, the team went on to drop 11 more matches to finish about the same as the past seasons' performances.

Only Oklahoma A&M and Tulsa, however, far out-classed the Razorbacks. Against the University of Oklahoma and University of Missouri the Razorbacks were nosed out by just a few points.

Lettermen Buddy Snider, Jim Porter, Ewell Lee, Dick Reid and John Rex composed the 1953 team.

Ewell Lee and Dick Reid returned to combine with Jim Reaves, Bill Geren, and Bob Gay to fill the tennis team for the 1954 season.

At the season's start there is a brighter outlook for the Porks to finish with a .500 record.

Coach Davis has scheduled ten matches with Missouri, Northeast Oklahoma, Tulsa, Southwest Missouri, and Drury College.

GOLF

A golf team of Miller Barber, E. B. Gee, Jr., Jim Billingsley and Tom Raney went through the conference season in fine fashion to finish third behind

SMU and Texas. The Razorbacks scored $21\frac{1}{2}$ points to $14\frac{1}{2}$ for their opponents for a .597 average. In non-conference play, Arkansas lost to Oklahoma A&M and North Texas State; then tied North Texas and defeated Tulsa twice and Missouri. Raney ranked fifth in the conference among individual match leaders—losing only once in six contests. Raney and Gee were second and Barber and Billingsley seventh in best ball play.

Prospects for 1954 were good. Barber and Raney returned to combine with Ray Barnes, Phil Rogers, Joe Boone, Jesse Linzel and Bob Weinski for what appears to be the finest golf prospects at Arkansas in many years. The Porks have both Texas and SMU at home and are given an outside chance at the title—which would be the first of all time. Otis Turner, former assistant pro at El Dorado, coached the team for the second year.

HEALTH, PHYSICAL EDUCATION and RECREATION

Under the direction of Dr. Troy Hendricks, who is ably assisted by Dr. Wincie Ann Carruth, the department of health, physical education and recreation offers a broad and varied program of professional work, intramural sports, recreational activities, service activities and dance.

The professional program includes both undergraduate and graduate work. The intramural sports program provides a wide variety of competitive activities which are available to all students enrolled in the University. The department sponsors a limited general recreation program which includes one recreation night a week for students and one for faculty and some facilities each day for recreation. The department also conducts a service program of physical education and dance which is currently gaining wide recognition.

Boxing and wrestling highlight the spring intramural program.

A co-ed bowling league has been developed this year.

Intramurals INVOLVE MANY SPORTS

The DGs scored a victory over Kappa in the volleyball finals.

Softball is a big sport on spring afternoons. The girls play on the field opposite the Field House.

Boys' softball is played on the intramural fields in the Leroy Pond area south of Terry Village.

Archery is part of the service program. Plans are under way to extend the program to all freshmen and sophomores in the University.

During the past few years the department has developed a dance program which includes instruction courses in the various types of dance, Orchesis, and a dance club.

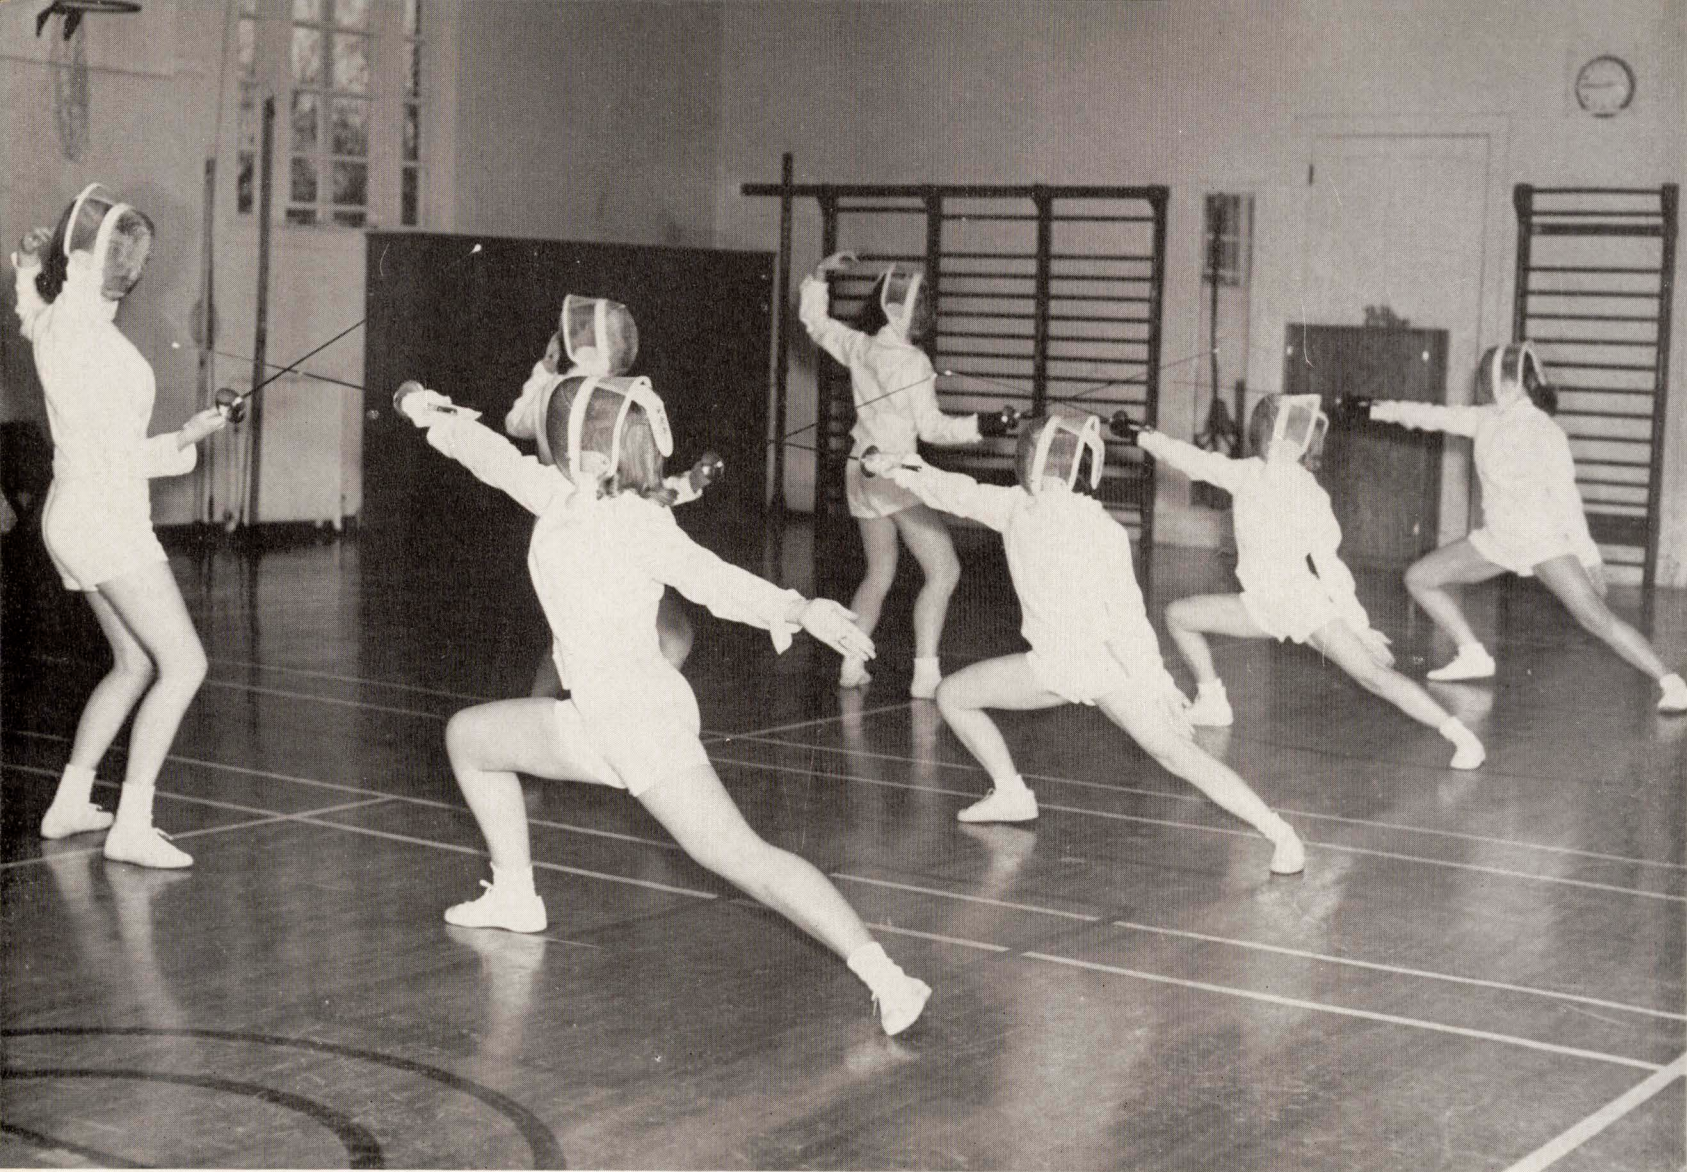

A dance class practices modern dance. The dance program brings accomplished persons in dance to the campus periodically.

Golf is part of the required physical education program for freshman men in Education and all freshman and sophomore women.

The Physical Education Majors Club sponsored half-time shows at basketball games and was instrumental in developing a program on recreation nights. Plans are under way to extend the recreation program to all students.

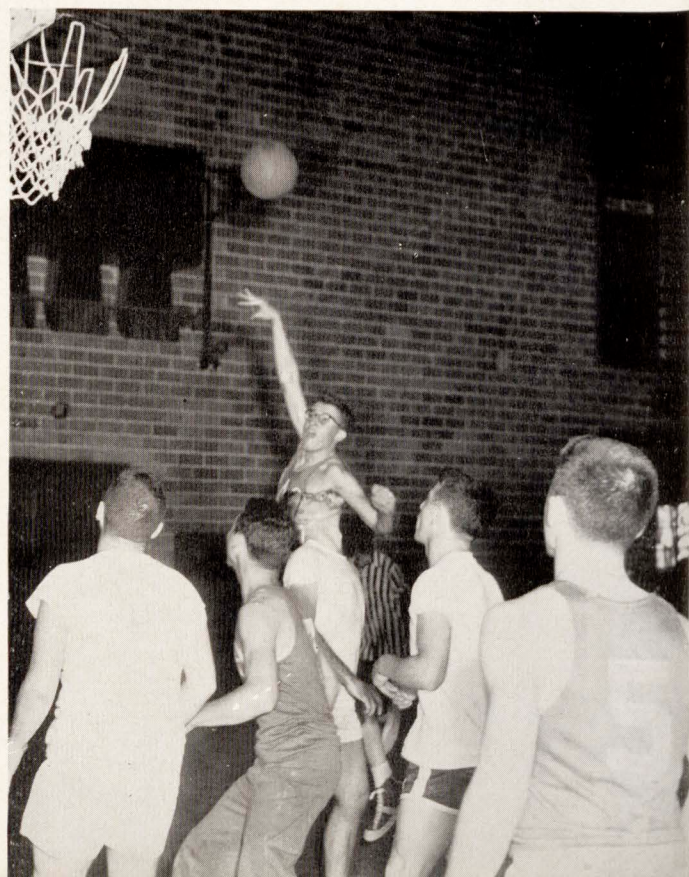

Fencing is part of the professional program designed to train health and physical education teachers, coaches, recreation leaders, and administrators of these programs.

Phys Ed OFFERS RECREATION

Football is important in boys' intramurals. Current records indicate that a majority of the students now participate in one or more of the activities offered.

Participation in the intramural program has increased each year during the past six. Basketball is a popular sport.

AGRI STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION

The officers are: Manager, Richard Hudson; Assistant Manager, Mary Ann Moffitt; Secretary, Lila Jean Oates; Treasurer, Joseph R. Tyler; Publicity Manager, James A. Coleman; Sponsor, Dr. G. T. Hudson.

The Agriculture Student's Association is composed of the faculty and all of the students in the College of Agriculture. The Association also publicizes their college on the campus and throughout the state. The promoting and sponsoring of the annual Agri Day festivities is the highlight of the school year in the College of Agriculture. The Motto is "a bigger and better Agri Day."

ALPHA EPSILON DELTA

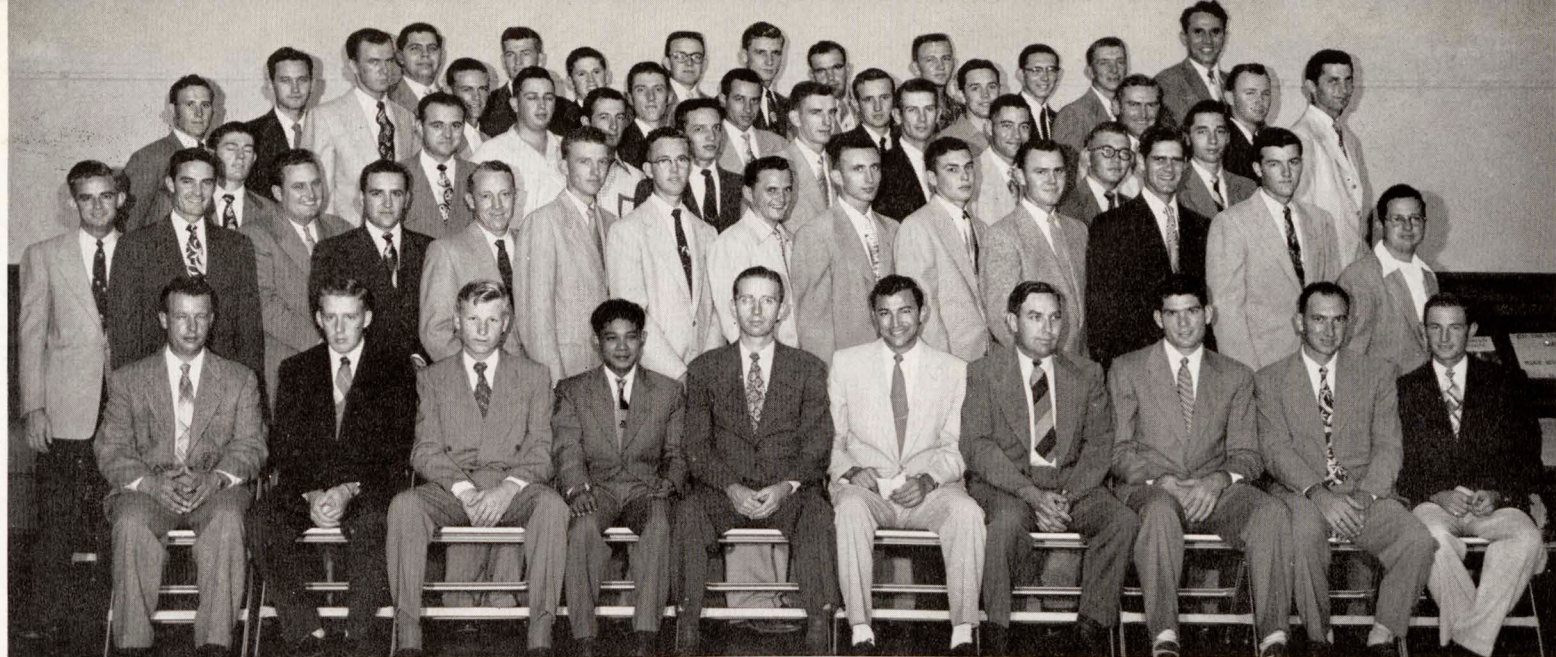

The officers are: Douglas Young, President; Gil Buchanan, Vice-President; Dave Bryan, Corresponding Secretary; Mary Ellen Click, Recording Secretary; Tim Rice, Treasurer; and S. C. Dellenger, Sponsor.

Alpha Epsilon Delta is a national Pre-Medical Honorary fraternity. Membership is based on character, leadership, ability, and a high cumulative grade average by students enrolled in pre-med work.

The fraternity strives to keep the pre-med student body informed on medical school requirements and policies and to encourage pre-medical education in general.

Each year, AED sponsors several banquets and lectures featuring outstanding speakers in medical education and practice which are open to all pre-med students. In the spring, the fraternity invites high school seniors who are interested in medical work to attend pre-med day and observe the pre-med curriculum of the university.

ALPHA LAMBDA DELTA

The officers are: President, Julie Owen; Vice-President, Virginia Bird; Secretary, Margaret Lowe; Treasurer, Rosalie Bent; Historian, Betty Brown; and Sponsor, Miss Mary Droke.

Alpha Lambda Delta, a national honorary society for freshmen women, was established on the University campus in 1942. In order to be initiated into this organization a girl must make a five-point grade average her first semester or a cumulative five-point for both semesters of her freshman year. Alpha Lambda Delta's main projects are to maintain a study hall in Holcombe Hall and to encourage high scholastic standards in general. The group meets once a month, and on alternate months meets for lunch with Phi Eta Sigma. Each spring after initiation Alpha Lambda Delta sponsors a banquet to honor the new initiates.

ALPHA KAPPA PSI

The officers are: Jeff Johnson, President; Henry Rector, Vice-President; Bill Wilson, Secretary; Jim Snapp, Treasurer; and Doug Brandon, Master of Rituals.

Alpha Kappa Psi is the oldest professional fraternity in the field of business administration. Its primary function is in the development of interest in activities connected with business and in particular the College of Business Administration.

In keeping with this interest the year's activities include bi-monthly luncheons at which time guest speakers in the fields of economics, business, politics, and many other related fields give talks on matters of current interest. Other activities include industrial tours, research projects, promotion of special school events, and the discussion of business problems.

Alpha Phi Omega is a national service fraternity dedicated to service to the student body, to youth, and to the community. Its members were once affiliated with the Boy Scout movement and want to continue that association by rendering service to others.

Each year, in furtherance of their principles, Alpha Phi Omega sponsors a book exchange. This service is provided to allow students to acquire needed text books inexpensively. Also, the fraternity participates in many other activities which are of value to the student body and faculty.

Front Row: Bill Edrington, William Miller, Jim Miller, Ted Lemser, Craig Wood, Jerry Patterson, Graham Sudbury, Robert Robinson. Second Row: Ed Hurley, J. T. ALPHA ZETA

The officers are: President, Marion B. Jones; Censor, Daryle E. Greene; Scribe, J. R. Tyler; Treasurer, Gordon Ford; and Chronicler, Ruel Nester.

Alpha Zeta was founded in 1897 at Ohio State University for the purpose of encouraging and developing leadership in the field of agriculture.

The Arkansas Chapter was organized in 1917. It is an honorary professional fraternity whose members are selected on the basis of scholarship, character, leadership, and personality. Although it is an honorary fraternity, it is also a service organization to the students of the College of Agriculture.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF ELECTRICAL ENGINEERS

The officers of AIEE are: Chairman, Thomas G. McBay, Jr.; Vice-Chairman, Bobby R. Smith; Program Chairman, Frank S. McPherson; Secretary-Treasurer, John M. Hefley.

The American Institute of Electrical Engineers is the professional organization of all electrical engineers regardless of their field of specialization. Its object is "the advancement of the theory and practice of Electrical Engineering and the Allied Arts and Sciences and the maintenance of a high professional standing among its members." Since its founding in 1884 it has grown to be the largest engineering society in the world with over 50,000 members, 100 sections and 132 student branches in leading colleges of the United States, Canada and Mexico.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF CHEMICAL ENGINEERS

The officers are: President, Don Applegate; Vice-President, Jim Hopper; Secretary-Treasurer, John Foreman; Sponsor, M. E. Barker.

The purpose of the Arkansas chapter of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers is to acquaint the members with the professional branch of the society.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF INDUSTRIAL ENGINEERS

The officers are: President, Bill Turner; Vice-President, James Glasscock; Secretary, Mike Lyle; Treasurer, Jerome Johnson; Reporter, Bill Cravens.

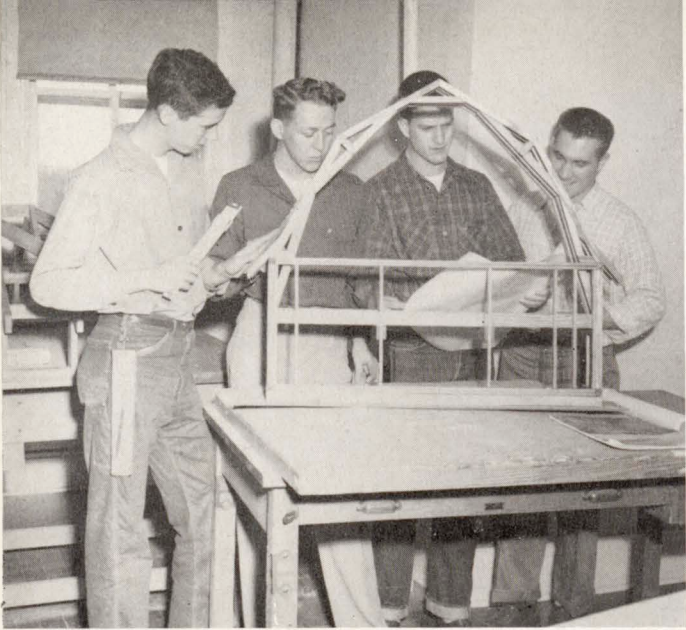

The American Institute of Industrial Engineers was organized on this campus in the spring of 1951. The objects of this group are: to promote a better understanding of Industrial Engineering principles; to disseminate technical, scientific and professional information; to cultivate and promote a professional attitude among the members; and to uphold the standards of the profession and strive to improve them.

The organization also attempts to correlate the actual problems in industry with academic studies.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF AGRICULTURAL ENGINEERS

A.S.A.E. officers are: Jim McAlexander, President; Al Ramey, Vice-President; Jim Porter, Secretary; Eldon Russell, Treasurer; Ed Albritton, Scribe.

The Arkansas student branch of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers strives to promote the interests of the students in agricultural engineering, particularly as these interests relate to their professional advancement.

Meetings are held bi-weekly to advocate social activities and to enable the members to become better acquainted with both their fellow members and current advancements in agricultural engineering.

Agricultural engineers deal mainly in four fields: power and machinery, rural electrification, soil and water management, and farm structures.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF MECHANICAL ENGINEERS

The officers are: Art Rubeck, President; Jim King, Vice-President; Jim House, Secretary; and Larry Ashley, Treasurer.

The ASME is the organization on the Arkansas campus for mechanical engineers. The group sponsored several meetings, field trips, and smokers this year covering the various phases of mechanical engineering.

The student chapter here was represented at the Regional Student Conference held in Tulsa this year. Jim House and Bob Holcomb were chosen as student judges to represent the University of Arkansas at the meeting.

Front Row: Dale R. Johnson, Grant Collar, Jim King, Daren L. Lucke, Bob Holcomb, John H. McCaleb, Charles W. Smith, Rhomas O. AMERICAN SOCIETY OF CIVIL ENGINEERS

The officers are: President, Jim Yarbrough; Vice-President, Bill Cristenbury; Secretary, Cary Mason; Treasurer, Harold Ford; Sponsor, Prof. J. R. Bissett.

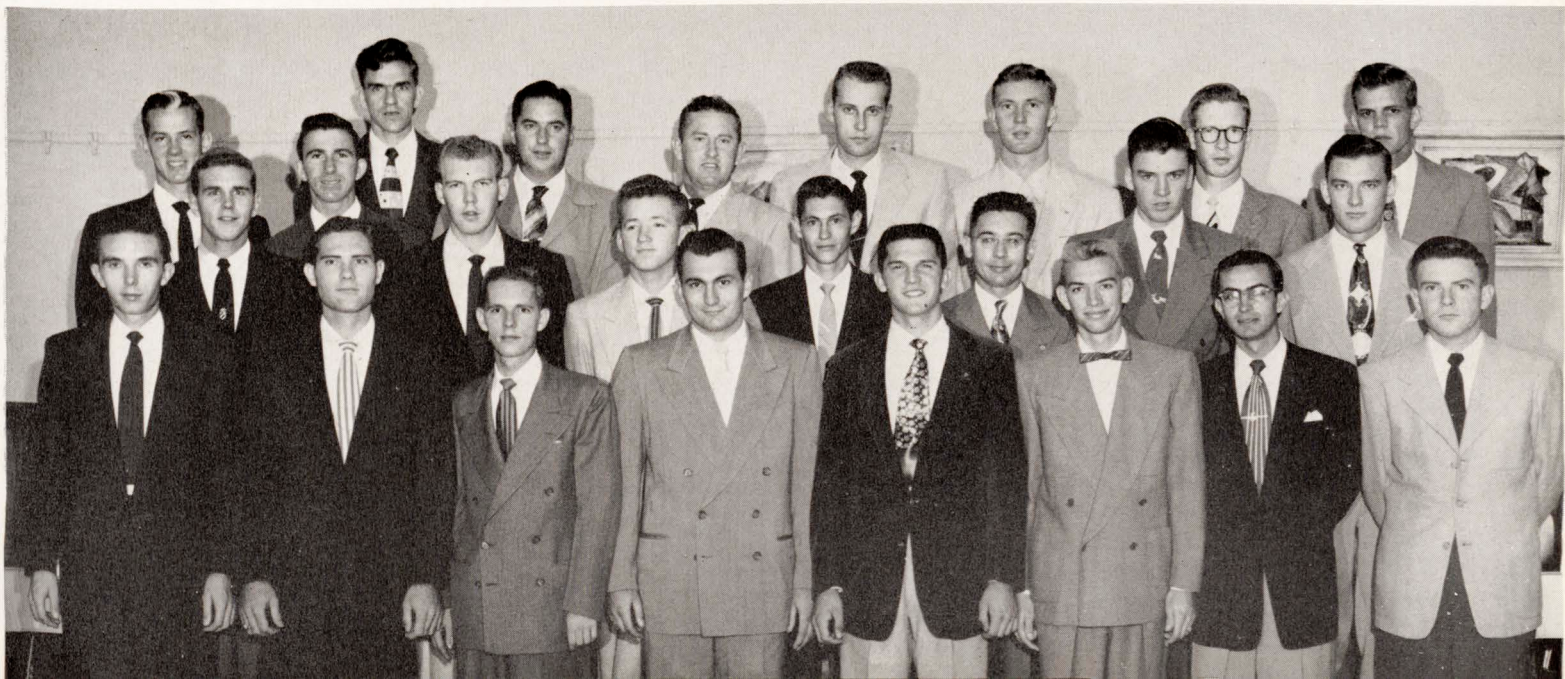

The American Society of Civil Engineers is the oldest professional engineering organization, founded in 1852.

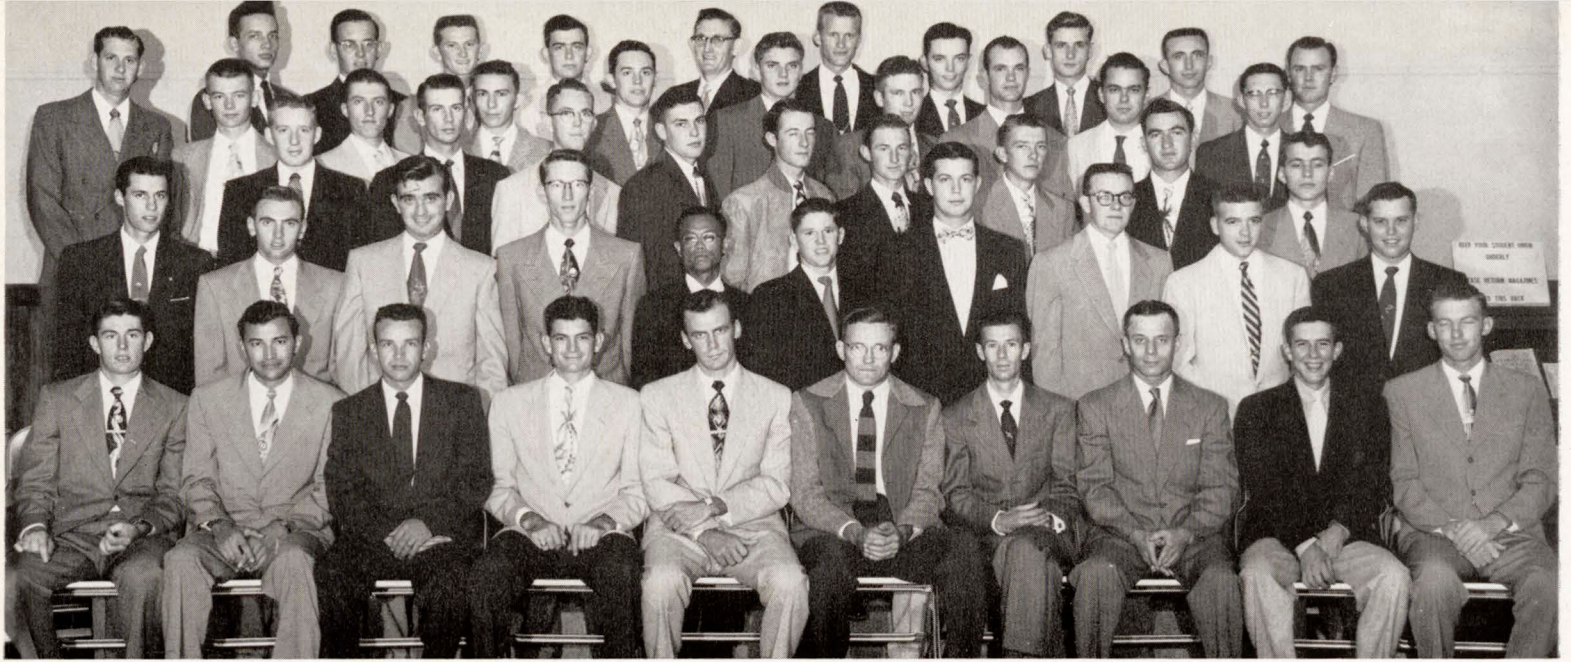

The Society offers the civil engineering students contacts with practicing engineers and an opportunity to become better acquainted with the civil engineering profession.

CANTERBURY CLUB

The University of Arkansas' Canterbury Club is a member of the Association of Canterbury Clubs, a national organization whose members are college students affiliated with the Episcopal Church. It carries on an active program of worship and recreational activities throughout the year.

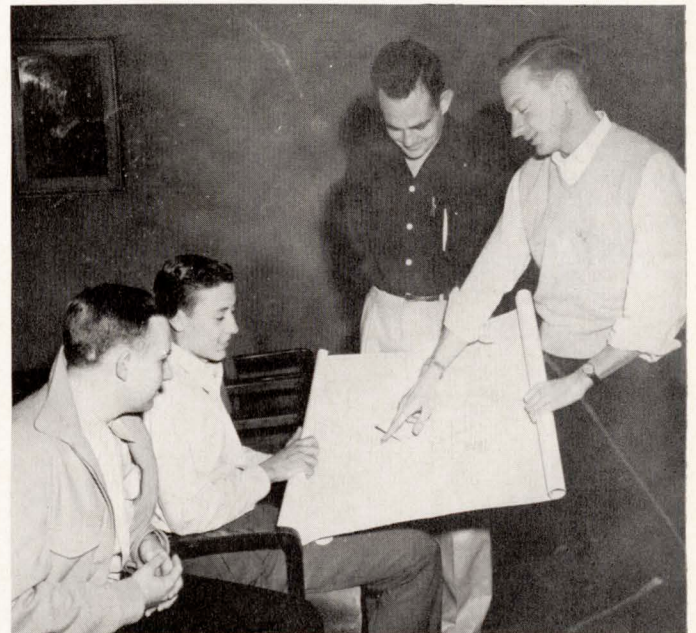

Canterburians began the school year with a "Get Acquainted Party." This was held at the Lewis Cabin east of Fayetteville.

Members entertained Bishop Michell during his visit here with a reception and, that evening, a dinner in his honor.

Representatives of the local club culminated the semester's activities by attending the annual Seventh Province Canterbury Conference at Norman, Oklahoma, during the Christmas holidays.

During the Spring semester, members enjoyed picnics and other activities, and evidenced a particular interest in problems of racial prejudice. Canterburians anticipate increasingly frequent and ambitious activities with the completion of their new Student Center building.

UNIVERSITY SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

The University Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Dr. Marx Pales, who has just returned from a year's leave of absence to do post graduate work, is composed of from fifty to sixty talented townspeople, high school students, and University students and faculty. The University Symphony Orchestra seeks to bring to the campus a type of musical entertainment that would not be found otherwise. As part of this program the Orchestra brings a noted guest artist to the campus each year. This year James Melton presented a concert with the Orchestra. The year before Oscar Levant served as guest artist. Usually about five concerts are planned each year from the best and most popular literature.

Dr. Pales conducts the University Symphony Orchestra.

TAU BETA PI

The purpose of this national honorary engineering society is to mark in a fitting manner those who have conferred honor upon their alma mater by distinguished scholarship and exemplary character as undergraduates, or by their attainments as alumni.

Halls

MARY MIDDLETON, President

Carnall girls gather for a vesper service after date call.

CARNALL HALL

The year began with a warm welcome to the new girls. Social activities soon caught the girls in a whirl of house-parties, birthday dinners, sweater hops, the Harvest Moon Ball, and the festive traditional Christmas dinner-dance.

Carnall was hostess to all women on campus at a stag party preceding the A.W.S. Vice Versa dance. Another event of the Christmas season was a party for some youngsters of Fayetteville. The true spirit of Christmas prevailed at this affair.

A faculty tea, spring formal, spring outing, and a variety of smaller house activities completed the spring schedule of events.

Carnall contributed many outstanding leaders to campus life. The girls participated in a wide variety of campus activities. Mary Middleton was editor of the Guild Ticker, Barbara Pennington was secretary of A.W.S., and Jo Beth Colvin and Evelyn Baer were members of Kappa Delta Pi.

Several Davis girls practice a new dance.

DAVIS HALL

Mary Ann Davis Hall is one of two dormitories housing upper class women.

This year Davis was represented in the Homecoming Court, and in the Honorary Army R.O.T.C. officers. The girls were rewarded for their energy and ingenuity by winning first place in the women's division for Homecoming House Decorations this fall.

Some of the social activities of the year included a party for the new girls, sweater hops, December dinner-dance, Christmas party, participation in the inter-hall Harvest Moon Ball, faculty tea, and an annual spring outing.

A small friendly and democratic dorm, Davis inspires loyalty and pride among the girls who call it home.

GEORGE CAMPBELL, President

One group works hard on a Homecoming decoration while others watch TV.

GREGSON HALL

Gregson Hall, named for W. S. "Pop" Gregson, University chaplain emeritus, was completed in 1948. Situated at Garland and Dickson in the southwest corner of the campus, overlooking Razorback Stadium and Terry Village, it is the largest men's dormitory and houses 210 men. Also within the building are a cafeteria, in which are fed the men of Gregson and Razorback halls, a TV lounge, and a snack bar.

Residents of the Hall are governed by a constitution of their own adoption and each fall elect officers for the present school year; they are most active as a group and participate in all campus activities along with the other organized men's groups, and this fall won second place for the Homecoming lawn display in the organized men's class.

Gregson this year, perhaps more than ever before, has been foremost among independents in activities, particularly at pep rallies and pre-game parades and represent themselves firmly by the letters G.D.I.

Several Lloyd Hall men get together for a bull session.

LLOYD HALLS

The most cosmopolitan living unit on the campus is Lloyd Halls. These housing units, located on Maple Street north of Razorback Stadium, consist of six frame buildings which were purchased from the federal government in 1946 for use in relieving the cramped conditions of men's housing at the University following World War II. They were named for Edgar H. "Buck" Lloyd, posthumous recipient of the Congressional Medal of Honor in 1945, and graduate of the University.

Local government is in the hands of the Lloyd Halls Council, two members of which are elected by each Hall. The Council and its officers have jurisdiction over matters pertaining to the Halls and are subject to the Administration and the Student Senate.

The Halls accommodate most of the freshmen who live in University housing. One of the Halls is set aside to house graduate students. Numerous foreign students live in the halls also. In 1952 a colored law student, George Howard, became the first person of his race to serve as president of an organized house at the University.

A card game helps Razorback Hall men pass a cold Saturday afternoon.

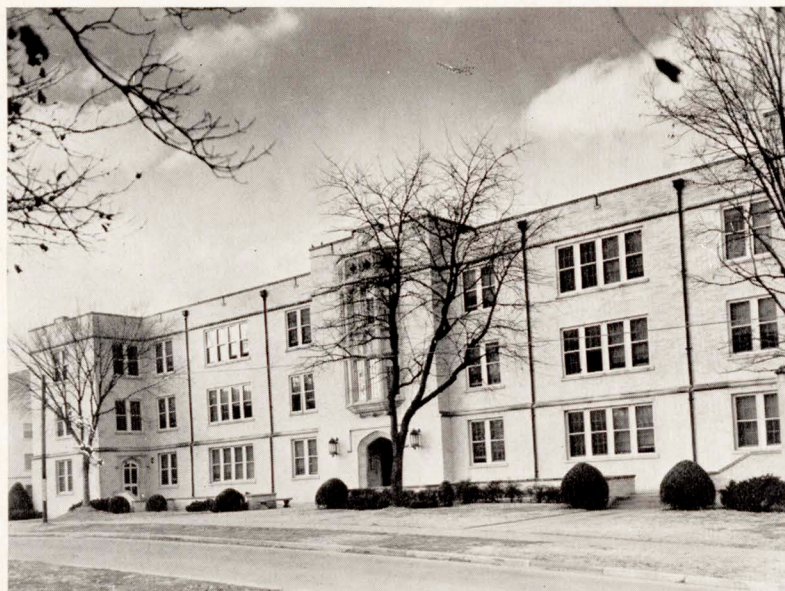

RAZORBACK HALL

This year marks the return of the varsity football players to Razorback Hall after an absence of two years of living in other housing units on the campus. The football players occupy the west section of Razorback Hall while other independent students live in the center and east section.

One of the feature accomplishments for this year's work was the installation of a constitution to govern the residents of the hall.

The constitution provides for three council representatives from each section of the hall. These council members are elected by the students who live in the respective sections.

The social events of the year are highlighted by the annual outings which are held in the spring and fall. Also, during the year, a television set was purchased by the men of the hall and installed in the Razorback lounge.

GIRLS' 4-H HOUSE

The Girl's 4-H House was founded on the University of Arkansas campus in 1932, the first cooperatively organized house of its kind on any college campus. Cooperation and loyalty are the key points that have made the house a success. This spirit has contributed an essential part in attaining the most from college life.

Annual social events include participation in the Harvest Moon Ball, monthly date parties, Pollyanna banquet, following Pollyanna week during which gifts and small services are exchanged, pajama parties and an informal Christmas dance. In April, Founder's Day is celebrated with a banquet honoring alumni and newly elected house officers. A spring outing is also held.

The members are made up of girls who were outstanding in 4-H Club work and are active in campus activities. Lila Jean Oates is president of Colhecon; Mary Ann Moffitt is assistant manager of A.S.A.; Mary Lou Lookingbill and Mary Ann Pich were initiated into Phi Upsilon Omicron; and several girls were initiated into Alpha Lambda Delta.

ORGANIZED INDEPENDENT WOMEN

The purpose of Organized Independent Women is to provide an opportunity for girls not living in organized houses on the campus to engage in a program of intramurals, social events, beauty contests, politics, and campus celebrations.

It seeks to acquaint and integrate off-campus girls (non-members as well as members) with the activities of the campus beyond the scope of its own organization. OIW was founded in 1946.

Several of the girls in OIW have been outstanding in campus organizations. Pearl McNutt was president of OIW, member of Mortar Board, Coterie, Pi Mu Epsilon, Kappa Delta Pi, AWS executive Board, and the Student Senate. Mona McNutt was vice-president of Coterie, secretary of Wesley Foundation, a member of Kappa Delta Pi and this chapter's representative to the National Convocation of Kappa Delta Pi. Modyne Farmer was appointed to serve on the judicial board. She was also a sophomore counselor along with Lois Mitchell and Katherine Lussky. Pat Ambrose was chairman of the REW Worship Committee.

HOLCOMBE HALL AND SCOTT HOUSE

Holcombe Hall at the end of its sixth year as a residence hall for freshman women has a commendable record to look back on. Filled to even more than capacity both semesters, some girls lived in Scott House; however, during the past year the girls from both houses entertained together. An especially successful social season was highlighted by the two annual dances—the Inter-hall Harvest Moon Ball in October and the spring formal in March. The men on the University campus were entertained with several open houses and the girls on the different floors entertained the hall with a pajama party each month.

Holcombe also was represented in every phase of school activity including Homecoming, Air Force ROTC sponsor, RAZORBACK beauty, school committees, and Gaebale. A grand spirit of cooperation and enthusiasm among the girls was evidenced by their willingness to help in any way they might be needed, whether it be building floats, putting on skits, or helping to clean up after the fun was over.

All the activities were under the able guidance of Mrs. Bernice Welch, house mother, and Carol Lynn Lackey, President.

Eight Acacias get together for a couple of tables of bridge.

ACACIA

April 14, 1954, marked the end of the third year in the life of Acacia. Acacia is proud of the qualities of leadership, scholarship, and character possessed by its active members.

A charter member of the National Interfraternity Council, Acacia was founded in 1904 at the University of Michigan by a group of master Masons. Strong ties are still maintained with the Masonic organizations and many Acacians are Masons.

Arkansas chapter of Acacia has always ranked among the highest in scholarship, usually placing first or second in competition with other fraternities.

Acacia has been active in intramural activities. The annual Shipwreck Ball and Spring Formal were among the most notable of the year's social events, which included house parties and outings.

ALPHA GAMMA RHO

This year marks the Golden Anniversary of Alpha Gamma Rho Fraternity, and the twentieth year for Arkansas's Alpha Iota Chapter. Alpha Gamma Rho was formed at Ohio State University in 1904. A merger between them and Delta Rho Sigma of Illinois in 1908 now constitutes the national fraternity.

AGR is a social and professional fraternity. The house gives complete and undivided support to all activities and functions of the College of Agriculture. The diversity of the members is reflected by their participation in all phases of campus activities.

Alpha Iota Chapter is now located at 418 Arkansas Avenue. A building site overlooking Razorback stadium is now owned by the chapter, and plans for a new chapter house are in process.

The scholastic standing of AGR locally and nationally is and continues to be among the top of all fraternities.

Under the able supervision of Mrs. Bob Moore, house mother, AGR social activities during the year have been very successful. Highlighting the year were the Rooster Day Dance in the fall and the Pink Rose Formal in the spring.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

Alpha Tau Omega was the first Greek letter fraternity organized after the Civil War. It was founded at Richmond, Virginia, on September 11, 1865, and its first chapter was established at the Virginia Military Institute at Lexington, Virginia.

Its founders were three young Confederate soldiers. Their prime object was to restore the Union, to unite fraternally the young men of the South with those of the North and to foster a Christian brotherhood dedicated to the task of achieving and cherishing permanent peace. They found their inspiration in the sentiment: "No North, No South, No East, No West."

Alpha Xi of Alpha Tau Omega was established on the University campus in 1882. This made it the first national fraternity on the campus. Although forced to go inactive shortly afterwards, it was re-installed March 31, 1950.

The fraternity colors are blue and gold, and the white tea rose is the flower.

CHI OMEGA

Founded in 1895 at the University of Arkansas, Chi Omega has grown into the largest women's fraternity in the nation, having 115 active chapters. The original founders were Ina Mae Boles, Jeanne Marie Vincenheller, Jobelle Holcombe, Alice Carrie Sinonds, and Dr. Charles Richardson.

"Hellenic Culture and Christian Ideals" is Chi Omega's open declaration. Included in the fraternity's program on this campus is the Jobelle Holcombe Award given each year to a student excelling in English. Miss Holcombe, in addition to being one of the founders of Chi Omega, was one of the first Deans of Women of the University and Holcombe Hall was named for her.

In 1930, national Chi Omega gave to the University of Arkansas, in recognition of the mother chapter of Chi Omega, an open air theatre. It was patterned after the ancient Greek theatres and is known as the Chi Omega Greek Theatre.

Tri Deltas gather to watch a late TV program.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

On Thanksgiving Eve of 1888, Delta Delta Delta was founded at Boston University. The crescent moon and three bright stars which shone so clearly that night on the Boston Common were the inspiration for the Tri Delta pin worn today by thousands of coeds from coast to coast. The University of Arkansas chapter, Delta Iota, was founded in 1910.

Delta Delta Delta has the distinction to be the first sorority to become international, having chapters in Nova Scotia, Canada, and Hawaii. Today the sorority numbers 96 chapters and 220 alumnae organizations. Tri Delta was one of the six founders of the National Panhellenic and has been represented at every inter-sorority gathering since that time. The philanthropic service of Delta Delta Delta is devoted principally to scholarships for women in American and Canadian universities.

DELTA GAMMA

Delta Gamma was founded nationally at Lewis School at Oxford, Miss. in 1874. The society was based on the fundamentals of high ideals and personal standards. The three original founders were Eva Webb Dodd, Anna Boyd Ellington, and Mary Comfort Leonard.

The Delta Gamma Anchor was designed in 1879 by Corrinne Miller, and in 1883 bronze, pink, and blue were chosen as the official colors. Two years later the cream colored rose was adopted as the flower of the fraternity.

Through the initiation of one man, Mr. George Banta, who established a Delta Gamma chapter at Franklin College, his fraternity, Phi Delta Theta, has traditionally become Delta Gamma's brother fraternity.

Alpha Omega of Delta Gamma was founded on the campus of the University of Arkansas in 1930. The chapter house was the first to be constructed on this campus, and was the first step in Alpha Omega's record of continuous growth.

A bridge game draws lots of interest at the KA house.

KAPPA ALPHA

Kappa Alpha Order was born in 1865 at Washington College, Lexington, Virginia. The founders, studying under the influence of their college president and war-time leader, General Robert E. Lee, determined to carry on the cherished Southern ideals of chivalry and honor.

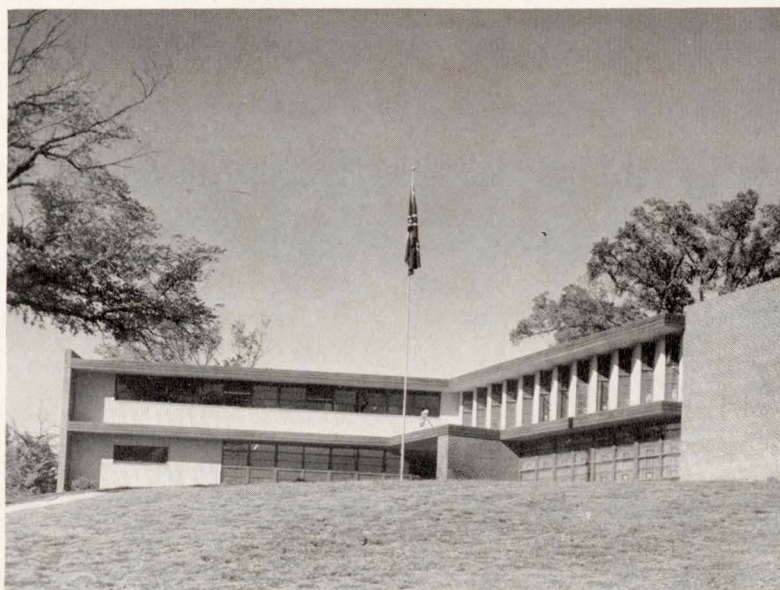

Though Kappa Alpha Order is a Southern fraternity of Southern traditions, its members come from all parts of the nation to band together to perpetuate ideas of universal worth and merit.

Alpha Omicron chapter, one of 76 active chapters, was established on the Razorback campus in 1895.

It is one of the oldest fraternities at the university.

Kappa Alpha highlights the social activities of the campus with their hilarious Pigalle Party when the home of Southern Gentlemen dons a Parisian look as the brothers and their dates become inhabitants of a French Pigalle.

Spring not only brings forth a new garment of greenery for the Ozarks, but it also calls forth Kappa Alphas adorned in Southern and Confederate dress for the traditional Dixie Ball, a mammoth celebration of the Old South.

A jam session attracted a large crowd to the Kappa living room.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

Alpha, the first chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma, was founded October 13, 1870 by six college women at Monmouth College, Monmouth, Illinois. At the present time, there is a total membership of 50,000 women. Kappa Kappa Gamma has 82 active chapters with 4,500 undergraduate members.

On April 9, 1925, Gamma Nu chapter was installed on the University of Arkansas campus. This year the outstanding Kappas on the campus were: Betty Ann Johnson, President of AWS; Martha White, President of Mortar Board; Linnie Lu Thomason, President of WRA; Jimmie Rose Harrison, Pledge Queen and Honorary Cadet Colonel of AFROTC.

Among the Kappas social events are the sweater hop and dinner honoring the pledges; banquet honoring the Razorback football team; and the annual spring formal.

KAPPA SIGMA

Xi Chapter was founded at the University of Arkansas in 1890, making it the oldest continuously operating fraternity on the campus.

The spirit of Kappa Sigma has always had its influence on campus affairs with four men in Blue Key and O.D.K., two Student Senators, and the business managers of three publications this year. Xi Chapter brought another honor to Arkansas when Miss Maybian Cooke of Chi Omega was selected as the International Sweetheart of Kappa Sigma by Brother Hoagy Carmichael.

Kappa Sigma's social program has been regarded as outstanding — a reputation that was sustained during 1953-54 when Kappa Sigma had two formal dances, the Christmas Formal, and the Stardust Ball in the spring. A costume party, Valentine party, spring outing, open houses, and several house dances rounded out another year of social events.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

In 1909, at Boston University, Lambda Chi Alpha was born. Since that date it has become the largest international fraternity, composed of one hundred forty nine chapters in the United States and Canada. Gamma Chi Zeta was founded in 1925 at the University of Arkansas.

Sparking the Lambda Chi social calendar this year were the annual Alphatraz Party, an outing that rain changed to a very successful "inning," and the spring formal, The Black and White. This dance each year features the selection of the Crescent Girl.

The red-brick colonial house on Stadium Drive has been home to Arkansas Lambda Chi's for three years. Within the house and on the campus, the brothers of the Cross and Crescent strive to realize the possibilities open to them through the fraternity and university.

PHI DELTA THETA

The Centennial Chapter of Phi Delta Theta, Arkansas Alpha, was installed on the Arkansas campus in 1948, one hundred years after the founding of the fraternity. Phi Delta Theta is the oldest national fraternity represented at the University.

Believing that a small group provides closer bonds of friendship, Arkansas Alpha maintains an approximate membership of fifty men.

The Phis are well known for their parties. The high points of the social season for the fraternity are the She Delta Theta half formal in the fall and the Buccaneers' Ball in the spring. Many informal dances are held in the chapter house at 410 Arkansas Avenue — just across the street from the campus.

Several outings add variety to the chapter's social life.

Phis are active in campus organizations. Aubert Martin is Editor of the RAZORBACK and a member of ODK. Sam Boyce is president of Blue Key and a past co-director of Gaebale. Graham Sudbury is president of the Press Club and Managing Editor of the Traveler. Davis Duty is an Associate Justice of the Student Court. Norm Smith is a Varsity Basketball player. Many other Phis are members of numerous organizations.

PI BETA PHI

Pi Beta Phi was the first national college sorority for women. Founded at Monmouth College, Monmouth, Illinois, in 1867, it has grown to include 256 alumnae clubs.

Pi Beta Phi's philanthropic service is devoted primarily to the maintenance of its Settlement School, near Gatlinburg, Tennessee. Also an extensive program of undergraduate and graduate scholarships and fellowship is maintained.

Of great significance is the importance Pi Beta Phi places on active participation of campus activities. Recognition of Pi Phi's contributions to campus life has been given to Mary Kay Huntington, Phi Beta Kappa; Peggy Routon, Beta Gamma Sigma; Ann Dalton, Kappa Delta Pi; Carolyn Rhodes, president of Sigma Alpha Iota; and Sara Steele, Student Senator for two years. Pat Grant represents Pi Phi as the Army's honorary Lieutenant Colonel, besides being the Lambda Chi Crescent Girl. Kay Wells is the Kappa Alpha Sweetheart and Dorris Karcher is the Pi Kappa Alpha Dream Girl. Mary Ann Fletcher is in Mortar Board and AWS vice-president.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

The Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity was founded on March 1, 1868, at the University of Virginia by a group of six Confederate veterans. These men bound themselves together in a common cause with a comradeship cemented by the rigors of war and mutual devotion.

Since its founding eighty-six years ago, Pi Kappa Alpha has grown to a national fraternity of 116 chapters throughout the United States.

Alpha Zeta Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha, founded on November 1, 1904, is this year celebrating its "Golden Anniversary" on the university campus. Since that time, the fraternity has ranked very high in all student activity, both socially and scholastically. During the Fall semester, Pi Kappa Alpha proved its "winning ways" by capturing first place trophies in two events. It had the winning homecoming house decoration and won first place in the annual "Singfony."

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

Sigma Alpha Epsilon is one of the strongest fraternities in America. It is the largest with over 87,000 members, and has 136 chapters in forty-six states.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon was founded on this campus by George Bunling, July 8, 1894, with the assistance of James Head, a student here at the time. Since that date SAE has grown continually at Arkansas.

Alpha Upsilon's social life is centered around formals in addition to the Honky Tonk, Valentine Dinner and Dance, and informal house parties.

The Alph's are proud of the leadership their men have contributed to campus government; Jerry Green is President of Associated Students, Cal Ledbetter and Francis Long are Student Senators. Many other members are active in various school programs.

The new $250,00 home for SAE is being built south of Razorback Stadium. It is of colonial design and will accomodate seventy-five men. It is hoped that it will be completed by fall rush week, 1954.

SIGMA CHI

Sigma Chi was founded at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, on September 28, 1855. The fraternity is a member of the Miami Triad which consists of Beta Theta Pi, Phi Delta Theta and Sigma Chi.

Omega Omega chapter came on the Arkansas campus in 1905 from a chartering group known as the Indian Club. The chapter house, a large buff brick colonial type structure, is located at the corner of Maple and Vandeventer Streets.

Among the high points of the Sig's social activities are the annual Gold Rush Party and Sweetheart Formal. Miss Jackie Bonner served as Sweetheart of Sigma Chi during the 1953-54 school year.

Sigma Chi had many members who were active in campus activities during this year. Jim Buckley was President of the Senior Class and Air Force Cadet Colonel. John Satterfield was Army Cadet Colonel. Perrin Jones edited the Arkansas Traveler and Jim Collier edited the Arkansas Engineer. John Haley served as ODK president. Many other offices were also held by Sigs.

Several Sigma Nus talk over their latest party.

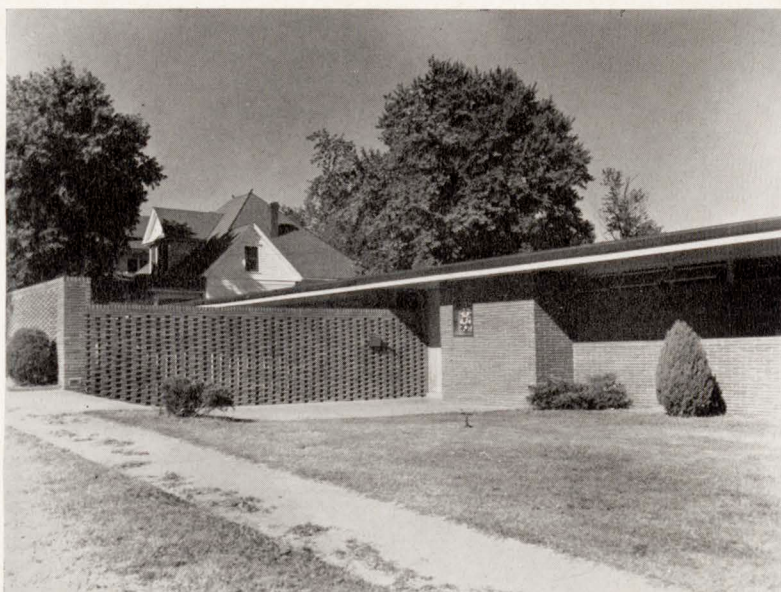

SIGMA NU

Sigma Nu was founded on the campus of Virginia Military Institute on January 1, 1869. In the 85 years since, Sigma Nu has grown to 118 chapters extending across the country.

Since we are a part of an educational institution, our main concern is the scholastic standing of each member and, consequently, the chapter as a whole. This year the Arkansas chapter is the possessor of the Gallagher Cup—a handsome silver cup given each year by the national fraternity to the chapter achieving the highest scholarship rating.

Socially, Sigma Nu is represented on the campus by a variety of functions. Our annual Sadie Hawkins party is enjoyed by the entire campus. The "White Rose Formal" in the spring has all the beauty of the flower for which it is named.

Several Theta Taus get together to work out a difficult engineering problem.

THETA TAU

Upsilon Chapter of Theta Tau, a national professional engineering fraternity, was established on the University campus on April 7, 1928. Since this time Upsilon Chapter has been striving to perform the two-fold purpose of Theta Tau—to develop and maintain a high standard of professional interest among its members, and to unite them in a strong bond of fraternal fellowship.

Theta Tau is the largest professional engineering fraternity in the country, having 24 chapters and a membership of 15,000.

Many Theta Taus are found among the leaders in student organizations; George Ballard, Engineering

Student Senator; Tom McBay, President of A.I.E. E.; Jim King, President of the Engineering Council; Bill Turner, President of A.I.I.E., and Business Manager of the Arkansas Engineer; and Art Rubeck, President of A.S.M.E.

Among the more outstanding alums of Upsilon Chapter are: Clark Hungerford, President of the St. Louis-San Francisco Railroad, and Henry Oldham, Vice-President of the Southern Union Gas Company.

The social functions of the fraternity include a Founder's Day Banquet, a Christmas Party, and the annual spring outing.

Several Zetas sing a few tunes to while away the time.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

This is the Golden Jubilee year for the Epsilon chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha, for it marks our fiftieth anniversary here on the campus of the University of Arkansas. Through the last half century the University and Zeta have grown up together. In March Zeta held a Golden Anniversary Tea honoring their original alumnae, and it was with pride that they viewed our progress. Again in 1954 Zetas are taking an active part in campus affairs.

Zeta received a cup for placing second in the Singfony; Mortar Board tapped two members. Active in Sigma Alpha Iota, Phi Gamma Nu, Alpha Lambda Delta, Phi Upsilon Omicron, Kappa Delta Pi and other honor societies, Zeta also had two maids in the Homecoming Court, head drum majorette, the Sweetheart of Phi Delta Theta, and a member of the Executive Board of A.W.S. These are only a few of the ways in which Zeta Tau Alpha has spread her diverse interests.

FARMHOUSE

The FarmHouse is one of the newer fraternities on the campus, being recognized by the University as of Jan. 6, 1950. At the present it is one of the three clubs of the national FarmHouse Fraternity.

The FarmHouse Fraternity was founded at the University of Missouri on April 15, 1905. Since that time the fraternity has grown to twelve chapters and three clubs in the nation's major agriculture colleges.

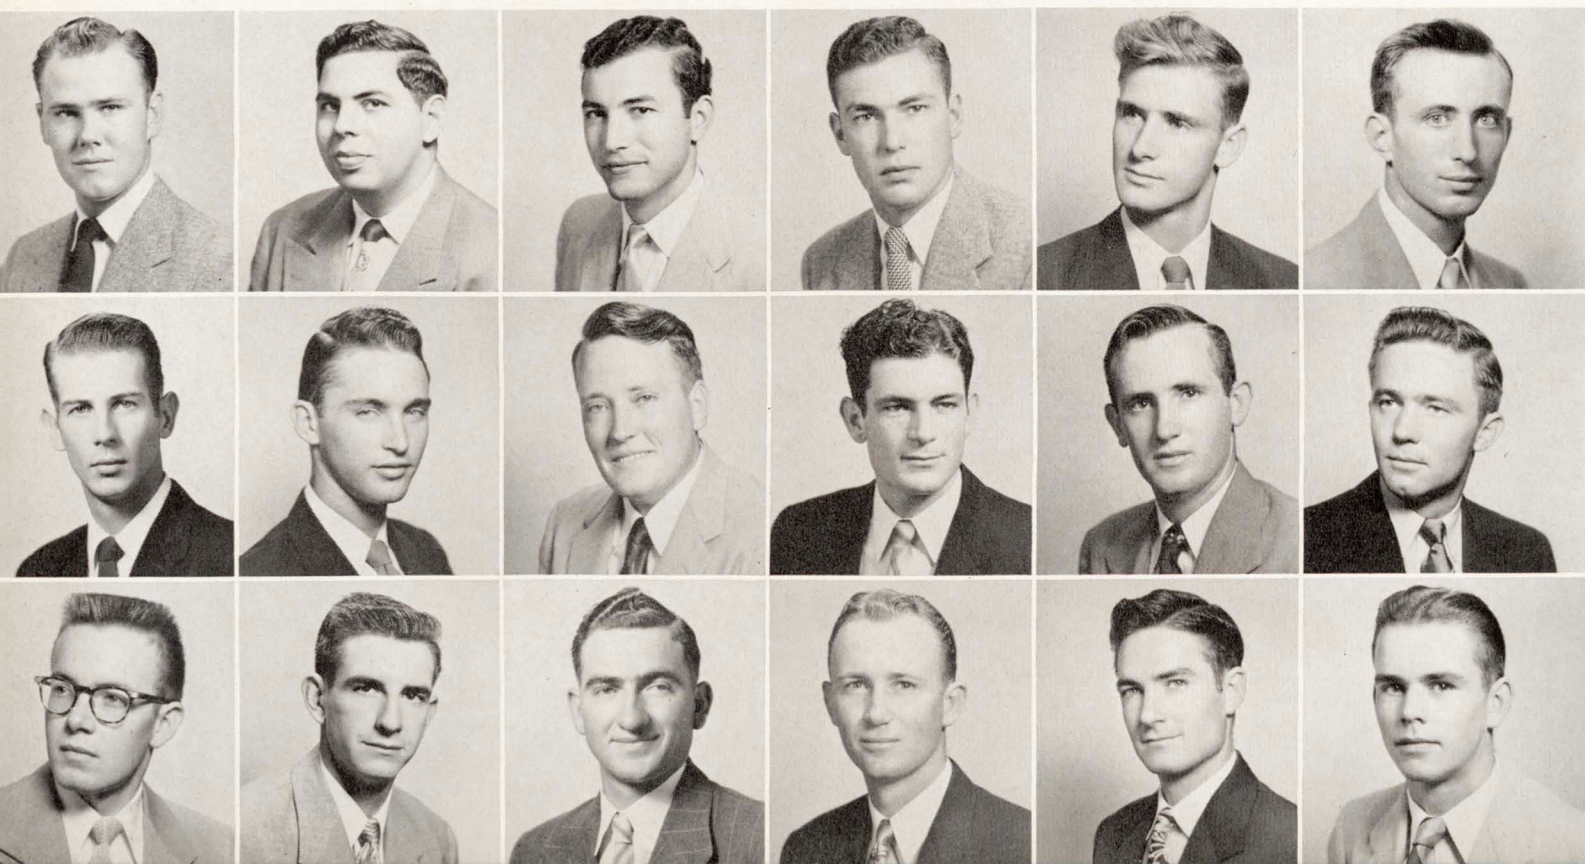

The clubs major interest and activities lie in the field of agriculture. Membership is generally restricted to those whose course of study leads to a degree in agriculture. Throughout its existence the club has made fulfillment of its motto "Builders of Men" its primary objective. A full program is carried out to develop a sense of responsibility in each man. This program emphasizes scholarship, good conduct, and participation in the many activities of campus life. The club is very proud of the fact that its scholarship rating has been the highest on the campus for the past three semesters.

The club is looking forward to further growth and a new future here on the campus of the University. It is hoped that we will be granted our charter in the very near future.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

The founding of Sigma Phi Epsilon took place at Richmond College, Richmond, Virginia, in 1901. Sigma Phi Epsilon today is still bound together by the same bonds of brotherhood that prompted its twelve founders to organize. It was through these men that Sigma Phi Epsilon has grown to be one of the top fraternities, now having 126 chapters.

Sig Ep's accomplishments range from the introducing of the Field Secretary system now used by all leading fraternities, to a camp fund for underprivileged children.

Arkansas Alpha was organized on this campus, emerging from two locals, Alpha Zeta Phi and Alpha Delta, in 1907. Although forced to go inactive in 1938, Arkansas Alpha was reactivated in 1948.

Main social events for the year included the Golden Hearts Formal, a Costume Ball and the annual spring outing. Arkansas Alpha was also a participant in all intramural sports.

Mrs. A. L. Greene, Sig Ep's housemother, has been with the chapter for five years. She has contributed much to the fraternity in guidance and counseling.

SIGMA PI

The Sigma Pi Fraternity was founded February 26, 1897 at Vincennes University, Vincennes, Indiana. After the Miami Triad it is the oldest national fraternity organization founded west of the Ohio River.

Alpha Sigma Chapter of Sigma Pi was established at the University of Arkansas in late May, 1947 and granted full chapter status in the spring of 1948.

The objects of the Fraternity are: to establish a brotherhood of and for college men; to promote scholarship and literary culture; to advance the cause of education; to raise the standard of morality and develop the character of men; to diffuse culture; and to encourage chivalry among men. It aims to make for better citizenship; prepare its members to cope with the problems of life; and to imbue its members with an appreciation of the real values of life.

ZETA BETA TAU

Zeta Beta Tau is the oldest and largest Jewish fraternity in the United States, and had its founding in New York City in the year 1898. Beta Kappa Chapter of ZBT received its charter on April 15, 1950. Since its founding at the University of Arkansas, the Chapter has taken great strides forward in obtaining both national and campus recognition, scholastically, athletically, and socially.

Although Beta Kappa is small in number it has not been hindered in its participation in numerous campus activities, and its membership is well represented in many of the campus organizations.

Numbered among last year's functions, were a "Haunted House" party, and numerous outings to nearby sites. The chapter has also maintained, throughout its short history, a very reputable place on the scholarship roster at the university.

Zeta Beta Tau at the University of Arkansas is looking forward to further growth with its ultimate plan being to construct its own chapter house within the near future.

A warm day encourages use of lawn chairs.

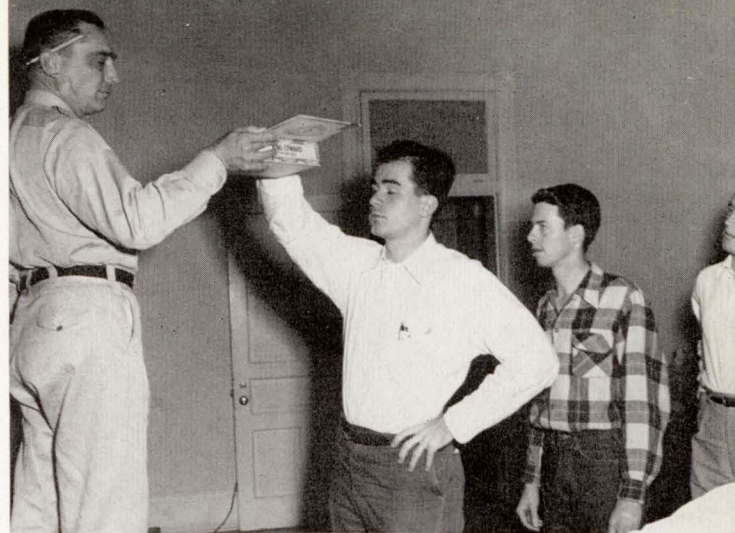

A foursome begins a cake in the Holcombe kitchen.

Several girls take a Coke and Dr. Pepper break.

Joe Boone helps keep the Union grill operating.

AFROTC cadets draw for summer camps.

Lots of jail birds showed up for this Lambda Chi party.

Music makes studying much easier.

SHOE-SHINES AND AWARDS ADD VARIETY

A big group gets down to work in the Holcombe study hall . . . but up on third floor a big bridge game is under way.

Several Lloyd D men search for radio music.

Talking is much easier than studying.

A fast ping pong game gets under way in Lloyd C.

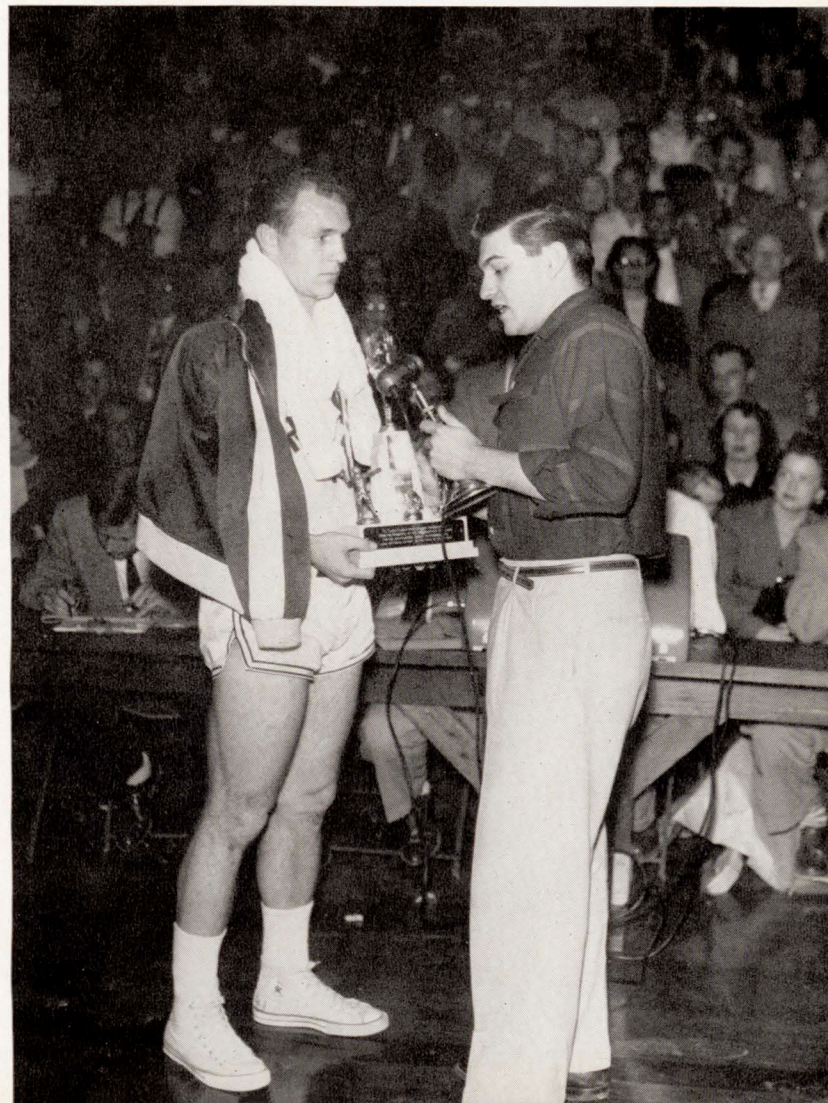

Charles Turner directs singing at the Religious Emphasis Week convocations.

Col. Alford won a shoe shine from Col. Moore when the Air Force gave more blood than the Army.

Floyd Sagely's athletic services were given recognition through the award of a trophy.

TREES

'till The End of Time!

Here at Crossett, tomorrow not only is another day but another tree, thousands of trees, to be exact. Which, in a word, keynotes Crossett's forest management program. Pioneered before World War I, developed into full harvesting cycles between wars, and today a recurring source of adequate timber growth, it produces saw logs in volume sufficient to maintain Crossett's big mill production of Arkansas Soft Pine and hardwoods for all time.
